Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth-Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair,2012-02-16 In Virginia Woolf and the Nineteenth Century Domestic Novel Emily Blair explores how nineteenth century descriptions of femininity saturate both Woolf's fiction and her modernist manifestos Moving between the Victorian and modernist periods Blair looks at a range of nineteenth and early twentieth century sources including the literature of conduct and household management as well as autobiography essay poetry and fiction She argues for a reevaluation of Woolf's persistent yet vexed fascination with English domesticity and female creativity by juxtaposing the novels of Elizabeth Gaskell and Margaret Oliphant two popular Victorian novelists against Woolf's own novels and essays Blair then traces unacknowledged lines of influence and complex interpretations that Woolf attempted to disavow While reconsidering Woolf's analysis of women and fiction Blair simultaneously deepens our appreciation of Woolf's work and advances our understanding of feminine aesthetics

Family Likeness Mary Jean Corbett, 2011-03-15 In nineteenth century England marriage between first cousins was both legally permitted and perfectly acceptable After mid century laws did not explicitly penalize sexual relationships between parents and children between siblings or between grandparents and grandchildren But for a widower to marry his deceased wife s sister was illegal on the grounds that it constituted incest That these laws and the mores they reflect strike us today as wrongheaded indicates how much ideas about kinship marriage and incest have changed In Family Likeness Mary Jean Corbett shows how the domestic fiction of novelists including Jane Austen Charlotte Bront George Eliot Elizabeth Gaskell and Virginia Woolf reflected the shifting boundaries of family and even helped refine those borders Corbett takes up historically contingent and culturally variable notions of who is and is not a relative and whom one can and cannot marry Her argument is informed by legal and political debates texts in sociology and anthropology and discussions on the biology of heredity breeding and eugenics In Corbett s view marriage within families between cousins in laws or adoptees offered Victorian women both real and fictional an attractive alternative to romance with a stranger not least because it allowed them to maintain and strengthen relations with other women within the family A Writing Halfway Between Theory and Fiction Miriam Wallraven, 2007 This book is focused on the surprisingly large number of feminist women writers in literary history who use different genres for their feminist ideas while subverting or transgressing established boundaries between fictional and theoretical writing In particular texts by such diverse authors as Mary Wollstonecraft Mary Hays Mary Robinson Harriet Martineau Olive Schreiner Virginia Woolf the French Feminists H l ne Cixous and Monique Wittig Margaret Cavendish and Mich le Roberts are analysed This chronological in depth reading of feminist texts is based on the interrelation of content genre and discourse The study provides the first analysis of the phenomenon of the gendering of genre and feminists troubled involvement in theory as well as literature In this way key questions concerning the emergence of feminism during the last four hundred years are presented in a new and revealing light e g for what reason did Mary Wollstonecraft not only write her famous feminist treatise A Vindication of the Rights of Woman but also a novel in which she tests the arguments of her theoretical treatise by means of fiction What is the significance of Virginia Woolf's Novel Essay The Pargiters which seeks to connect theoretical and fictional parts by juxtaposing them How can the mixture of genres be interpreted which Catherine Cl ment attributes to the texts of H l ne Cixous as a writing halfway between theory and fiction Prosaic Desires Sara Crangle, 2010-07-05 Studying the work of Joyce Woolf Stein and Beckett Sara Crangle Back cover explores the everyday human longings found in Modernist writing This discussion is set within a framework of continental philosophy particularly the thinking of Emmanuel Levinas Wittgenstein and Modernist Fiction Greg Chase, 2022-02-08 The early decades of the twentieth century were a period of major economic and cultural upheaval across Europe and America Scholars have typically held that novelists responded to these shifts by questioning language s capacity to picture the world accurately But even as modernist novels move away from a view of language as a means of gaining knowledge they also underscore its capacity to grant acknowledgment they treat words as tools for recognizing and responding to the inner lives of others This book brings out this crucial feature of modernism by engaging with the philosophy of Ludwig

Wittgenstein and with Stanley Cavell's pioneering interpretation of Wittgenstein's thought The book shows how Wittgenstein s interest in acknowledgment emerges over the course of his career long effort to grapple with the same disorienting conditions of modern life that the experimental fiction of this period registers including world wars industrialization and new conceptions of sexuality It then argues that modernist novels by E M Forster Virginia Woolf Nella Larsen William Faulkner and others exhibit a similar interest in language s capacity to grant acknowledgment These novels offer readers a way of hearing what Wittgenstein calls the silent soliloguy of others giving us words by which we might acknowledge the otherwise unvoiced inner lives of socially marginalized figures Love Letters: Great Literary Romances Steven Payne, 2012-05-31 In the hands of a genius a love letter can become a great even an immortal work of literature in its own right Love Letters Great Literary Romances examines the lives of great writers John Keats Franz Kafka Leonard Woolf a celebrated composer Leo Jan cek and two great lovers of mediaeval Europe Abelard and Heloise to see their turbulent and sometimes tormented romantic lives played out in the passionate declarations of love in the letters they wrote Letters from a Life Volume 3 (1946-1951) Benjamin Britten, 2011-07-07 The third volume of the annotated selected letters of composer Benjamin Britten covers the years 1946 51 during which he wrote many of his best known works founded and developed the English Opera Group and the Aldeburgh Festival and toured widely in Europe and the United States as a pianist and conductor Correspondents include librettists Ronald Duncan The Rape of Lucretia Eric Crozier Albert Herring Saint Nicolas The Little Sweep and E M Forster Billy Budd conductor Ernest Ansermet and composer Lennox Berkeley publishers Ralph Hawkes and Erwin Stein of Boosey and the celebrated tenor Peter Pears Britten's partner Among friends in the United States are Christopher Isherwood Elizabeth Mayer and Aaron Copland and there is a significant meeting with Igor Stravinsky This often startling and innovative period is vividly evoked by the comprehensive and scholarly annotations which offer a wide range of detailed information fascinating for both the Britten specialist and the general reader Donald Mitchell contributes a challenging introduction exploring the interaction of life and work in Britten's creativity and an essay examining for the first time through their correspondence the complex relationship between the composer and the writer Edward Sackville West thinkers often makes the point that philosophical conceptual thought is where we find it examples such as Simone de Beauvoir and the nineteenth century Black American writer Anna Julia Cooper assure us that there is ample room for the development of philosophy in literary works but as yet there has been no single unifying attempt to trace such projects among a variety of women novelists This book articulates philosophical concerns in the work of five well known twentieth century women writers including writers of color Duran traces the development of philosophical themes ontological ethical and feminist in the writings of Margaret Drabble Virginia Woolf Simone de Beauvoir Toni Cade Bambara and Elena Poniatowska presenting both a general overview of the author s work with an emphasis on traditional philosophical questions and a detailed feminist reading of the work British Fiction and Cross-Cultural Encounters C.
