Granta 92 The View From Africa Granta The Magazine Of New Writing:

The View from Africa Ian Jack, 2005 We know what Bob Geldof and Tony Blair think about Africa as the continent that most needs salvation But what do the people of Africa feel in their diverse cultures and classes and nations In this special issue of Granta Africa is explored mainly by Africans in exciting new fiction and reportage by new unfamiliar names as well as established figures including Chinua Achebe Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Segun Afolabi Mohammed Naseehu Ali Emmanuel Dongala Nuruddin Farah Helon Habila Tahar Ben Jelloun John Ryle Ahdaf Soueif and Ivan Vladislavic Plus nonfiction by Daniel Bergner and Binyavanga Wainaina on how Bob Geldof's aid concerts look to those watching in Africa

Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment Odile Cazenave, Patricia Célrier, 2011-02-02 By looking at engaging literature from the recent past when the francophone African writer was implicitly seen as imparted with a mission to the present when such authors usually aspire to be acknowledged primarily for their work as writers Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment addresses the current processes of canonization in contemporary francophone African literature Odile Cazenave and Patricia Célrier argue that aesthetic as well as political issues are now at the forefront of debates about the African literary canon as writers and critics increasingly acknowledge the ideology of form Working across genres but focusing on the novel the authors take up the question of renewed forms of commitment in this literature Their selected writers range from Mongo Beti Ousmane Sembène and Aminata Sow Fall to Boubacar Boris Diop Virginie Tadjo Alain Mabanckou and Léonora Miano among others Speaking of the Moor Emily C. Bartels, 2010-08-03 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title Speak of me as I am Othello the Moor of Venice bids in the play that bears his name Yet many have found it impossible to speak of his ethnicity with any certainty What did it mean to be a Moor in the early modern period In the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries when England was expanding its reach across the globe the Moor became a central character on the English stage In The Battle of Alcazar Titus Andronicus Lust's Dominion and Othello the figure of the Moor took definition from multiple geographies histories religions and skin colors Rather than casting these variables as obstacles to our and England's understanding of the Moor's racial and cultural identity Emily C Bartels argues that they are what make the Moor so interesting and important in the face of growing globalization both in the early modern period and in our own In Speaking of the Moor Bartels sets the early modern Moor plays beside contemporaneous texts that embed Moorish figures within England's historical record Richard Hakluyt's Principal Navigations Queen Elizabeth's letters proposing the deportation of England's blackmoors and John Pory's translation of The History and Description of Africa Her book uncovers the surprising complexity of England's negotiation and accommodation of difference at the end of the Elizabethan era A New Narrative for Africa Abiodun Alao, 2019-11-27 This book examines the perception of Africa in the global system tracing Africa's transition from a problem to be solved into an agent with a rising voice in the world Mixing Afro-optimism with heavy doses of Afro reality and Afro responsibility this book calls for a new political narrative about Africa that captures the multi disciplinary dimensions of Africa s transition and critically examining its ramifications The author discusses the origins of the Problem perception held about Africa and explains how things are turning around and how the continent is now becoming a voice to be heard rather than a problem to be solved He then goes on to interrogate some of the key manifestations of this new voice and identifies how the world is responding to the new voice of Africa before finally examining some of the contradictions that have been embedded in the transition The book is strategically multi disciplinary emphasizing key disciplines of African studies in different chapters for example anthropology ethnography and philosophy in Chapter 1 history in Chapter 2 economics in Chapter 3 politics in Chapter 4 arts literature and aesthetics in Chapter 5 religion in Chapter 6 and globalization in Chapter 7 Through this A New Narrative for Africa explores and analyses several of the various strands of the African studies discipline examining the transformation of African on the global stage over the course of its history Taking an interdisciplinary approach this book will be of interest across African Studies Global Affairs Politics Economics and Development studies

Such a comparative frame throws into relief patterns across time and space that make it possible to situate this writing as an integral part of women's literary history. Revisiting this literature in a comparative context with Western women writers since the 18th century, the author highlights how invocations of tradition have been used by patriarchy everywhere to subjugate women, the similarities between women's struggles worldwide and the feminist imagination it produced. The author argues that in the 21st century African feminism has undergone a major epistemic shift from a culturally exclusive to a relational feminism that conceptualizes African femininity through the risky opening of oneself to otherness, transculturation and translation. Like Western feminists in the 1960s, contemporary African women writers are turning their attention to the female body as the prime site of women's oppression and freedom, reframing feminism as a demand for universal human rights and actively shaping global discourses on gender, modernity and democracy. The book will be of interest to students and researchers of African literature but also feminist literary scholars and comparatists more generally. The Best Novels of the Nineties Linda Parent Leshner, 2015-11-17 This reader's guide provides uniquely organized and up-to-date information on the most important and enjoyable contemporary English language novels.
