Grazia Deledda A Legendary Life:

Grazia Deledda Martha King, 2005 This is a timely and extensive biography of a writer who in the early twentieth century achieved such status in the literary world that publishers in Italy vied for her novels and editors felt honoured to publish her short stories and sketches Now almost seventy years after her death her novels continue to be reprinted and translated and critical appreciation of her work continues to grow Her works still live and have the power to move her readers Grazia Deledda's Painterly Aesthetic Angela Guiso, Virginia A. Picchietti, 2025-03-15 Central to Grazia Deledda's narrative worlds are the relationships between her characters and the vast landscapes in which they move and act The writer translates and represents her characters her characters emotions and her natural and urban landscapes with a vocabulary that is often related to the visual arts However although her descriptions contain the gradations of Modernist painting beginning with Impressionism no book length study and with diverse perspectives has thus far investigated Deledda's relationship with the visual arts and the resulting painterly aesthetic of her multicolored narratives In this sense Grazia Deledda's Painterly Aesthetic provides an articulated literary panorama of Deledda's novels and short stories through a discourse that is situated between literature and pictorial art Inspired by these two cardinal points the analyses are undertaken by contributors who have a profound awareness of an epochal change and work in different disciplines One year from the centenary of her receipt of the Nobel Prize the contributors investigate the connections consonances and differences between Grazia Deledda's oeuvre and other works inside this panorama to verify a possible unity of purpose At the same time they seek to ascertain whether these connections can corroborate and exalt the choices that the Sardinian writer made to free herself from the constraints of a hostile environment Grazia Deledda's Dance of Modernity Margherita Heyer-Caput, 2008-06-14 Grazia Deledda 1871-1936 was the author of many influential novels and remains one of the most significant Italian women writers of her time However critics tend to pigeonhole her works into convenient literary categories and to ignore the uniqueness of her style and voice Grazia Deledda's Dance of Modernity offers a timely and thought provoking interpretation of this Nobel laureate examining her work in the context of European philosophical and literary modernity Margherita Heyer-Caput takes a philosophical and philological approach in order to provide a reassessment of Deledda's position in the literary canon At the same time she raises the larger issue of the status of allegedly regional or minor literatures within the context of Italian modernity Dealing with four novels representative of Deledda's vast corpus Heyer-Caput addresses and dismantles elements of regionalismo verismo and decadentismo labels with which Deledda's works are regularly associated This is the first volume to introduce some of Deledda's overlooked texts to an Anglophone audience It invites readers to overturn established critical categories and to question margin centre hierarchies both in the broad context of literary modernity and the narrower frame of Deledda's writing Grazia Deledda's Dance of Modernity is a highly original and innovative interpretation of Deledda's narrative in philosophical perspective which also includes the study of textual variations and considers cultural history in Italy during the early twentieth century It is a much needed examination of an important writer and how she managed to construct her own literary and gender identity in the context of modernity Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies Gaetana Marrone, Paolo Puppa, 2006-12-26 The Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies is a two volume reference book containing some 600 entries on all aspects of Italian literary culture It includes analytical essays on authors and works from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial articles on critics themes genres schools historical surveys and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest such as those relating to journalism film media children s literature food and vernacular literatures Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic portion listing works for further reading and in the case of entries on individuals a brief biographical paragraph and list of works by the person It will be useful to people without specialized knowledge of Italian literature as well as to scholars Italian Women's Autobiographical Writings in the Twentieth Century Ursula Fanning, 2017-09-07 This book highlights the centrality of the autobiographical enterprise to Italian women s writing through the twentieth century a century that has frequently been referred to as the century of the self Ursula Fanning addresses the thorny issue of essentialism potentially involved in underlining links between women s writing and autobiographical modes and ultimately rejects it in favor of an argument based on the cultural linguistic and literary marginalization of women writers within the Italian context It is concerned with Italian women writers various ways of grappling with constructions of subjectivity throughout the century and sets out to explore them Fanning reads autobiographical writing as subject to many of the same constraints as fiction and in doing so draws attention to the significance of the recurring use of the terms pure and impure in many critical and theoretical discussions of the autobiographical where pure is used to suggest a truthful representation of a life while impure suggests the messy undertaking of mixing lived experience with fiction Recurring patterns and paradigms are found in the works of the various writers considered eighteen in all and these paradigms are analyzed through close readings of their works These close readings offer insights into approaches to the constructions of subjectivity in the narratives and are informed by feminist theories The chapters focus on selves in relationship taking their lead from the patterns unfolding in the writers work hence the subjects are constructed as daughters with different views of the self in relation to fathers and mothers within the confines of the romantic relationship which involves reconsiderations and rewritings of the romance plot as maternal subjects and as writers with an eye on their relationship to the literary canon as well as to the relationship with readers This book argues that there is such a thing as gendered subjectivity and that its constructions may be traced through the texts analyzed Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies: A-J Gaetana Marrone, 2007 Publisher description Marianna Sirca Grazia Deledda, 2024-05-20 The struggles of both Marianna and Simone with their own consciences with their nearest and dearest and with what they feel is most likely to make them happy

are what this book is about and Deledda tells her story very well We can sympathise with Marianna and Simone while recognising even if not agreeing with the opposing view even if this is set well over a hundred years ago in a society with different mores from ours John Alvey in The Modern Novel Richly imagined and uncompromising in its powerful descriptions Marianna Sirca is an engrossing novel that vividly evokes a time and place far removed from the modern world It left me curious to read more of Deledda s extensive body of work Aneesa Abbas Higgins in The Riveter

The Christmas Present and other stories Grazia Deledda, Graham Anderson, 2020-01-01 A native of Sardinia Grazia Deledda s novels are mostly set in the rugged hills around her home town of Nuoro Her characters reflect the difficult lives of people still constrained by ancient customs and practices Her voice is powerful her tone often sombre But her wide ranging talent had a sunnier side revealed in many of her later works The Christmas Present first published in 1930 brings together a collection of folk tales children s stories and personal reminiscences that portray with humour and affection the lighter side of Sardinian life This is a book that will charm and delight opening a window on to the Sardinia of old and the formative influences on a Nobel laureate

Women Writing Race, Nation, and History Sonita Sarker, 2022-04-07 This book presents how Nation and Narrative are bound together through the figure of the Native as it appears in the non fictional writings of Cornelia Sorabji Grazia Deledda Zitkala-Sa Virginia Woolf Victoria Ocampo and Gwendolyn Bennett It addresses two questions How did women writers in the early twentieth century tackle the entangled roots of political and cultural citizenship from which crises of belonging arise How do their narrative negotiations of those crises inform modernist practice and modernity then and now The Native moves between born in and first in in the context of the modern nation state In the dominant discourses of post imperial as well as decolonizing nations Native is relegated to Time static or fetishized through nostalgia and romance History is envisioned as active and contoured associated with motion and progress which the native inhabits and for whom citizenship is a political as well as a temporal attribute The six authors identities as Native settler indigenous immigrant or native citizen are formed from their gendered racialized and classed locations in their respective nations Each author negotiates the intertwined strands of Time and History by mobilizing the Native to reclaim citizenship cultural political belonging This study reveals how their lineage connections to land experiences in learning education and their labor generate their narratives The juxtaposition of the six writers keeps in focus the asymmetries in their responses to their times and illustrates how relevant women s feminist production were and are in today s versions of the same urgent debates about heightened nativisms and nationalisms

Seekers of Wonder Elena Emma Sottilotta,2025-04-08 Women s cultural and political engagement with oral tales and traditions in European peripheries With Seekers of Wonder Elena Sottilotta offers the first comparative study of women s manifold roles in the collection of Italian and Irish folklore and fairy tales between 1870 and 1920 Sottilotta views the often overlooked work of these women from an interdisciplinary perspective considering both the politics and poetics of seeking wonder In so doing she centers women s influence on the preservation and dissemination of oral traditions bringing work that was once relegated to the margins into dialogue with work long regarded as canonical After mapping sidelined marginalized and forgotten women folklorists Sottilotta narrows the focus onto four writers and collectors who were inspired by Italian and Irish insular contexts Laura Gonzenbach who collected Sicilian wonder tales Grazia Deledda who wrote Sardinian ethnographic sketches legends and fairy tales Jane Wilde who published anthologies of Irish folklore and Augusta Gregory who collected traditional narratives in the west of Ireland Situated within an ongoing process of rediscovery of lesser known collectors tellers and tales in the European tradition Sottilotta relocates these figures within a broader transcultural framework Throughout Sottilotta emphasizes the role of women as crucial intermediaries between different cultural groups in particular between the world of the folk and the world of scholarly folklore studies Unearthing rare archival material and reading these writings from the perspective of gender Sottilotta sheds light on the identity dynamics that animated the cultural phenomenon of collecting folk and fairy tales in this era
