American Sports Writing has been a showcase for the most exceptional sports journalism of the previous year selected by an acclaimed guest editor. Represented in this year's collection are giants in the field as well as up and coming writers to watch. The only shared traits among the diverse styles and voices are the extraordinarily high caliber of writing and the pure passion they tap into.

Sports Heroes, Fallen Idols Stanley H. Teitelbaum, 2008-06-01 On the court and on the field they are the world's winners exhibiting a natural grace and prowess their adoring fans can only dream about. Yet so often off the field our sports heroes lose their perspective their balance and ultimately their place. In a work as timely as the latest fracas on the basketball court or the most recent drug induced scandal in the dugout Stanley H. Teitelbaum looks into the circumstances behind many star athletes' precipitous fall from grace. In his psychotherapy practice Teitelbaum has worked extensively with professional athletes and sports agents work he draws on here for insight into the psyche of sports figures and the off the field challenges they face. Considering both historical and current cases he shows how in many instances the very factors that elevate athletes to superstardom contribute to their downfall. An evenhanded and honest look at athletes who have faltered Teitelbaum's work helps us see past our sports stars' exalted images into what those images and their frailty say about our society and ourselves.

Character Marjorie Garber, 2020-07-14 In her wide ranging cultural history of the term character Garber has unearthed fascinating material and is a convivial stimulating critic. Michael Saler The Times Literary Supplement. Since at least Aristotle's time philosophers theologians artists and scientists have pondered the enigma of human character. Whether defined as a moral idea a literary persona or a scientifically observable type character has become omnipresent in discussions of politics ethics gender morality and the psyche. In this magisterial book Marjorie Garber examines the evolution and influence of this pervasive concept. Is there a connection between character in the moral sense and the character of a novel or a play. Can character be formed or taught in schools in scouting in the home. From Plutarch to John Stuart Mill from Shakespeare to Darwin from Theophrastus to Freud from nineteenth century phrenology to twenty first century brain scans the search for the sources and components of human character still preoccupies us. With her distinctive verve humor and erudition Marjorie Garber explores the stakes of these confluences confusions and heritages from ancient Greece to the present day.
