Counting Religion in Britain, 1970-2020 Clive D. Field, 2021-12-09 Counting Religion in Britain 1970 2020 the fourth volume in the author's chronological history of British secularization sheds significant new light on the nature scale and timing of religious change in Britain during the past half century with particular reference to quantitative sources Adopting a key performance indicators approach twenty one facets of personal religious belonging behaving and believing are examined offering a much wider range of lenses through which the health of religion can be viewed and appraised than most contemporary scholarship Summative analysis of these indicators by means of a secularization dashboard leads to a reaffirmation of the validity of secularization in its descriptive sense as the dominant narrative and direction of travel since 1970 while acknowledging that it is an incomplete process and without endorsing all aspects of the paradigmatic expression of secularization as a by product of modernization

Chinatown in Britain Wai-ki Luk, 2008 The focus of this book is on Chinese immigration in the past two decades and its spatial manifestations in Britain A major argument in this study is that if the 1980s can be recorded as a turning point in the history of Chinese immigration to Britain because the decade marked a substantial increase in and a diversity of Chinese immigrants it should also be considered a landmark in contemporary British urban history as it featured a major transformation in the Chinese urban landscape This book examines how changes in the contexts of exit and reception have stimulated quantitative and qualitative changes in Chinese immigration and how these changes in immigration facilitate the development of Chinatowns and Chinese settlements
