Stanley Gibbons Great Britain Concise Stamp Catalogue 1996 Stanley GIBBONS,1996 Superhobby Investing Peter Temple,2004 What is superhobby investing Superhobby Investing is at the intersection of investing collecting and other serious hobbies It s about examining how you can ratchet up a hobby or a collecting passion into an investment option If you are a stock market investor this book will show how you can use the tangible assets that are normally part and parcel of collecting as a means of diversifying your portfolio Or maybe you already own or have inherited some superhobby assets a stamp collection or a set of first editions say but never thought of them as potential investments Using this book you can find out how to assess their value and how to convert them into a durable and profitable portfolio This book shows you why developing one or more superhobbies can be a good idea and looks at various forms this tangible asset investing can take In each case the book explains how the markets operate what the risks are what returns can be expected and what knowledge and skills are required Each asset profile includes The history of investment in the asset The basic characteristics and features of the market The examination of long term returns with detailed figures The tax angles if applicable The major issues How to buy and sell including major dealers and auctioneers Sources of information Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature, and Booksellers' Record ,1898 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1896 Philatelic Literature Review ,2009 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1896 Great Britain Concise Stamp Catalogue ,2004 Encyclopedic Catalog of Philatelic Judaica Benjamin J. Reuter,2002 Great Britain Stanley Gibbons,2007 The American Philatelist ,2006 Beginning with 1894 consists mainly of the Proceedings etc of the American philatelic association Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich,1998 The Horrible Gift of Freedom Marcus Wood,2010 Meditations on the paradoxes generated around the ending of western slavery In his tour de force Blind Memory Marcus Wood read the visual archive of slavery in eighteenth and nineteenth century America and Britain with a closeness and rigor that until then had been applied only to the written texts of that epoch Blind Memory changed the way we look at everything from a Turner seascape to a crude woodcut in a runaway slave advertisement The Horrible Gift of Freedom brings the same degree of rigor to an analysis of the visual culture of Atlantic emancipation Wood takes a troubled and troubling look at the iconography inspired by the abolition of slavery across the Atlantic diaspora Why he asks did imagery showing the very instant of the birth of black slave freedom invariably personify Liberty as a white woman Where did the image of the enchained kneeling slave ubiquitous in abolitionist visual culture on both sides of the Atlantic come from And most important why was freedom invariably depicted as a gift from white people to black people In order to assess what the inheritance of emancipation imagery means now and to speculate about where it may travel in the future Wood spends the latter parts of this book looking at the 2007 bicentenary of the 1807 Slave Trade

Abolition Act In this context a provocative range of material is analyzed including commemorative postage stamps museum exhibits street performances religious ceremonies political protests and popular film By taking a new look at the role of the visual arts in promoting the great emancipation swindle Wood brings into the open the manner in which the slave power and its inheritors have single mindedly focused on celebratory cultural myths that function to diminish both white culpability and black outrage This book demands that the living lies developed around the memory of the emancipation moment in Europe and America need to be not only reassessed but demolished
