Global Restructuring And Territorial Development:

Global Restructuring and Territorial Development Jeffrey William Henderson, Manuel Castells, 1987 The essays in this book provide the elements for a new theory of spatial development to explain the new socio territorial reality produced by global restructuring in the 1970s and 1980s The contributors all account for the contemporary territorial units by focusing on global economic dynamics and the history of particular places The book looks at restructuring in the automobile and electronics industries the significance of migrant labour and the informal economy the consequences of female proletarianization in Southeast Asia the implications for regional development of the incorporation of Mexico and Malaysia in the world economy the internationalization of commercial capital and the development of financial centres Routledge Revivals: Localities (1989) Philip Cooke, 2016-09-19 First published in 1989 this book examines seven different localities ranging from the outer suburbs of large northern cities to small freestanding town which were prospering in the 1980s or struggling against the negative employment effects of restructuring Within the theoretical frame of industrial restructuring it traces the development of each locality exploring in depth the influence of several key elements deindustrialisation technological change the shift to the services in employment on social composition political change and local policy A major contribution to locality studies this book is essential reading for students of urban and regional studies and sociology

Recent Developments in the Theory of Industrial Organization Alfredo Del Monte, 2016-07-27 New forms of organisation and market behaviour are emerging to replace and reshape older forms This has produced great uncertainty in industrial organization theory The purpose of this volume is to review and present some of the new approaches developed in industrial organization The material is organised into four sections recent approaches to Industrial Organisation the behaviour of individual firms and the characteristics of industrial systems as a whole new theories of the firm and market structure and technical progress and market structure some special issues Globalizing Taipei Reginald Kwok, 2006-05-11 Taipei's quest to become a global city is the key to its urban development Globalizing Taipei looks at this Asian Dragon a major city in the South China Growth Triangle and a centre for transnational production revealing how the development of this capital has received firm state support but is conditioned by international and domestic politics The book is divided into four parts economic and spatial restructuring state and society realignment social differentiation and cultural reorientation Each analyzes the interaction of international state and local politics in the shaping of the city's urban environment since World War II All contributors to this edited volume are Taiwan scholars presenting critical insiders views Based on each author's specialization and research focus each chapter provides an in depth consideration of one of Taipei's developmental issues generated by globalization Collectively they provide broad insightful and coherent coverage of this crucial time in Taipei's global transmutation Losing Control? Saskia Sassen, 1996 This work looks at the way in which the new global economy works examining its effect on the power and legitimacy of individual states It argues that national sovereignty has not eroded but states have begun to reconfigure to decide where their resonance lies. New Models In Geography Richard Peet, Nigel Thrift, 2013-10-11 First published in 1989 It seems such a long time ago another age yet it is a mere twenty odd years since the original Models in Geography was published It is an even shorter time since the first tentative steps were taken towards an alternative formulation of what might constitute a geographical perspective within the social sciences What came to be called the political economy perspective has progressed with remarkable speed and energy to generate its own framework of conceptualization and analysis its own questions and debates The papers in these two volumes are witness to the richness and range of the work which has developed over this relatively short period within the political economy approach Moreover from being a debate within an institutionally defined discipline of geography to introducing into that discipline ideas and discussions from the wider fields of philosophy and social science and the humanities more generally it has now flowered into a consistent part of enquiries that span the entire realm of social studies Information, Power, and Democracy Nico Stehr, 2015-11-12 The link between liberty and knowledge is neither static nor simple Until recently the mutual support between knowledge science democracy and emancipation was presupposed Recently however the close relationship between democracy and knowledge has been viewed with skepticism The growing societal reliance on specialized knowledge often appears to actually undermine democracy Is it that we do not know enough but that we know too much What are the implications for the freedom of societies and their citizens Does knowledge help or hinder them in unraveling the complexity of new challenges This book systematically explores the shifting dynamics of knowledge production and the implications for the conditions and practices of freedom It considers the growth of knowledge about knowledge and the impact of an evolving media It argues for a revised understanding of the societal role of knowledge and presents the concept of knowledge societies as a major resource for liberty The Kaleidoscope of Gender Joan Z. Spade, Catherine G. Valentine, 2008 This integrated comprehensive text provides an introduction to the sociology of gender It creatively and clearly explains what gender is and is not and what it means to say that gender is socially constructed Finance, Institutions and Industrial Change Eike W. Schamp, Godfrey J. Linge, Chris M. Rogerson, 2020-10-12 No detailed description available for Finance Institutions and Industrial Change Knowledge Capitalism Nico Stehr, 2022-06-01 In his newest book Stehr builds on his classic book Knowledge Societies 1994 to expand the concept toward one of knowledge capitalism for a now much changed era It is not only because of the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic that we are living in a new epoch it is the idea that modern societies increasingly constitute comprehensive knowledge societies under intensive capitalism whereby the legal encoding of knowledge through national and international law is the lever that enables the transformation of the knowledge society into knowledge capitalism The Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights agreement negotiated between 1986 and 1994 as part of the World Trade Organization is the backbone of the modern society and marks a clear historical demarcation and although knowledge capitalism is primarily an economic development the digital giants who are in the driver's seat have significant effects on the social structure and culture of modern society Japanese Auto Transplants in the Heartland Robert Perrucci, 2017-09-29 Japanese Auto Transplants in the Heartland A Phoenix in the Ashes John Hull Mollenkopf, 2021-04-13 In the years following its near bankruptcy in 1976 until the end of the 1980s New York City came to epitomize the debt driven deal oriented economic boom of the Reagan era Exploring the interplay between social structural change and political power during this period John Mollenkopf asks why a city with a large minority population and a long tradition of liberalism elected a conservative mayor who promoted real estate development and belittled minority activists Through a careful analysis of voting patterns political strategies of various interest groups and policy trends he explains how Mayor Edward Koch created a powerful political coalition and why it ultimately failed International Production Networks in Asia Michael Borras, Dieter Ernst, Stephan Haggard, 2003-09-02 This book addresses the changing nature of high tech industries in Asia particularly in the electronics sector Its up to date findings will be invaluable to those involved in management production networks and corporate strategy Handbook of Urban Studies Ronan Paddison, 2001 The Handbook of Urban Studies provides the first comprehensive up to date account of the urban condition relevant to a wide readership from academics to researchers and policymakers It provides a theoretically and empirically informed account embracing all the different disciplines contributing to urban studies Leading authors identify key issues and questions and future trends for further research and present their findings so that where appropriate they are relevant to the needs of policymakers Using the city as a unifying structure the Handbook provides an holistic appreciation of urban structure and change and of the theories by which we understand the structure development and changing character The Globalization of Advertising James R. Faulconbridge, Peter Taylor, 2010-12-09 The Globalization of Advertising draws upon previously unpublished research to unpack the contemporary structure spatial organization and city geographies of global advertising agencies The book demonstrates how teamwork in contemporary advertising agencies intra organizational power relations and the distribution of organizational capabilities all define how global agencies operate as transnationally integrated organizations This in turn allows understanding to be developed of the role of the offices of global agencies located in the three case study cities Detroit Los Angeles and New York The role of these three cities as preeminent markets for advertising in the USA is shown to have changed radically over recent years experiencing both growth and decline in employment as a result of their position in global networks of advertising work networks that operate in the context of a changing US economy and the rise of new and emerging centres of advertising in Asia and South America Postcolonial Politics, The Internet and Everyday Life M.I. Franklin, 2006-05-02 In this ground breaking study M I Franklin explores the form and substance of everyday life online from a critical postcolonial perspective With Internet access and social media uses accelerating in the Global South in depth studies of just how non western communities at home and living abroad actually use the Internet and web based media are still relatively few This book's pioneering use of virtual ethnography and mixed method research in this study of a longstanding media diaspora incorporates online participant observation with offline fieldwork to explore how postcolonial diasporas from the south Pacific have been using the Internet since the early days of the web Through a critical reconsideration of the work of Michel de Certeau in light of postcolonial and feminist theories the book provides insights into the practice of everyday life in a global and digital age by non western participants online and offline Critical of techno and media centric analyses of cyberspatial practices and power hierarchies Franklin argues that a closer look at the content and communicative styles of these contemporary Pacific traversals suggest other Internet futures These are visions of social media that can be more hospitable culturally inclusive and economically equitable than those promulgated by both powerful commercial interests and state actors looking to take charge of the Internet after Web 2 0 The book will be of interest to students of international politics media and communications cultural studies science and technology studies anthropology and sociology interested in how successive waves of new media interact with shifting power relations at the intersection of politics culture and society

Third Sector Organisations and Organising Wendy Earles, Robyn Lynn, 2012-08 Over the past few decades there has been considerable transformation of the organisational arrangements for public service provision and advocacy across most Western democracies not least in Australia Waves of ideologically driven reforms have reshaped organisations ways of organising and systems particularly those in the third sector Each wave has produced specific synergies and contradictions that contribute to the need for further reshaping As artefacts local organisations ways of organising and systems hold historic meaning that can guide practitioners as they seek to understand past change transverse existing landscapes question the utility and soundness of current meaning and seek to create new landscapes that respond to different value sets The studies present here were undertaken by the authors over two decades in partnership with local practitioners to respond to their expressed need for new maps and compasses to understand and transverse the rapidly changing organisational landscapes in which they practice The authors draw on practitioners lived experiences of micro change in particular sites to construct synthesised stories develop organisational typologies articulate principles and logics of organising and construct paradigmatic maps

Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Hong Kong Tai-lok Lui, Stephen W.K. Chiu, Ray Yep, 2018-07-17 When Britain and China negotiated the future of Hong Kong in the early 1980s their primary concern was about maintaining the status quo The rise of China in the last thirty years however has reshaped the Beijing Hong Kong dynamic as new tensions and divisions have emerged Thus post 1997 Hong Kong is a case about a global city s democratic transition within an authoritarian state The Routledge Handbook of Contemporary Hong Kong introduces readers to these key social economic and political developments Bringing together the work of leading researchers in the field it focuses on the process of transition from a British colony to a Special Administrative Region under China s sovereign rule Organized thematically the sections covered include One Country Two Systems in practice Governance in post colonial Hong Kong Social mobilization The changing social fabric of Hong Kong society Socio economic development and regional integration The future of Hong Kong This book provides a thorough introduction to Hong Kong today As such it will be invaluable to students and scholars of Hong Kong s politics culture and society It will also be of interest to those studying Chinese political development and the impact of China s rise more generally

Economies of Signs and Space Professor Scott M Lash, Scott Lash John Urry, Professor John Urry, 1993-12-09 This is a novel account of social change that supplants conventional understandings of society and presents a sociology that takes as its main unit of analysis flows through time and across space Developing a comparative analysis of the UK and US the new Germany and Japan Lash and Urry show how restructuration after organized capitalism has its basis in increasingly reflexive social actors and organizations The consequence is not only the much vaunted postmodern condition but also a growth in reflexivity In exploring this new reflexive world the authors argue that today s economies are increasingly ones of signs information symbols images desire and of space where both signs and social subjects refugees financiers tourists and financiers are mobile over ever greater distances at ever greater speeds
