Globalization And Labour In The Asia Pacific:

Globalization and Labour in the Asia Pacific Region Chris Rowley, John Benson, 2000 This study looks at the challenges of globalization and deregulation and possible responses to them in a variety of ways Globalization and Competitiveness Chris Rowley, Malcolm Warner, 2013-09-13 This book evaluates the evolution of Big Business in Asia as we enter the new millennium It focuses on recent issues affecting large corporations both indigenous and foreign owned such as multinational companies and international joint ventures as well as on key events such as the Asian Crisis and its aftermath China's entry into the WTO the recent downturn in the world economy and the onset of SARS A special issue of the journal Asia Pacific Business Review Trade Unions in Asia John Benson, Ying Zhu, 2008-05-30 Offering a comprehensive account of the role played by trade unions in Asia this book focuses on the strategies they have adopted to represent workers and discusses the issues surrounding wages and working conditions health and safety women's employment opportunities and human resource development China's Transition to a Global Economy Michael Webber, 2002-12-13 How has China approached the global economy Webber Wang and Zhu attempt to answer this question through analysis of the concepts of globalization transition and regionalization China's approach has been experimental stressing the liberalization of trade and investment flows and the development of a market economy By these indexes globalization in China has been gradual and uneven Integrating Western social science and Chinese research this book assesses the nature and effect of globalization in China and its implications Reforming Asian Labor Systems Frederic C. Deyo, 2012-05-15 In Reforming Asian Labor Systems Frederic C Deyo examines the implications of post 1980s market oriented economic reform for labor systems in China South Korea the Philippines and Thailand Adopting a critical institutionalist perspective he explores the impact of elite economic interests and strategies labor politics institutional path dependencies and changing economic circumstances on regimes of labor and social regulation in these four countries Of particular importance are reform driven socioeconomic and political tensions that especially following the regional financial crisis of the late 1990s have encouraged increased efforts to integrate social and developmental agendas with those of market reform Through his analysis of the social economy of East and Southeast Asia Deyo suggests that several Asian countries may now be positioned to repeat what they achieved in earlier decades a prominent role in defining new international models of development and market reform that adapt to the pressures and constraints of the evolving world economy Globalisation and Labour Rights Christine Kaufmann, 2007-01-17 In a world of work that has changed dramatically over the last few years states see themselves confronted with new actors and conflicting international legal obligations This book examines the tensions between core labour rights as defined by the International Labour Organisation and the interests of international economic institutions e.g. WTO IMF World Bank OECD It provides an analysis of the legal interactions between international regulations and state policy with regard to potential regulatory conflicts at both the horizontal and vertical level The study suggests a model of multilevel consistency as a way of reconciling

the highly specialised and fragmented legal systems of core labour rights on the one hand and trade liberalisation on the other to form the coherent framework of a consistent legal order Its detailed analysis and recommendations are designed for both academic readers and practitioners in international organisations and governments

Employment Relations and HRM in South Korea Dong-One Kim,Johngseok Bae,2017-07-05 South Korea is one of the rare countries that has experienced political industrial democratization and economic development simultaneously in a relatively short period However the full story of democratization and development processes displays two faces positive and negative aspects to the deployment of labour human resources This book explains these seemingly contradictory outcomes of Korean employment relations ER and human resource management HRM based upon a theoretical framework that incorporates logics of environmental constraints and strategies of actors During three key periods of the previous century i e pre 1987 1987 1997 and post 1997 the book discusses the paradigm shift in both ER and HRM This much needed text contains informative details on Korean ER and HRM of past and present with theoretical and practical views and of transformations and continuities The book provides policy implications that will stimulate constructive debates regarding the mutual gains strategies for policy makers management and employees

Labour in the Clothing Industry in the Asia Pacific Vicki Crinis,Adrian Vickers,2019-12-12 The clothing industry provides employment for 60 million workers worldwide More than a quarter of these workers are employed in the Asia Pacific region where the industry is based on subcontracted production on behalf of international buyers Rapid movements of manufacturing activity from country to country in search of cost advantages make clothing workers part of a globalizing labour market where they increasingly suffer from job insecurity This book presents carefully researched case studies which highlight the ways in which labour is informalized fragmented and made disposable by the globalization of production Chapters address issues pertaining to rights and citizenship and new forms of activism and organization in conjunction and coordination with diverse support groups consumers and wider global campaigns Contributors further examine the role of the nation state government regulatory bodies as well as independent monitoring systems such as the International Labour Organization Although there has been considerable effort directed to understanding how firms operate across multiple countries in studies of the organization of global production networks and the implications for complexities of scale de territorialization and state development projects there has been far less focus on how these processes produce precarious labour and reshape worker consciousness Offering new insights into the understanding and support of workers in the global textile and garment industry this book will be of interest to academics in a variety of disciplines including Asian Studies sociology political economy development human rights labour and gender

Globalization, Technological Change, and Labor Markets Stanley W. Black, 2012-12-06 Globalization Technological Change and Labor Markets is an edited collection of papers drawn from the conference held at the American Institute for Contemporary German Studies in June 1997 This conference brought German and American perspectives to bear on the complex issues of global competition technological change and labor markets in the welfare state The contributions are organized into five sections dealing with various aspects of the problem 1 Macroeconomic Perspectives 2 Microeconomic Aspects 3 the German Model of Labor Relations 4 the Social Market Economy and 5 Trade Policy and Environmental and Labor Standards This edited collection seeks to explore many of the key issues surrounding the debate over the impact of globalization and technological change on labor markets in Europe and the United States This volume provides path breaking insights as to why globalization has wreaked havoc on the welfare states that had once propelled Western Europe and North America to an unprecedented standard of living throughout the post war period The high level of scholarship contained in the individual chapters forms a compelling argument that will convince even the most resistant skeptics that the days of the classic welfare state are numbered More importantly this book is filled with concrete suggestions based on careful economic analysis as to how technological change and globalization can be harnessed in conjunction with a new role of the state to provide a high standard of living David B Audretsch Ameritech Chair of Economic Development Indiana University

Globalisation, State and Labour Peter Fairbrother, Al

Rainnie, 2007-05-07 Globalisation State and Labour combines a new theoretical approach with comparative analysis ensuring that it will be of vital interest to anyone concerned with the globalization debate the future of the state and organized labour. It shows how although the world is undergoing enormous changes involving politics the economy and society the position and place of the state and the significance of state policy in this process is heavily contested. Presenting a timely opportunity to review and re-assess the modern state with regards to labour the essays included in this text written by leading researchers in the area develop a new theoretical framework that puts work workers and their organizations at the heart of analyzing state restructuring. Using major studies from four countries UK Denmark Australia and New Zealand the contributors challenge many preconceptions regarding globalization and labour organization including the notions that the state is being marginalized by the processes of globalization and that the trade unions are becoming irrelevant. Routledge Handbook of Southeast Asian Politics Richard Robison, 2012-03-12 Now available in paperback this Handbook provides a comprehensive analysis of the major themes that have defined the politics of Southeast Asia. It provides a comprehensive and cutting edge examination of this important subject. The introductory chapter provides an overview of the theoretical and ideological themes that have dominated the study of the region's politics and presents the different ways the complex politics of the region have been understood. The contributions by leading scholars in the field cover a range of broad questions about the dynamics of politics. The Handbook analyses how the dominant political and social coalitions of the region were forged in the Cold War era and assesses the complex processes of transition towards various forms of democratic politics. How institutions and systems of governance are being forged in an increasingly global environment is discussed and whether civil society in Southeast Asia has really evolved as an independent sphere of social and political activity. The Handbook examines how national governments are dealing with growing tensions within the region as matters such as labour human rights and the environment spill beyond national boundaries and how they are establishing a place in the new global framework. By engaging the Southeast Asian experience more firmly with larger debates about modern political systems the Handbook is an essential reference tool for students and scholars of Political Science and Southeast Asian studies. Globalization Robert Goehlert, 2003 International Economic Development Tony Fu-Lai Yu, Yuen Wai-Kee, Diana Kwan, 2014-03-14 Written by experts in their respective areas this book is an excellent review of theories policies and empirical evidences on important topics in global economic development. The book is both a superb teaching tool and a valuable handbook in development economics. The volume compiled 13 articles on contemporary issues influencing the world development. The book covers issues ranging from global financial crisis the rise of China and the world economic order multinational corporations sweat factories and social responsibilities to Japan's nuclear meltdown and sustainable development. The book highlights the impacts of globalization on human well being and examines the relationship between developed and developing economies in the global perspective. With cases and box illustration this book is an essential reader for undergraduate students in economic development international development and development economics It is also a great reference for more advanced students as well as a very useful guide to policymakers and practitioners interested in recent advances in global development
