Gendering Religion and Politics H. Herzog,A. Braude,2009-07-20 The aim of this book is to suggest an interdisciplinary perspective on the complex relations of gender religion and politics in light of paradigmatic shifts in theories of modernity and the growing body of studies on gender and religion The Routledge Handbook of Religion, Gender and Society Caroline Starkey,Emma Tomalin,2021-12-30 In an era which many now recognise as post secular the role that religions play in shaping gender identities and relationships has been awarded a renewed status in the study of societies and social change In both the Global South and the Global North in the 21st century religiosity is of continuing significance not only in people's private lives and in the family but also in the public sphere and with respect to political and legal systems The Routledge Handbook of Religion Gender and Society is an outstanding reference source to these key topics problems and debates in this exciting subject area Comprising over 40 chapters by a team of international contributors the Handbook is divided into 3 parts Critical debates for religions gender and society theories concepts and methodologies Issues and themes in religions gender and society Contexts and locations Within these sections central issues debates and problems are examined including activism gender analysis intersectionality and feminism oppression and liberation equality bodies and embodiment space and place leadership and authority diaspora and migration marriage and the family generation and aging health and reproduction education violence and conflict ecology and climate change and the role of social media The Routledge Handbook of Religion Gender and Society is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies and gender studies The Handbook will also be very useful for those in related fields such as cultural studies area studies politics sociology anthropology and history

Handbook on Religion and International Relations Haynes, Jeffrey, 2021-07-31 This comprehensive Handbook examines the relationship between religion and international relations mainly focusing on several world religions Christianity Islam Hinduism and Judaism Providing a timely update on this understudied topic it evaluates how this complex relationship has evolved over the last four decades looking at a variety of political contexts regions and countries

Gender, Religion and Education in a Chaotic Postmodern World Zehavit Gross, Lynn Davies, Al-Khansaa Diab, 2012-12-04 The immense changes that the world is undergoing in terms of globalization and migration of peoples have had a profound effect on cultures and identities The question is whether this means shifts in religious identities for women and men in different contexts whether such shifts are seen as beneficial negative or insufficient or whether social change actually means new conservatism or even fundamentalisms Surrounding these questions is the role of education is in any change or new contradiction This unique book enhances an interdisciplinary discourse about the complex intersections between gender religion and education in the contemporary world Literature in the social sciences and humanities have expanded our understanding of women's involvement in almost every aspect of life yet the combined religious educational aspect is still an under studied and often under theorized field of research How people experience their religious identity in a new context or country is also a theme now needing more complex attention Questions of the body visibility and invisibility are receiving new treatments This book fills these gaps The book provides a strong comparative perspective with 15 countries or contexts represented The context of education and learning covers schools higher education non formal education religious institutions adult literacy curriculum and textbooks Overall the book reveals a great complexity and often contradiction in modern negotiations of religion and secularism by girls and boys women and men and a range of possibilities for change It provides a theoretical and practical resource for researchers religious and educational institutions policy makers and teachers The ^AOxford Handbook of Secularism Phil Zuckerman, John Shook, 2016-12-28 The Oxford Handbook of Secularism offers a wide ranging examination of secularism on a global scale bringing together an international collection of views from prominent experts in a variety of fields This volume reflects the impressive level of academic attention now given to secularism across the humanities social sciences law and public policy and international relations Long reigning theories about the pace of secularization and ideal church state relations are here scrutinized by a new generation of scholars studying secularism with new questions better data and fresh perspectives Religions and Development Emma Tomalin, 2013-07-03 Religion has been excluded from development studies for decades Religious traditions have contributed greatly towards development work yet major international players have tended to ignore its role Recent years have shown a noticeable shift in development policy practice and research to recognize religion as a relevant factor This text provides a comprehensive insight into different approaches towards the understanding the relationships between religions and development studies policy and practice It guides readers through current debates presenting explaining and critically evaluating a broad range of literature and locating it within a theoretical context The text explores the role of religion within development from positive contributions such as the important role that many faith based organizations play in education or health care to more complicated and contested notions of impact such as religiously inspired violence or gender inequality The book begins with three background chapters outlining the relevance of religions for development studies policy and practice and introducing the reader to the study of development and of religions Following these the focus then shifts to examine a number of thematic areas including religion gender and development and the implications of the rise of religion for mainstream development studies policy and practice in the 21st century Each chapter contains a range of features to assist undergraduate learning including learning objectives for each chapter discussion of key concepts summaries discussion questions further reading and websites The book also contains over sixty boxed case studies to provide further definition explanation and examples of the interactions between religions and development globally This innovative text presents religions as something that can both obstruct and aid development encouraging readers to engage critically with the multiple ways that religion impacts on both the conceptualization of development as well the resulting project interventions This will be of interest to undergraduate postgraduate students and scholars interested in religious studies development studies and the broader study of societies and cultures Muslim and Christian Women in Dialogue Kathleen McGarvey, 2009 Observations about dialogue and about the theology of religions are common enough these days but they are rarely grounded in the analysis of a particular reality and are therefore of little help to practitioners This book on the other hand gives an exhaustive documentation of the background and the actual situation of Muslim Christian relations in Northern Nigeria before proceeding to proposals for understanding the contribution of women s discourse in the development of dialogue and to a feminist theology of religions Drawing from her empirical findings in

Northern Nigeria as well as some feminist insights the author suggests an approach to other religions grounded in people's lived experience and a shared commitment to justice peace and transformed human relations Recognizing the limitations of some pluralist theories she suggests a feminist ethical approach to religious pluralism The practicality and feasibility of such an approach are shown as she elaborates on its possible application in the concrete context of Northern Nigeria Adapting Gender and Development to Local Religious Contexts Romina Istratii,2020-10-01 This book provides a critical and decolonial analysis of gender and development theory and practice in religious societies through the presentation of a detailed ethnographic study of conjugal violence in Ethiopia Responding to recent consensus that gender mainstreaming approaches have failed to produce their intended structural changes Romina Istratii explains that gender and development analytical and theoretical frameworks are often constructed through western Euro centric lenses ill equipped to understand gender related realities and human behaviour in non western religious contexts and knowledge systems Instead Istratii argues for an approach to gender sensitive research and practice which is embedded in insiders conceptual understandings as a basis to theorise about gender assess the possible gendered underpinnings of local issues and design appropriate alleviation strategies Drawing on a detailed study of conjugal abuse realities and attitudes in two villages and the city of Aksum in Northern Ethiopia she demonstrates how religious knowledge can be engaged in the design and implementation of remedial interventions This book carefully evidences the importance of integrating religious traditions and spirituality in current discussions of sustainable development in Africa and speaks to researchers and practitioners of gender religion and development in Africa scholars of non western Christianities and Ethiopian studies and domestic violence researchers and practitioners

Interfaith Networks and Development Ezra Chitando,Ishanesu Sextus Gusha,2022-03-15 Although there is growing interest in the role of religion in meeting the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Agenda 2030 very few studies have focused on the contributions of interfaith networks Most of the contemporary publications on religion and development focus on single religions or faith based organizations This volume addresses the lacuna in the available scholarship by undertaking detailed analyses of how interfaith networks in diverse African contexts contribute to development Chapters in this volume engage in theoretical debates on interfaith networks and development while describing concrete fresh case studies on how particular interfaith networks are contributing towards the meeting of the SDGs in specific contexts Thus the volume describes older and newer interfaith networks and analyses their achievements and challenges Contributors focus on SDGs that include peacebuilding gender youth the environment as well as overviews of interfaith initiatives in different African contexts

Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg,2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of

Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourses to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such

Historicizing "Tradition" in the Study of Religion Steven Engler, Gregory Price Grieve, 2012-02-13 This collection of essays analyzes tradition as a category in the historical and comparative study of religion The book questions the common assumption that tradition is simply the passing down or imitation of prior practices and discourses It begins from the premise that many traditions are at least in part social fabrications often deliberately serving particular ideological ends Individual chapters examine a wide variety of historical periods and religions Congolese Buddhist Christian Confucian Cree Esoteric Hawaiian Hindu Islamic Jewish New Religious Movement and Shinto Different sections of the book consider tradition's relation to three sets of issues legitimation and authority agency and identity modernity and the West

Women's Roles in the Middle East and North Africa Ruth Margolies Beitler, Angelica R. Martinez, 2010-04-09 This concise content rich volume provides an overview of women's roles in the Middle East and North Africa from the advent of Islam to the present Recent research shows that women in the Middle East and North Africa have played much larger roles in society than previously acknowledged Women's Roles in the Middle East and North Africa explores these roles from both historical and contemporary perspectives describing and analyzing the lives of women in the regions from the advent of Islam through contemporary times The book begins with an introduction that examines the pre Islamic Middle East and North Africa The balance of the chapters are organized thematically and provide detailed country studies for 19 nations Chapters discuss work law religion family politics and culture exploring the changes women have undergone over a period of roughly 1 500 years

Sociological Perspectives on Globalisation Ajaya Kumar Sahoo, 2006 The work deals with an interesting collection of essays by specialists scholars on different aspects of sociological perspectives on globalization These essays thirteen in number discuss all relevant aspects of globalization at national and international level The book will be of immense academic value to sociologists social anthropologists politics cultural and ethnic studies and transnational studies

Global Empowerment of Women Carolyn M. Elliott, 2007-12-12 The empowerment of women is a broadly endorsed strategy for solving a host of difficult problems from child poverty to gender violence to international development The seventeen international scholars in this multi disciplinary volume offer thoughtful critiques of the notion of empowerment based on their studies in twenty countries in all regions of the world The comparative introduction places concepts of empowerment in the context of models of the market and of community showing how contradictions in these models as they are enacted on the ground provide both spaces and constraints for women The chapters consider opportunities for women in the context of globalization resurgent nationalism and politicized religion cultures of masculinity and the HIV AIDS epidemic in Africa They show how initiatives at national or global levels are transformed by local cultures and power structures and demonstrate the fruitfulness of tensions between universal values of human rights and contextualized understandings This landmark multi disciplinary collection of original studies by distinguished international feminist scholars will be an essential addition to the fields of Political Science Women s Studies Economics Sociology International Development and Environmental Studies
