Glorious Technicolor:

Glorious Technicolor Fred E. Basten, 1980 Color on the motion picture screen Glorious Technicolor Connie Betz, Rainer Rother, Annika Schaefer, 2015-02 Glorious Technicolor Fred Basten, 2005 The Classical Hollywood Cinema David Bordwell, Janet Staiger, Kristin Thompson, 2003-09-02 Acclaimed for its breakthrough approach and its combination of theoretical analysis and empirical evidence this is the standard work on the classical Hollywood cinema style of film making from the silent era to the 1960s , This Year It Will Be Different Maeve Binchy, 2007-09-04 From the New York Times bestselling author of Circle of Friends and The Glass Lake comes This Year It Will Be Different a stunning new work that brings us the magic and spirit of Christmas in fifteen stories filled with Maeve Binchy's trademark wit charm and sheer storytelling genius Instead of nostalgia Binchy evokes contemporary life instead of Christmas homilies she offers truth and instead of sugarplums she brings us the nourishment of holidays that precipitate change growth and new beginnings In A Typical Irish Christmas a grieving New York widower heads for a holiday in Ireland and finds an unexpected destination not just for himself but for a father and daughter at odds The title story This Year It Will Be Different also delves into the emotions of a person at mid life a woman with a complacent husband and grown children who are entering a season that can forever alter her life and theirs In Pulling Together a teacher not yet out of her twenties sees her affair with a married man at a turning point as Christmas Eve approaches and she may be off on a new direction with some unusual friends And in the delightful tale The Hard Core the four most recalcitrant residents of a nursing home are left alone at Christmas with the owner's daughter in charge the result is sure to be disaster or the kind of life affirming renewal that only the spirit of the season can bring The stories in This Year It Will Be Different powerfully evoke many lives step families grappling with ex's long married couples faced with in law problems a wandering husband choosing between the other woman and his wife a child caught in grown up tugs of war during the one holiday when feelings cannot be easily hidden The time of year may be magical imbued with meaning But the situations are universal And Maeve Binchy makes us care about them all As the Philadelphia Inquirer noted Maeve Binchy's people come to life fully They make you laugh and cry and disturb your sleep They do precisely that in this extraordinary collection on the night before Christmas when we are snug in our beds or anywhere any time of the year The Classical Hollywood Reader Steve Neale, 2012-11-12 The Classical Hollywood Reader brings together essential readings to provide a history of Hollywood from the 1910s to the mid 1960s Following on from a Prologue that discusses the aesthetic characteristics of Classical Hollywood films Part 1 covers the period between the 1910s and the mid to late 1920s It deals with the advent of feature length films in the US and the growing national and international dominance of the companies responsible for their production distribution and exhibition In doing so it also deals with film making practices aspects of style the changing roles played by women in an increasingly business oriented environment and the different audiences in the US for which Hollywood sought to cater Part 2 covers the period between the coming of sound in the mid 1920s and the beginnings of the demise of the studio system in late 1940s In doing so it deals with the impact of sound on films and film production in the US and Europe the subsequent impact of the Depression and World War II on the industry and its audiences the growth of unions and the roles played by production managers and film stars at the height of the studio era Part 3 deals with aspects of style censorship technology and film production It includes articles on the Production Code music and sound cinematography and the often neglected topic of animation Part 4 covers the period between 1946 and 1966 It deals with the demise of the studio system and the advent of independent production In an era of demographic and social change it looks at the growth of drive in theatres the impact of television the advent of new technologies the increasing importance of international markets the Hollywood blacklist the rise in art house imports and in overseas production and the eventual demise of the Production Code Designed especially for courses on Hollywood Cinema the Reader includes a number of newly researched and written chapters and a series of introductions to each of its parts It concludes with an epilogue a list of resources for further research and an extensive bibliography

George Gallup in Hollywood Susan Ohmer, 2006-11-07 George Gallup in Hollywood is a fascinating look at the film industry's use of opinion polling in the 1930s and 40s George Gallup's polling techniques first achieved fame when he accurately predicted that Franklin D Roosevelt would be reelected president in 1936 Gallup had devised an extremely effective sampling method that took households from all income brackets into account and Hollywood studio executives quickly pounced on the value of Gallup's research Soon he was gauging reactions to stars and scripts for RKO Pictures David O Selznick and Walt Disney and taking the public's temperature on Orson Welles and Desi Arnaz couples such as Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers and films like Gone with the Wind Dumbo and Fantasia Through interviews and extensive research Susan Ohmer traces Gallup's groundbreaking intellectual and methodological developments examining his comprehensive approach to market research from his early education in the advertising industry to his later work in Hollywood The results of his opinion polls offer a fascinating glimpse at the class and gender differences of the time as well as popular sentiment toward social and political issues

Cole Porter: Selected Lyrics Cole Porter, 2024-11-12 Cole Porter possessed to a singular degree the art of expressing depth through apparent frivolity The effervescent wit and technical bravura of his songs are matched by their unguarded revelations of feeling In the words of editor Robert Kimball Porter wrote tellingly of the pain and evanescence of emotional relationships He gently mocked propriety and said that few things were simple or lasting or free from ambiguity Of the masters of twentieth century American songwriting Porter was one of the few who wrote both music and lyrics and even in the absence of his melodies his words distill an unmistakable mixture of poignancy and wit that marks him as a genius of light verse Selected from over eight hundred songs here are Porter's finest flights of invention lyrics that are an indelible part of 20th century culture Let's Do It Love for Sale I Get a Kick Out of You Anything Goes In the Still of the Night I Concentrate on You and dozens more About the American Poets Project Elegantly accounts for the impactful effects of viewing lived spaces and human places on screen The essays in this collection actively engage with examples of contemporary popular and art cinema genre films and auteur canon historical films propaganda documentary and animation in their explorations of the meanings with which filmed landscapes are endowed and invested The breadth of the study is matched by the depth of the interest with writers here approaching the subject of film landscapes as critics as film practitioners and as teachers of film studies and film making Film Landscapes gives voice to a great many ideas and includes coverage of a great many films but it also points forward to ways in which we might revisit discussions of the environments of film and consider ways in which history and creativity critical understanding and the interaction of human beings and place could be reconsidered and revised to produce new insights Fashioning Alice Kiera Vaclavik, 2019-02-07 150 years after Alice's Adventures in Wonderland was first published Lewis Carroll's eponymous heroine has become one of the most familiar figures in the cultural landscape The enduringly iconic figure of the Victorian child Alice has inspired countless fashion designers illustrators and stylists The Alice Look has been embraced across the world by young and old alike and by both the feted and the forgotten Fashioning Alice is the first book to chart the emergence of Alice as a style icon Kiera Vaclavik traces the evolution of Alice's visual identity in the nineteenth century and explores the myriad ways in which she was dressed on the page on the stage and in the home The book also draws on historical sources to examine amateur performance and play not just in the UK but in the USA Japan and Australia Illustrated throughout Fashioning Alice is a ground breaking exploration of Alice's visual career that offers a compelling case study of the intersections between fashion and fiction Feeling Colour Bregt Lameris, 2025-03-06 The shift back from quasi monochrome to coloured motion picture during the 1950s and 1960s famously provided moviegoers the dazzling opportunity to more fully engage their senses all the while opening new modes of affective possibilities for filmmakers Set against the intersection of media studies emotion theory biology and digital humanities Feeling Colour Chromatic Embodiment in Film Culture 1950s 1960s delves into the role colour played in the oft fraught relationship between cinema and its audiences This transnational analysis of an extensive range of midcentury cinematography examines the multilayered effects which extend beyond the silver screen offering a high level theoretical elaboration and in depth historical exploration of both experimental and mainstream movies Lameris takes an interdisciplinary perspective examining the different ways colour creates or was believed to create embodied reactions From perception theory and putting the nerves in motion to colour psychology and how to steer the spectator to cross modal perception or synaesthesia Lameris asks how how colours and feelings in film are entangled in the colour cultures discourses and beliefs of a particular historical context With its influential cultural scholarly contribution and accessible writing style this book will delight both students and specialists in film and media studies In addition those interested in the history and use of color in advertising neuroscience gender studies and emotion will find the book engaging and useful Girl Head Genevieve Yue, 2020-11-10 Girl Head shows how gender has had a surprising and persistent role in film production processes well before the image ever appears onscreen For decades feminist film criticism has focused on issues of representation images of women in film But what are the feminist implications of the material object underlying that image the filmstrip itself What does feminist analysis have to offer in understanding the film image before it enters the realm of representation Girl Head explores how gender and sexual difference have been deeply embedded within film materiality In rich archival and technical detail Yue examines three sites of technical film production the film laboratory editing practices and the film archive Within each site she locates a common motif the vanishing female body which is transformed into material to be used in the making of a film The book develops a theory of gender and film materiality through readings of narrative film early cinema experimental film and moving image art This original work of feminist media history shows how gender has had a persistent role in film production processes well before the image ever appears onscreen
