God And Production In A Guatemalan Town:

God and Production in a Guatemalan Town Sheldon Annis, 1987-12 Since the late 1970s Protestantism has emerged as a major force in the political and economic life of rural Guatemala. Indeed as Sheldon Annis argues in this book Protestantism may have helped tip Guatemala's guerrilla war in behalf of the army during the early 1980s. But what is it about Protestantism and about Indians that has led to massive religious conversion throughout the highlands? And in villages today what are the dynamics that underlie the competition between Protestants and Catholics? Sheldon Annis addresses these questions from the perspective of San Antonio Aguas Calientes, an Indian village in the highlands of midwestern Guatemala. Annis skillfully blends economic and cultural analysis to show why Protestantism has taken root. The key character in his drama is the village Indian's tiny plot of corn and beans, the milpa, which Annis analyzes as an idea as well as an agronomic productive system. By exploring milpa logic, Annis shows how the economic, environmental, and social shifts of the twentieth century have acted to undercut the colonial creation of Indianness and in doing so have laid the basis for new cultural identities.

Between Two Armies in the Ixil Towns of Guatemala David Stoll, 1993 How will patterns of human interaction with the earth's eco system impact on biodiversity loss over the long term, not in the next ten or even fifty years but on the vast temporal scale dealt with by earth scientists? This volume brings together data from population biology, community ecology, comparative biology, and paleontology to answer this question.

The ^AOxford Handbook of Latin American Christianity David Thomas Orique, Susan Fitzpatrick-Behrens, Virginia Garrard, 2020-03-23 Latin America where 90% of the population is Christian and where nearly 40% of the world's Catholics reside has its own unique brand of Christianity. The Oxford Handbook of Latin American Christianity offers a survey of Latin American Christianity from thirty-three leading scholars. The volume systematically introduces and examines dramatic shifts in Catholic and Protestant Christianity over the course of several centuries. Its four sections explore the emergence of colonial Christianity, its institutional and popular evolution, and its dynamic role in the region's contemporary developments.

Divided by Faith and Ethnicity Andrea Althoff, 2014-08-22 Two unprecedented, striking developments form part of the reality of many Latin Americans. Recent decades have seen the dramatic rise of a new religious pluralism, namely the spread of Pentecostal Christianity. Catholic and Protestant alike, and the growth of indigenous revitalization movements. This study analyzes these major transitions, asking what roles ethnicity and ethnic identities play in the contemporary process of religious pluralism, such as the growth of the Protestant Pentecostal and neo-Pentecostal movements, the Catholic Charismatic Renewal, and the indigenous Maya movement in Guatemala. This book aims to provide an understanding of the agenda of religious movements, their motivations, and their impact on society. Such a pursuit is urgently needed in Guatemala, a postwar country experiencing acrimonious religious competition and a highly contentious debate on religious pluralism. This volume is relevant to scholars and students of Latin American Studies, Sociology of Religion, Anthropology, Practical Theology, and Political Sciences.

Maya Cultural Activism in Guatemala Edward F. Fischer, R. McKenna Brown, 2010-06-28 Maya Cultural Activism in Guatemala marks a new era in Guatemalan studies by offering an up to the minute look at the pan Maya movement and the future of the Maya people as they struggle to regain control over their cultural destiny The successful emergence of what is in some senses a nationalism grounded in ethnicity and language has challenged scholars to reconsider their concepts of nationalism community and identity Editors Edward F Fischer and R McKenna Brown have brought together essays by virtually all the leading U S experts on contemporary Maya communities and the top Maya scholars working in Guatemala today Supplementing scholarly analysis of Mayan cultural activism is a position statement originating within the movement and more wide ranging and personal reflections by anthropologists and linguists who have worked with the Maya over the years Among the broader issues that come in for examination are the complex relations between U S Mayanists and the Mayan cultural movement efforts to promote literacy in Mayan languages the significance of woven textiles and native dress the relations between language and national identity and the cultural meanings that the present day Maya have encountered in ancient Mayan texts and hieroglyphic writing On Earth as It Is in Heaven Virginia Garrard-Burnett, 2000 Collects nine previously published essays that consider the entire region and so provide a more comparative view of the range of religious experience than studies that focus on a particular country They also range widely across religion covering not only the dominant Catholicism but also popular Indian and African religious forms and new elements such as Protestantism and Mormonism The collection is suitable for a course It is not indexed Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Rereading the Conquest James Krippner-Martínez, 2010-11-01 Combining social history with literary criticism James Krippner Martínez shows how a historiographically sensitive rereading of contemporaneous documents concerning the sixteenth century Spanish conquest and evangelization of Michoacán and of later writings using them can challenge traditional celebratory interpretations of missionary activity in early colonial Mexico The book offers a fresh look at religion politics and the writing of history by employing a poststructuralist method that engages the exclusions as well as the content of the historical record The moments of doubt contradiction and ambiguity thereby uncovered lead to deconstructing a coherent conquest narrative that continues to resonate in our present age Part I The Politics of Conquest deals with primary sources compiled from 1521 to 1565 Krippner Martínez here examines the execution of Cazonci the indigenous ruler of Michoacán as recounted in the trial record produced by his executioners explores the missionary Indian encounter as revealed in the Relación de Michoacán and assesses the writings of Michoacán's first bishop the legendary Vasco de Quiroga and their complex interplay of authoritarian paternalism and reformist hope Part II Reflections looks at how the memory of these historical figures is represented in later eras A key text for this discussion is the Crónica de Michoacán written in the late eighteenth century by the Franciscan intellectual Pablo de Beaumont Krippner Martínez concludes with a critique of the debate that initiated his investigation the controversy between Latin Americans and Europeans over the colonialist legacy decades and this book provides both a conceptual framing of the key issues and debates involved and rich illustrations through empirical case studies. The chapters span the discipline of human geography and cover contexts as diverse as veiling in Turkey, religious landscapes in rural Peru and refugees and faith in South Africa. A number of prominent scholars and emerging researchers examine topical themes in each engaging chapter with significant foci being religious transnationalism and religious landscapes, gendering of religious identities and contexts, fashion, faith and the body, identity, resistance and belief, immigrant identities, citizenship and spaces of belief, alternative spiritualities and places of retreat and enchantment. Together they make a series of important contributions that illuminate the central role of geography to the meaning and implications of lived religion, public piety and religious embodiment. As such, this collection will be of much interest to researchers and students working on topics relating to religion and place, including human geographers, sociologists, religious studies and religious education scholars.
