God and the Philosophers Thomas V. Morris, 1994 Brings together a series of essays by a group of highly regarded philosophers on the role of God and spirituality in their lives and in their philosophies God and Evidence Rob Lovering, 2013-06-20 God and Evidence presents a new set of compelling problems for theistic philosophers The problems pertain to three types of theistic philosopher which Lovering defines here as theistic inferentialists theistic non inferentialists and theistic fideists Theistic inferentialists believe that God exists that there is inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic non inferentialists believe that God exists that there is non inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic fideists believe that God exists that there is no discoverable probabilifying evidence inferential or non inferential of God's existence and that it is nevertheless acceptable morally if not otherwise to have faith that God exists Lovering argues that each type of theistic philosopher faces a problem unique to his type and that they all share two particular problems Some of these problems take us down an entirely new discursive path others down a new discursive path branching off from an old one Faith and Learning David S. The God Biographers Larry Witham, 2010-07-01 The God Biographers presents a sweeping narrative of the Western image of God since antiquity following the theme of how the old biography of God has been challenged by a new biography in the twenty first century The new biography has made its case in free will theism process thought evolutionary doctrines relational theology and open theism a story of people ideas and events that is brought up to the present in this engaging narrative Readers will meet the God biographers in the old and new camps On the one side are Job Augustine Boethius Anselm Aquinas and Calvin On the other side is a group that includes the early Unitarian and Wesleyan thinkers the process thinkers Alfred North Whitehead Pierre Teilhard de Chardin and Charles Hartshorne and finally a new breed of evangelical philosophers This story looks closely at the cultural and scientific context of each age and how these shaped the images of God In the twenty first century that image is being shaped by new human experiences and the findings of science Today the debate between the old biographers and the new is playing out in the forums of modern theology courtrooms and social movements Larry Witham tells that panoramic story in an engaging narrative for specialists and general readers alike

Need to Know John G. Stackhouse Jr., 2014-05-30 How should a Christian think If a serious Christian wants to think seriously about a serious subject from considering how to vote in the next election to choosing a career from deciding among scientific theories to selecting a mate from weighing competing marketing proposals to discerning the best fitness plan what does he or she do This basic question is at the heart of a complex discourse epistemology A bold new statement of Christian epistemology Need to Know presents a comprehensive coherent and clear model of responsible Christian thinking Grounded in the best of the Christian theological tradition while being attentive to a surprising range of thinkers in the history of philosophy natural science social science and culture the book offers a scheme for drawing together experience tradition scholarship art and the Bible into a practical yet theoretically profound system of thinking about thinking John Stackhouse's fundamental idea is as simple as it is startling Since God calls human beings to do certain things in the world God can be relied upon to supply the knowledge necessary for human beings to do those things The classic Christian concept of vocation then supplies both the impetus and the assurance that faithful Christians can trust God to guide their thinking on a need to know basis      God in Proof Nathan Schneider,2013-06-10 In this tour of the history of arguments for and against the existence of God Nathan Schneider embarks on a remarkable intellectual historical and theological journey through the centuries of believers and unbelievers from ancient Greeks to medieval Arabs to today's most eminent philosophers and the New Atheists Framed by an account of Schneider's own unique journey God in Proof illuminates the great minds who wrestled with one of history's biggest questions together with their arguments bringing them to life in their time and our own Schneider's sure handed portrayal of the characters and ideas involved in the search for proof challenges how we normally think about doubt and faith while showing that in their quest for certainty and the proofs to declare it thinkers on either side of the God divide are often closer to one another than they would like to think      Essays Anglican and Analytic Robert MacSwain,2025-04-17 Explore the riches at the intersection of Anglican and philosophical theology In this thought provoking essay collection Robert MacSwain explores important connections between Anglican and philosophical theology Shining a spotlight on the underappreciated theological work of Austin Farrer and David Brown he brings them into creative conversation with better known figures such as Joseph Butler C S Lewis Stanley Hauerwas and Eleonore Stump He skillfully leads readers through diverse conceptual territory ranging from the Reformed epistemology of Alvin Plantinga and Nicholas Wolterstorff to the hiddenness argument of J L Schellenberg to a sacramental vision of human culture and the arts More broadly MacSwain outlines what he calls Critical Catholicism explaining how it differs from other movements in contemporary Christian thought such as Radical Orthodoxy and Analytic Theology These perceptive essays will be of particular interest to scholars and pastors who are curious about connections between theology philosophy and Anglican studies      A Middle Way to God Garth L. Hallett,2000-05-25 Charting a middle way between the extremes represented by Alvin Plantinga and Richard Swinburne Garth Hallett explores the thesis that if belief in other minds is rational and true as it surely is so too is belief in God He makes a strong case that when this parity claim is appropriately restricted to a single sound other minds belief belief in God and belief in other minds do prove epistemically comparable This result and the distinctive path that leads to it will interest students and scholars in philosophy of religion and theology
