Global Network Computers In A Sustainable Society:

Global Network John Edward Young,1993 Discusses the role of computers in predicting or identifying environmental problems as well as in producing technologies capable of reducing industrial pollution and or preserving ecosystems

Computers and the Environment: Understanding and Managing their Impacts R. Kuehr,Eric Williams,2012-12-06 Personal computers have made life convenient in many ways but what about their impacts on the environment due to production use and disposal Manufacturing computers requires prodigious quantities of fossil fuels toxic chemicals and water Rapid improvements in performance mean we often buy a new machine every 1 3 years which adds up to mountains of waste computers How should societies respond to manage these environmental impacts This volume addresses the environmental impacts and management of computers through a set of analyses on issues ranging from environmental assessment technologies for recycling consumer behaviour strategies of computer manufacturing firms and government policies One conclusion is that extending the lifespan of computers e g through reselling is an environmentally and economically effective strategy that deserves more attention from governments firms and the general public

Computers in Society Kathryn Schellenberg,1995-11 Bridging the Global Digital Divide Jeffrey James,2003-01-01 According to many observers the global digital divide the extent to which information technology is benefiting developed as opposed to developing countries has already established itself as the single most pervasive theme of the twenty first century The purpose of this book is to explore some of the ways in which this divide can be overcome both within and between nations Employing a rigorous analytical framework the author bases his analysis on the concept of international technological dualism He argues that one possible solution to the problem is the availability of affordable technologies such as low cost computers which are specifically designed for the income levels and socio economic conditions of developing countries He also emphasizes that the most important aim of any policy measure should be to provide universal access to information technologies rather than individual ownership Depending on whether or not this divide can be bridged will to a large degree determine whether developing countries are able to attain higher levels of productivity prosperity and global integration
