Globalization And Development Themes And Concepts In Current Research:

Globalization and Development Don Kalb, Wil Pansters, Hans Siebers, 2004-06-24 This book is a collective effort by researchers affiliated with the CERES Research School in Development Studies in the Netherlands. These experts discuss themes and concepts crucial to the overlapping fields of globalization and development research. Individual chapters examine the notions and issues of globalization, livelihood, identity, governance, transnationalism, and knowledge. Globalization, Regional Development and Local Response Leendert Andrew de Bell, 2005 In a world that has become increasingly interconnected over the past decades, economically, politically, socially, and culturally, new challenges are posed to development. Since the 1980s, development has increasingly become interpreted in terms of increasing integration into the world economy. Export-oriented manufacturing became widely viewed as the surest recipe for realizing economic growth while reducing income inequality, and the role of foreign direct investments became increasingly important in development strategies worldwide. However, not every region, industry, and social group managed to become successfully integrated into the world economy. In order to explain why these processes of economic restructuring have had such a differential impact, this study situates developments within a wider historical, social, and political context to establish how these processes of globalization are mediated at the regional and local level. The main object of study concerns the drastic socioeconomic transformation that has taken place in the state of Coahuila, situated in the northeast of Mexico, bordering the United States, over the past three decades. In particular, since the start of NAFTA in 1994, Coahuila has become one of Mexico's most successful export-oriented manufacturing states, most importantly as a result of the large number of foreign direct investments it received. However, the effects of these developments have been unevenly distributed among its sub-regions, while questions must also be raised about its ability to contribute to sustained long-term growth with equity. The key issue appears to be not whether but how regions and localities become linked to the world economy. page 4 of cover Migration and Environmental Change in the West African Sahel Victoria van der Land, 2017-10-12 The West African Sahel is predicted to be heavily affected by climate change in the future. Slow-onset environmental changes such as increasing rainfall variability and rising temperature are presumed to worsen the livelihood conditions and to increase the out-migration from the affected regions. Based on qualitative and quantitative data from study areas in Mali and Senegal, this book examines the relationship between population dynamics, livelihoods, and environment in the Sahel region, focussing specifically on motives for migration. Critiquing the assumption that environmental stress is the dominating migration driver, the author demonstrates the important role of individual aspirations and social processes such as educational opportunities and the pull of urban lifestyles. In doing so, the book provides a more nuanced picture of the environment-migration nexus, arguing that slow-onset environmental changes may actually be less important as drivers of migration in the Sahel than they are often depicted in the media and climate change literature. This is a valuable resource for academics and students of environmental sociology migration and development studies The arena of everyday life Carja Butijn, Johan van Ophem, Gerda Casimir, 2013-05-30 In The arena of everyday life nine authors look back and forward at developments in the sociology of consumers and households. Nine chapters show variety in the employed methods from multivariate analyses of survey data to classical essays. The contributions are organised around four themes. In the first theme two chapters entail a critical discussion of the concepts livelihood and household. The second part deals with health in particular food security hygiene and aids HIV. The third theme focuses on female opportunities to foster income procurement of household by respectively microfinance and entrepreneurship. The fourth theme concentrates on two topical societal developments in a Western society: the first chapter dealing with the issue of creating opportunities for tailor made services to older people; the second one focussing on the home work balance of telecommuters. This publication written by international researchers once supervised by prof Anke Niehof while writing their PhD dissertation or former colleagues of Niehof covers the many issues and reflecting her work and interest. The arena of everyday life is what her research and teaching evolved around as shown in this book.

Value and Worthlessness Don Kalb, 2025-01-01 Advocating for an interdisciplinary Marxist anthropology of the present, this book uses historical and global anthropology to engage with history theory, unevenness and comparison while using global ethnography and hidden histories as the keys to social discovery. Kalb's anthropology of value and worthlessness lays bare the logics that currently produce right wing populist and nationalist outcomes. The book also battles with the anthropology of global systems, financialization and the seductive myths of global middle class formation while assessing the theoretical legacies of Eric Wolf, David Graeber, David Harvey, Jonathan Friedman, Marcel Mauss and moral anthropology among others.

The Palm Oil Controversy in Southeast Asia Oliver Pye, Jayati Bhattacharya, 2013 This book is a compilation of papers first presented at the workshop The palm oil controversy in transnational perspective that took place in Singapore 2-4 March 2009. The workshop was jointly organized by the Institute of Oriental and Asian Studies, Rheinische Friedrich Wilhelms Universität at Bonn and the Institute of Southeast Asian Studies (ISEAS) Singapore. It was funded by Asia Europe Foundation (ASEF). Preface

Mobility and Migration Choices Martin van der Velde, Ton van Naerssen, 2016-03-03 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities. This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration. Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes. This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs: the individual's mindset about migrating, the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there. Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves. The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether, when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility Making a Living between Crises and Ceremonies in Tana Toraja Edwin B.P. de Jong, 2013-06-07 Making a Living between Crisis and Ceremonies offers an account on the practice of everyday life of the Torajan people both in the highlands of Tana Toraja South Sulawesi Indonesia and elsewhere Makassar Jakarta Maleisi Somalia Abdulkadir O. Farah, 2007-03-31 Since the final collapse of Somalia's repressive regime in 1991 Somalia has presented the world not only with the most profound case of state collapse witnessed in modern times but also with one of the most intriguing cases of political fragmentation armed conflicts lawlessness and statelessness Inevitably the last 20 years of statelessness and chaos has left the Somali economy destitute and made Somalia to be ranked among the five poorest countries in the world Contributors to this volume examine efforts at reconstituting the failed Somali state and the role of the Somali Diaspora and civil society groups in the processes They also analyse how the Somali Diaspora and civil society in Somalia engage and cooperate to further processes of state reconstitution in Somalia as well as help the Somali Diaspora adjust in their host nations Artisanal Fishers on the Kenyan Coast Jan C. Hoorweg, Barasa Wangila, A. Allan Degen, 2009 Overexploitation of natural resources is often associated with poverty among local populations A multi disciplinary team studied artisanal fishers along the Kenyan coast on the Indian Ocean The main focus of the research was on income diversification of fishers the pressure on marine resources and the relation between the two Income diversification did not reduce the pressure on the marine environment Rather indications are that many part time fishers are entering the profession Moreover fishers with alternative employment stayed in shore and used damaging gear more often Policies to stimulate employment opportunities for coastal communities cannot be expected to lessen the pressure on marine resources and need to be planned carefully in terms of industry location labour requirements and degree of coastal pollution Destination Africa, 2021-07-05 This work challenges received ideas of Africa as a marginal continent and place of exodus by considering the continent as a centre of global connectivity and confluence Flows of people goods and investments towards Africa have increased and diversified over recent decades In light of these changes the contributions analyse new actors in such diverse fields as education trade infrastructure and tourism They show the historicity of many current mobilities towards Africa and investigate questions of agency and power in shaping encounters between Africans and others in Africa today In this way the volume contributes significantly to debates on Africa's position in global mobility dynamics and provides a firm basis for further research Contributors are G rard Amougou Alice Aterianus Owanga Eric Burton Jean Fr d ric de Hasque Mayke Kaag Guive Khan Mohammad Fabien Nkot Miriam Adelina Ocádiz Arriaga Ute R schenthaler Alexandra Samokhvalova Stefan Schmid Sophia Thubauville Di Wu Engaged

Violent Conversion Linda van de Kamp, 2016 Examines Pentecostal conversion as a force of change revealing new insights into its dominant role in global Christianity today There has been an extraordinary growth in Pentecostalism in Africa with Brazilian Pentecostals establishing new transnational Christian connections initiating widespread changes not only in religious practice but in society This book describes its rise in Maputo capital of Mozambique and the sometimes dramatic impact of Pentecostalism on women Here large numbers of urban women are taking advantage of the opportunities Pentecostalism offers to overcome restrictions at home pioneer new life spaces and change their lives through the power of the Holy Spirit Yet conversion can also mean a violent rupturing with tradition with family and with social networks As the pastors encourage women to cut their ties with the past including ancestral spirits they come to see their kin and husbands as imbued with evil powers and many leave their families Conquering spheres that used to be forbidden to them they often live alone as unmarried women sometimes earning more than men of a similar age They are also expected to donate huge sums to the churches often money that they can ill afford bringing new hardships Linda van de Kamp is Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology University of Amsterdam The Netherlands New Ecoinformatics Tools in Environmental Science Vladimir F. Krapivin, Costas A. Varotsos, Vladimir Yu. Soldatov, 2015-01-24 This book provides new insights on the study of global environmental changes using the ecoinformatics tools and the adaptive evolutionary technology of geoinformation monitoring The main advantage of this book is that it gathers and presents extensive interdisciplinary expertise in the parameterization of global biogeochemical cycles and other environmental processes in the context of globalization and sustainable development In this regard the crucial global problems concerning the dynamics of the nature society system are considered and the key problems of ensuring the system s sustainable development are studied A new approach to the numerical modeling of the nature society system is proposed and results are provided on modeling the dynamics of the system s characteristics with regard to scenarios of anthropogenic impacts on biogeochemical cycles land ecosystems and oceans The main purpose of this book is to develop a universal guide to information modeling technologies for assessing the function of environmental subsystems under various climatic and anthropogenic conditions To

Subsidise My Income Dick Foeken,2006-07-01 Urban agriculture in sub Saharan Africa has gained momentum in recent years in terms of research and policy as well as in practical terms The paradox of accelerated urbanisation and the increase in urban agriculture in developing countries is widely recognised More than ever before urban residents all over the developing world are cultivating urban plots and or keeping animals to sustain their livelihoods This volume looks at urban farming in the Kenyan town of Nakuru and is based on surveys and in depth studies carried out by various researchers including Kenyan Masters students It considers farming techniques the socio economic aspects of urban farming and the environmental issues involved and there is also a chapter on school farming Specific attention is paid to urban farming in relation to poverty with the conclusion being that those who depend on urban agriculture the most are in fact benefiting the least from it ReThinking the City Vincent Kaufmann,2016-04-01 Conditions for travel have changed and are still changing the world a world experiencing what John Urry calls the mobility turn Since World War Two we have been moving faster and going further a fact that has profoundly changed our way of experiencing both the world and ourselves The explosion of low cost travel options has similarly had an important impact on the economy adding to the globalization of markets and transformations in modes of production It is no longer possible to think of nation states as autonomous vis a vis one another nor of cities or regions as homogenous spaces delimited by clear cut borders Societies like Western cities are redefining themselves through mobility What does this mean for the city for its governability and governance In this book Vincent Kaufmann assesses the urban implications of the mobility turn He explores the modern urban phenomenon from the point of view of the mobility capacities of its players their motility He asks that the reader consider the idea of a city or region as the product or an arrangement of a specific set of motilities Re Thinking the City seeks to identify how the motility of individuals goods and information acts as an organizing principle or rather the organizing principle of contemporary urban change and then aims to examine the consequences for urban governance by exploring the channels through which individual and collective motility can be regulated Generations in Africa Erdmute Alber,Sjaak van der Geest,Susan Reynolds Whyte,2008 Though long neglected in anthropological research the connections and conflicts between generations are at the heart of social processes In this book sixteen studies examine relations between generations of kin and between historical and political generations The topics range from grandmother s cooking migrant remittances youth unemployment teenage pregnancy Valentine s Day and hip hop music to respect religious virtue gerontocracy memory wisdom complaint and the meaning of tradition Together they reinvigorate and expand the old anthropological interest in generation showing how necessary it is to understanding contemporary African societies NGOs and Lifeworlds in Africa Melina C. Kalfelis, Kathrin Knodel, 2021-06-11 Non governmental organizations NGOs have become ubiquitous in the development sector in Africa and attracting more academic attention However the fact that NGOs are an integral part of the everyday lives of men and women on the continent has been overlooked thus far In Africa NGOs are not remote but familiar players situated in the midst of cities and communities By taking a radical empirical stance this book studies NGOs as a vital part of the lifeworlds of Africans Its contributions are immersed in the pasts presents and futures of personal encounters memories decision making and politics The History of Labour Intermediation Sigrid Wadauer, Thomas Buchner, Alexander Mejschke, 2015-04-01 Searching for a job has been an everyday affair in both modern and past societies and employment a concern for both individuals and institutions The case studies in this volume investigate job search and placement practices in European countries Australia and India in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The contributors explore how looking for work becomes a means by which participants individuals placement agents trade unions municipalities administrations state authorities and schools articulated specific interests perspectives and agendas Taking an exploratory approach the chapters illustrate different approaches to the history of employment and job searching ranging from organizational and regulatory histories to the analysis of practices and autobiographical accounts In the process they uncover the interrelations of search practices and attempts to arrange placement services Households in Context Caitlín Eilís Barrett, Jennifer Carrington, 2024-01-15 Households in Context shifts the focus from monumental temples tombs and elite material and visual culture to households and domestic life to provide a crucial new perspective on everyday dwelling practices and the interactions of families and individuals with larger social and cultural structures A focus on households reveals the power of the everyday the critical role of quotidian experiences objects and images in creating the worlds of the people who live with them The contributors to this book share contemporary research on houses and households in both Ptolemaic and Roman Egypt to reshape the ways we think about ancient people s lived experiences of family community and society Households in Context places the archaeology and history of Greco Roman Egypt in dialogue with research on dwelling daily practice and materiality to reveal how ancient households functioned as laboratories for social political economic and religious change Contributors Youssri Abdelwahed Richard Alston Anna Lucille Boozer Paola Davoli David Frankfurter Jennifer Gates Foster Melanie Godsey Darlene L Brooks Hedstrom Sabine R Huebner Gregory Marouard Miriam M ller Lisa Nevett B rang re Redon Bethany Simpson Ross I Thomas Dorothy J Thompson
