Globalizing Roman Culture Unity Diversity And Empire:

Globalizing Roman culture [Electronic book] Richard Hingley, 2005 What is Romanisation Hingley argues for a more complex and nuanced view in which Roman models provided the means for provincial elites to articulate their own concerns

A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Republic Jane DeRose Evans, 2013-03-29 A Companion to the Archaeology of the Roman Republic offers a diversity of perspectives to explore how differing approaches and methodologies can contribute to a greater understanding of the formation of the Roman Republic Brings together the experiences and ideas of archaeologists from around the world with multiple backgrounds and areas of interest Offers a vibrant exploration of the ways in which archaeological methods can be used to explore different elements of the Roman Republican period Demonstrates that the Republic was not formed in a vacuum but was influenced by non Latin speaking cultures from throughout the Mediterranean region Enables archaeological thinking in this area to be made accessible both to a more general audience and as a valuable addition to existing discourse Investigates the archaeology of the Roman Republican period with reference to material culture landscape technology identity and empire

The Edges of the Roman World Staša Babić, Marko Jankovic, 2014-06-12 The Edges of the Roman World is a volume consisting of seventeen papers dealing with different approaches to cultural changes that occurred in the context of Roman imperial politics Papers are mainly focused on societies on the fringes both social and geographical and their response to Roman Imperialism This volume is not a textbook but rather a collection of different approaches which address the same problem of Roman Imperialism in local contexts The volume is greatly inspired by the first Imperialism and Identities at the Edges of the Roman World conference held at the Petnica Science Center in 2012

The Archaeology of Imperial Landscapes Bleda S. Düring, Tessa D. Stek, 2018-03-29 The Archaeology of Imperial Landscapes examines the transformation of rural landscapes and societies that formed the backbone of ancient empires in the Near East and Mediterranean Through a comparative approach to archaeological data it analyses the patterns of transformation in widely differing imperial contexts in the ancient world Bringing together a range of studies by an international team of scholars the volume shows that empires were dynamic diverse and experimental polities and that their success or failure was determined by a combination of forceful interventions as well as the new possibilities for those dominated by empires to collaborate and profit from doing so By highlighting the processes that occur in rural and peripheral landscapes the volume demonstrates that the archaeology of these non urban and literally eccentric spheres can provide an important contribution to our understanding of ancient empires The bottom up approach to the study of ancient empires is crucial to understanding how these remarkable socio political organisms could exist and persist

Nile into Tiber: Egypt in the Roman World Laurent Bricault, Miguel John Versluys, Paul G.P. Meyboom, 2006-12-01 Interest in all kinds of interactions between Egypt and Rome has grown considerably over the last decade This debate has not only altered our views on the impact of Rome on Alexandria and Egypt but also strongly put to the fore the reverse direction of this cultural interaction Egyptian influences on the Roman world It is this topic Egypt in the Roman World that was central to the IIIrd International Conference of Isis Studies held in Leiden in May 2005 This book a selection of the papers delivered at the conference gives a clear overview of the debate as it has developed in recent years In two parts I Interpretations of the meaning of Aegyptiaca Romana and II Understanding the cults of Isis in their local context preceded by a general introduction it offers a broad perspective on the various aspects of cultural interaction between Egypt and Rome also by bringing together different research traditions in this field SpaceTime of the Imperial Holt

Decolonizing Roman Imperialism Danielle Hyeonah

Lambert, 2024-10-17 The framework of Romanization developed by Haverfield in 1905 that Romans civilized their imperial subjects particularly those in the barbarian western provinces remains hegemonic notwithstanding multiple attempts at revisionism It has been reasserted rejected or modified but still frames the debate Decolonizing Roman Imperialism investigates how the postcolonial challenge to decolonize the production of historical knowledge has motivated Roman scholars to question the paradigm of Romanization to review its historiography to seek fresh approaches and to rewrite it The book provides an intellectual genealogy of the debate valuable for every student of the Roman Empire and of Roman Britain and invites them to rethink the legacy of ancient Roman imperialism

Handbook of Ancient Afro-Eurasian Economies

Sitta von Reden, 2021-12-20 The second volume of the Handbook describes different extractive economies in the world regions that have been outlined in the first volume A wide range of economic actors from kings and armies to cities and producers are discussed within different imperial settings as well as the tools which enabled and constrained economic outcomes A central focus are nodes of consumption that are visible in the archaeological and textual records of royal capitals cities religious centers and armies that were stationed in some cases permanently in imperial frontier zones Complementary to the multipolar concentrations of consumption are the fiscal tributary structures of the empires vis vis other institutions that had the capacity to extract mobilize and concentrate resources and wealth Larger volumes of state issued coinage in various metals show the new role of coinage in taxation local economic activities and social practices even where textual evidence is absent Given the overwhelming importance of agriculture the volume also analyses forms of agrarian development especially around cities and in imperial frontier zones Special consideration is given to road and water management systems for which there is now sufficient archaeological and documentary evidence to enable cross disciplinary comparative research

Rome

Greg Woolf, 2021-06-19 Rome A Empire s Story traces a millennium and a half of Roman history from the first Iron Age settlements around the Tiber bend to the Arab Invasions that shattered the unity of the Mediterranean World In chapters that alternate narrative and thematic discussions it presents the most recent research on topics from slavery to environmental change The first edition was successful in classrooms and for general readers This second edition is completely revised and updated and includes expanded discussions of material culture and late antiquity

Global

Classics Jacques A. Bromberg, 2021-04-11 What makes Classics global and what does it mean to study the ancient world globally How can the study of antiquity contribute to our understanding of pressing global issues Global Classics addresses these questions by pursuing a transdisciplinary dialogue between Classics and Global Studies Authoritative and engaging this book provides the first field wide synthesis of the recent global turn in Classics as well as a comprehensive overview of an emerging field in ancient studies Through focused readings of ancient sources and modern scholarship the author introduces readers to three key paradigms that are essential to research and teaching in global antiquities transborder transhistorical and transdisciplinary Global Classics will appeal to educators students and scholars interested in the application of globalization theories and paradigms in ancient studies in globalizing their teaching and research and in approaches to contemporary global issues through the study of the remote past Sport in the Cultures of the Ancient World Zinon Papakonstantinou, 2013-09-13 Sport has been practised in the Greco Roman world at least since the second millennium BC It was socially integrated and was practised in the context of ceremonial performances physical education and established local and international competitions including most famously the Olympic Games In recent years the continuous re assessment of old and new evidence in conjunction with the development of new methodological perspectives have created the need for a fresh examination of central aspects of ancient sport in a single volume This book fills that gap in ancient sport scholarship When did the ancient Olympics begin How is sport depicted in the work of the fifth century historian Herodotus What was the association between sport and war in fifth and fourth century BC Athens What were the social and political implications of the practice of Greek style sport in third century BC Ptolemaic Egypt How were Roman gladiatorial shows perceived and transformed in the Greek speaking east And what were the conditions of sport participation by boys and girls in ancient Rome These are some of the questions that this book written by an international cast of distinguished scholars on ancient sport attempts to answer Covering a wide chronological and geographical scope ancient Mediterranean from the early first millennium BC to fourth century AD individual articles re examine old and new evidence and offer stimulating original interpretations of key aspects of ancient sport in its political military cultural social ceremonial and ideological setting This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport The Individual in the Religions of the Ancient Mediterranean Jörg Rüpke, 2013-08-29 Ancient religions are usually treated as collective and political phenomena and apart from a few towering figures the individual religious agent has fallen out of view Addressing this gap the essays in this volume focus on the individual and individuality in ancient Mediterranean religion Even in antiquity individual religious action was not determined by traditional norms handed down through families and the larger social context but rather options were open and choices were made On the part of the individual this development is reflected in changes in individuation the parallel process of a gradual full integration into society and the development of self reflection and of a notion of individual identity These processes are analysed within the Hellenistic and Imperial periods down to Christian dominated late antiquity in both pagan polytheistic as well as Jewish monotheistic settings The volume focuses on individuation in everyday religious practices in Phoenicia various Greek cities and Rome and as identified in institutional developments and philosophical reflections on the self as exemplified by the Stoic Seneca War and Warfare in Late Antiquity (2 vols.) ,2013-08-19 This two volume publication explores the key factors determining the course and outcome of war in Late Antiquity Volume 8 1 includes a detailed review of strategic and tactical issues and eight comprehensive bibliographic essays which provide an overview of the literature In Volume 8 2 thematic papers examine strategy and intelligence fortifications and siege warfare weaponry and equipment literary sources and topography and civil war while papers focused on particular geographic regions home in on war and warfare in the West Roman Empire in the 4th and 5th centuries and the Balkans and the Eastern frontier in the 4th to 7th centuries AD Contributors are Susannah Belcher Neil Christie Ian Colvin John Conyard Jon Coulston Jim Crow Florin Curta Hugh Elton James Howard Johnston Jordi Galbany Jordi Gu rdia John Haldon Michel Kazanski Maria Kouroumali Michael Kulikowski Christopher Lillington Martin Marta Maragall Oriol Mercadal Jordi Nadal Oriol Olesti Alexander Sarantis Conor Whately Michael Whitby and John Wilkes

Beyond Reception Patrick Baker,Johannes Helmrath,Craig Kallendorf,2019-04-01 Beyond Reception applies a new concept for analyzing cultural change known as transformation the study of Renaissance humanism Traditional scholarship takes the Renaissance humanists at their word that they were simply viewing the ancient world as it actually was and recreating its key features within their own culture Initially modern studies in the classical tradition accepted this claim and saw this process as largely passive Transformation theory emphasizes the active role played by the receiving culture both in constructing a vision of the past and in transforming that vision into something that was a meaningful part of the later culture A chapter than explains the terminology and workings of transformation theory is followed by essays by nine established experts that suggest how the key disciplines of grammar rhetoric history poetry and philosophy in the Renaissance represent transformations of what went on in these fields in ancient Greece and Rome The picture that emerges suggests that Renaissance humanism as it was actually practiced both received and transformed the classical past at the same time as it constructed a vision of that past that still resonates today Byzantium, Its Neighbours and Its Cultures Danijel Dzino,Ken Parry,2014-01-01 Byzantium was one of the longest lasting empires in history Throughout the millennium of its existence the empire showed its capability to change and develop under very different historical circumstances This remarkable resilience would have been impossible to achieve without the formation of a lasting imperial culture and a strong imperial ideological infrastructure Imperial culture and ideology required among other things to sort out who was insider and who was outsider and develop ways to define and describe ones neighbours and interact with them There is an indefinite number of possibilities for the exploration of relationships between Byzantium and its neighbours The essays in this collection focus on several interconnected clusters of topics and shared research interests such as the place of neighbours in the context of the empire and imperial ideology the transfer of knowledge with neighbours the Byzantine perception of their neighbours and the political relationship and or the conflict with neighbours
