and Politicians in American Film Phillip L. Gianos, 1998-01-26 Films have been a part of U S society for a century a source of great enjoyment for the audience and of great profit to filmmakers How does a mass entertainment medium deal with some of the great sources of dramatic real life political and economic conflict the Great Depression the Cold War in a way that attracts an audience without making it angry How does an industry which has from its beginnings been the subject of attacks from social political and religious groups deal with political issues and conflicts This book is an attempt to examine these questions it is also an examination of some of the greatest and most interesting American films ever made westerns gangster films comedies war films satires and film biographies to see what American films say about politics and politicians and what these films in turn say about the audience for which they were produced Sparta's German Children Helen Roche, 2013-12-31 From the eighteenth century until 1945 German children were taught to model themselves on the young of an Ancient Greek city state Sparta From older children from teachers in the classroom and from higher authority first in Prussia then in Imperial and National Socialist Germany came images of Sparta designed to inculcate ideals of endurance discipline and of military self sacrifice Identification with Sparta could also be used to justify ideas of domination over Germany's eastern neighbours Helen Roche is the first to examine this still sensitive topic systematically and in depth She collects and analyses official and published German evocations of Sparta but also and remarkably reconstructs the experiences of German children taught to be little Spartans in the Prussian Cadet Corps and National Socialist elite schools the Napolas In treating the final and gravest period of this process the author has personally collected testimony from numerous surviving German witnesses who attended the Napolas as children in the early 1940s That testimony is presented here in a work which is likely to proof definitive not only for its treasury of new information but for its elegant and humane From Hanoi to Hollywood Linda Dittmar, Gene Michaud, 1990 This volume is about power It is about the power analysis to make war and to destroy lives It is also about another kind of power the power to make images that may distort displace and destroy knowledge of the times in which those lives were lived Many of the nineteen essays gathered in this volume are about the interrelationships between these two types of power They demonstrate as well yet another type of power the power of critical thinking to challenge dangerous myths and to confront prevailing ideologies. The title of this anthology calls attention to the process whereby aspects of the Vietnam War have been appropriated by the American cultural industry Probing the large body of emotion laden controversial films From Hanoi to Hollywood is concerned with the retelling of history and the retrospection that such a process involves In this anthology an awareness of film as a cultural artifact that molds beliefs and guides action is emphasized an awareness that the contributors bring to a variety of films Their essays span over one hundred documentary and fiction films and include in depth analyses of major commercial films ranging from Apocalypse Now to Platoon Rambo First Blood Part II and Full Metal Jacket and documentaries from In the Year of the Pig to Dear America Letters Home from Vietnam The essays in this volume deal with representations of the Vietnam war in documentary film and television reporting examining the ways the power of film is used to deliver political messages There are surprises here new readings and important insights on the ways we as a society have attempted to come to terms with the experiences of the Vietnam era The book also contains two appendixes a detailed chronology charting the relationship between major historical events and the release of American war films from 1954 through 1988 and a filmography listing information on over four hundred American and foreign films about the Vietnam War Looking Back From Ninety Daniel Ford, 2021-10-26 A remarkable memoir of growing up poor during the Great Depression and the Second World War Dan Ford was the first member of his family to go to college working his way and winning the occasional scholarship Next came four years in Europe as a student vagabond soldier and newspaperman then a hard patch while he struggled to establish himself as a writer These were he recalls America's golden years from triumph in one war to humiliation in another 1945 1975 Now in his 90th year he has chronicled a life that could have happened only in America Catalogue of Title-entries of Books and Other Articles Entered in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington, Under the Copyright Law ... Paul Holsinger, Mary Anne Schofield, 1992 For Americans World War II was a good war a war that was worth fighting Even as the conflict was underway a myriad of both fictional and nonfictional books began to appear examining one or another of the raging battles. Schulzinger, 2006-08-15 The Vietnam War left wounds that have taken three decades to heal indeed some scars remain even today In A Time for Peace prominent American historian Robert D Schulzinger sheds light on how deeply etched memories of this devastating conflict have altered America's political social and cultural landscape Schulzinger examines the impact of the war from many angles He traces the long twisted and painful path of reconciliation with Vietnam the heated controversy over soldiers who were missing in action the influx of over a million Vietnam refugees into the US and the plight of Vietnam veterans many of whom returned home alienated unhappy and unappreciated Schulzinger looks at how the controversies of the war have continued to be fought in books and films and perhaps most important he explores the power of the Vietnam metaphor on foreign policy particularly in Central America Somalia the Gulf War and the war in Iraq Using a vast array of sources A Time for Peace provides an illuminating account of a war that still looms large in the American imagination Masculine Identities Herbert Sussman, 2012-03-14 This book provides an intriguing look at the long history of the changing definitions of what it means to be a man identifying both the continuity and disparity in these ideals and explaining the contemporary crisis of masculinity In the classical Athens of Plato and Pericles erotic relations between adolescents and adult men what we now revile as pedophilia was the marker of manliness a clear example of how concepts of masculinity shift Even within modern western society there are conflicting ideals for men they are expected to be both aggressive and unemotional in business and sensitive and caring as a father and lover Masculine Identities The History and Meanings of Manliness provides a comprehensive consideration of what being a man has meant over time A fascinating read for men and women alike it examines masculine identities that emerged in the past and continue into the present such as the warrior the democratic man the craftsman the self made man of business as well as ethnic forms of manliness The work concludes by examining the contemporary issues of male sexuality same sex identity and the conflicts within men in the modern world
