eventful and complex history dating back to the 8th century CE and originating in the Shi'i tradition of Islam. During the medieval period, Ismailis of different regions especially in central Asia, south Asia, Iran, and Syria developed and elaborated their own distinctive literary and intellectual traditions which have made an outstanding contribution to the culture of Islam as a whole. At the same time, the Ismailis in the Middle Ages split into two main groups who followed different spiritual leaders. The bulk of the Ismailis came to have a line of imams now represented by the Aga Khans, while a smaller group known in south Asia as the Bohras developed their own type of leadership. This collection is the first scholarly attempt to survey the modern history of both Ismaili groupings since the middle of the 19th century. It covers a variety of topical issues and themes such as the modernising policies of the Aga Khans and also includes original studies of regional developments in Ismaili communities worldwide. The contributors focus too on how the Ismailis as a religious community have responded to the twin challenges of modernity and emigration to the West. A Modern History of the Ismailis will be welcomed as the most complete assessment yet published of the recent trajectory of this fascinating and influential Shi'i community.

Islam in South Asia Jamal Malik, 2008. Islamic South Asia has become a focal point in academia. Where did Muslims come from? How did they fare in interacting with Hindu cultures? How did they negotiate identity as ruling and ruled minorities and majorities? Part I covers early Muslim expansion and the formative phase in context of initial cultural encounter, approx. 700-1300. Part II views the establishment of Muslim empire, cultures oscillating between Islamic and Islamicate, centralised and regionalised power, approx. 1300-1700. Part III is composed in the backdrop of regional centralisation, territoriality and colonial rule, displaying processes of integration and differentiation of Muslim cultures in colonial setting, approx. 1700-1930. Tensions between Muslim pluralism and singularity evolving in public sphere make up the fourth cluster, approx. 1930-2002.
