The Dark Fantastic Ebony Elizabeth Thomas, 2020-09-22 Winner 2022 Children's Literature Association Book Award given by the Children's Literature Association Winner 2020 World Fantasy Awards Winner 2020 British Fantasy Awards Nonfiction Finalist Creative Nonfiction IGNYTE Award given by FIYACON for BIPOC in Speculative Fiction Reveals the diversity crisis in children's and young adult media as not only a lack of representation but a lack of imagination Stories provide portals into other worlds both real and imagined The promise of escape draws people from all backgrounds to speculative fiction but when people of color seek passageways into the fantastic the doors are often barred This problem lies not only with children's publishing but also with the television and film executives tasked with adapting these stories into a visual world When characters of color do appear they are often marginalized or subjected to violence reinforcing for audiences that not all lives matter The Dark Fantastic is an engaging and provocative exploration of race in popular youth and young adult speculative fiction Grounded in her experiences as YA novelist fanfiction writer and scholar of education Thomas considers four black girl protagonists from some of the most popular stories of the early 21st century Bonnie Bennett from the CW's The Vampire Diaries Rue from Suzanne Collins's The Hunger Games Gwen from the BBC's Merlin and Angelina Johnson from J K Rowling's Harry Potter Analyzing their narratives and audience reactions to them reveals how these characters mirror the violence against black and brown people in our own world In response Thomas uncovers and builds upon a tradition of fantasy and radical imagination in Black feminism and Afrofuturism to reveal new possibilities Through fanfiction and other modes of counter storytelling young people of color have reinvisioned fantastic worlds that reflect their own experiences their own lives As Thomas powerfully asserts we dark girls deserve more because we are more Anti-Portraits: Poetics of the Face in Modern English, Polish and Russian Literature (1835-1965) Kamila Pawlikowska,2015-10-05 Anti Portraits Poetics of the Face in Modern English Polish and Russian Literature 1835 1965 is a study of a physiognomic descriptions of the face It demonstrates that writers such as George Eliot Leo Tolstoy Edgar Allan Poe Nicolay Gogol Virginia Woolf and Witold Gombrowicz vigorously resisted the belief that facial features reflect character While other studies tend to focus on descriptions which affirm physiognomy this book examines portraits which question popular face reading systems and contravene their common premise the surface depth principle Such portraits reveal that physiognomic formula is a cultural construct invented to abridge organise and regulate legibility of the human face Most importantly strange and unreadable fictional faces frequently expose the connection between physiognomic judgement and stereotyping prejudice and racism The Road to Kamji Mark Swinbank,2014-12-09 It was after my last fifth visit to Bhutan that I felt compelled to express my thoughts about the country I had come to love I knew that words would be inadequate to describe my precise feelings about this most special of places as such deep seated feelings are almost impossible to express In the expression however I knew that the emotion would come out and I make no apology for that for this is in so many ways a love letter I shall be forever grateful that I have been privileged beyond measure to travel to such a unique country to mingle amongst its special people to experience their smiles to make friends and to see the mountain vistas that only the Himalayas can provide It is a very personal journey a diary of journeys in part a drawstring for my life as a whole and my exploration of how faraway places closer to home perhaps spring boarded the leap to the last Shangri La In sharing those experiences I hope to inspire in the reader s mind that final spur needed for them to make this journey themselves A journey that needs to and indeed should be taken the eastern Himalayas are calling Visual Allusions Nicholas Wade,2017-03-27 In this book a leading researcher and artist explores how we see pictures and how they can communicate messages to us both directly and indirectly by making allusions to objects in space or to stored images in our minds Originally published in 1990 Dr Wade provides fascinating examples of pictures that communicate hidden messages either by implying something else or by a shape or portrait which is carried covertly within another design He analyses image processing stages in vision demonstrating that the various stages may be related to styles in representational art He shows how the way we have been taught to look at and recognise objects affects the way we see them The book lavishly illustrates with original examples of visual allusions and includes detailed practical advice on how photographers and designers can create them Essential reading for photographers designers artists people in film and television and anyone involved in visual science visual communication and advertising Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine ,1857 The London Encyclopaedia; Or, Universal Dictionary of Science, Art, Literature and Practical Mechanics ,1829 The London Encyclopaedia ,1829 The London encyclopaedia, or, Universal dictionary of science, art, literature, and
