Land Policies and Evolving Farm Structures in Transition Countries Zvi Lerman, Csaba Csáki, Gershon Feder, 2002

Farm Policy Perspectives, 1984

Transformation of Agriculture in Central Eastern Europe and the Former USSR Csaba Csáki, 1992

The former USSR could become self sufficient in food but in the medium term will probably remain a net agricultural importer if it can persuade exporters to extend credit But Central Eastern European agricultural exports are likely to expand Central Eastern Europe could become a tougher more aggressive player in agriculture principally in the markets for more demanding food products especially pork poultry and fruits and vegetables

Agricultural Policies in Transition Economies 2002 Trends in Policies and Support OECD, 2002-09-30 This tenth edition of Agricultural Policies in Transition Economies shows that the transition has brought about a notable overall reduction in the policy distortions in the agricultural sectors of Bulgaria Estonia Latvia Lithuania Romania Russia and Slovenia

Structural Change in the Farming Sectors in Central and Eastern Europe Csaba Csáki, Zvi Lerman, 2000-01-01 Farm structures in Central and Eastern Europe CEE today cover a whole spectrum of forms which include small subsistence oriented household plots medium sized commercial family farms and large corporations The agricultural sector in CEE definitely has not embraced the family farm as the dominant farming structure thus confounding the original expectations of Western experts On the other hand agriculture did not collapse because of fragmentation and privatization as predicted by conservative doomsayers To address the concerns of the farming sector in CEE with relation to EU accession a workshop was held in Warsaw Poland in June 1999 This volume represents a selection of papers presented at this workshop It examines the reforms and policy changes necessary in the food and agriculture sectors of the ten countries that have started the accession process for eventual membership in the European Union Bulgaria Czech Republic Estonia Hungary Latvia Lithuania Poland Romania Slovakia and Slovenia The papers are organized around the following three topics Evolving farm structures and competitiveness in agriculture Land laws and legal institutions for development of land markets and farm restructuring and Development of farm services for improved competitiveness This volume will be of interest to agricultural policy makers and government officials in the candidate countries EU officials World Bank and FAO staff development scholars and all others interested in the process of agricultural reform in CEE

Formulation of the 1990 Farm Bill United States. Congress. House. Committee on Agriculture, 1990

Public Policy and Agricultural Development Ha-Joon Chang, 2012-06-12 This book critically re examines the currently dominant paradigm of agricultural development policy from historical and comparative perspectives Examining the experiences of 11 developed countries in their earlier stages of development and the experiences of 10 developing and transition economies in the last half a century the book offers an in depth discussion on a range of public policies for agriculture some currently in use and others forgotten in the mist of history After presenting the overarching theoretical framework and a synthesis of findings over the 21 countries examined the book presents six detailed case studies of agricultural policy in the last half a century in two Latin American countries Chile and Mexico two African countries Ethiopia and Ghana and two Asian countries India and Vietnam Each chapter examines a wide range of policies including land policy land tenure reform and land quality improvement knowledge policy research extension education and information credit policy specialized banks and agricultural credit co operatives physical inputs policy irrigation transport electricity and divisible inputs such as fertilizers seeds and farm machinery policies intended to increase farm income stability price stabilization measures insurances and trade protection and policies intended to improve agricultural marketing and processing Through its historical and comparative approaches the book frees our policy imagination by showing that the range of policies and institutions that have produced positive outcomes for agricultural development has been much wider than any particular ideological position be it the pre 1980s statist one or the pro market NCW would admit It also shows that the willingness to experiment with new policies and institutions and the willingness to learn from other countries successes and improve upon their solutions were important in all agricultural success stories Industrial Policies and Structural

Change Christopher Saunders,2015-12-30 Building Market Institutions in Post-communist Agriculture David A. J. Macey,William Pyle,Stephen K. Wegren,2004-01-01 Eurasia emerged from the former Soviet states failed agrarian program poised to be a great power in the new global economy In the late 1980 s post communist states put forth an agrarian reform plan that promised whirlwind institutional change as its goal However these amendments did not unleash the efficiency and productivity that privatization and destatizing seemed to promise Editors David Macey William Pyle and Stephen Wegren along with a host of world leading agrarian analyst and practitioners discuss the shortcoming of post communist agrarian reform and reveal how and why particular policies were or were not adopted Building Market Institutions in Post Communist Agriculture draws on country level case studies to analyze various initiatives undertaken by agricultural economies Contributors use a comparative analytical framework to shed light on the complex universal processes of agrarian transformation that continue to change the social economic and political character of the former Soviet Union The Politics of Hunger John W. Warnock,2019-07-19 Originally published in 1987 This important and provocative book explains the persistence of hunger poverty and the lack of balanced development in many countries and the central role of agriculture in economic development Most theories of agricultural development are based on the experiences of western Europe and the United States while the two models for successful late development have been Japan and the Soviet Union This book surveys the evolution of agriculture under colonialism in Latin America Africa and Asia and concludes that this long period distorted the development prospects for these areas and retarded the production of food Under strong state capitalist governments a few underdeveloped countries have broken the colonial patterns of development However other post revolutionary societies are having far less success because of economic blockades and outside military intervention While the primary focus of the book is on the short run problems of inequality the author examines the long run ecological and resource constraints to a sustainable food system and raising the standard of living in the underdeveloped world

Progress in Agricultural Geography (Routledge Revivals) Michael Pacione,2014-06-03 In the second half of the twentieth century significant changes were occurring within the agricultural industry including an increase in efficiency and government intervention as well as expanded and more complicated patterns of trade This comprehensive volume first published in 1986 reflects how these developments challenged the field of agricultural geography Considering agricultural innovations farming systems government policy and land ownership this title provides an essential background to students with an interest in agricultural methods distribution and reform

Agricultural Finance and Credit Infrastructure in Transition Economies Focus on South Eastern Europe - Proceedings of OECD Expert Meeting, Portoroz, Slovenia, May 2001 OECD,2001-09-24 What has been achieved in rural finance and institutional reform during more than a decade of transition and what challenges remain What are the special needs of South Eastern European countries to attract agricultural credit and finance to

Economic Problems of Agriculture in Industrial Societies G Ugo Papi,Charles C Nunn,1986-11-25 Feeding the World Giovanni Federico,2010-12-16 In the last two centuries agriculture has been an outstanding if somewhat neglected success story Agriculture has fed an ever growing population with an increasing variety of products at falling prices even as it has released a growing number of workers to the rest of the economy This book a comprehensive history of world agriculture during this period explains how these feats were accomplished Feeding the World synthesizes two hundred years of agricultural development throughout the world providing all essential data and extensive references to the literature It covers systematically all the factors that have affected agricultural performance environment accumulation of inputs technical progress institutional change commercialization agricultural policies and more The last chapter discusses the contribution of agriculture to modern economic growth The book is global in its reach and analysis and represents a grand synthesis of an enormous topic

Turning points in economic development Rudolf Biani,2018-11-05 No detailed description available for Turning points in economic development The Political Economy Of Collective Farms Peter Nolan,2019-06-18 This book examines the case for and against collective farms in developing countries Basing his account on a careful analysis of China s rural economy from the 1950s to the 1980s the author argues that collective farms have serious shortcomings and that they are not the most suitable institutional form for rural economic development in poor count

Communist Agriculture Karl-Eugen Wädekin,2004-01-14 A fascinating comparative study of how the agricultural experience of the Soviet Bloc has shaped and sometimes hindered development in the rest of the communist world this book examines the agrarian policies of China Mongolia Vietnam and Cuba and provides an account of agricultural development in socialist economies which focuses on both the historical and contemporary aspects of this development      Global Review of Agricultural Policies ,1994      U.S. Foreign Agricultural Trade Policy United States.
