Hirt,Sue Saunders,2023-07-03 Effective socialization of new student affairs professionals is essential both for the individual success of these practitioners and for the work of a college or university that promotes student learning It enables new professionals to manage the important personal and professional transitions they experience throughout their careers engage in continuous professional development and achieve high levels of productivity It also counteracts the high attrition rate among new hires with all the attendant costs to the institution in terms of resources spent on recruiting hiring training supervising and developing staff talent The socialization process for new professionals includes formal and informal elements that influence both success and quality of work life This process is far more complex than a single orientation program organized by a unit or division Rather it is a comprehensive process where both the new professional and organization learn about and from each other in ways that influence working relationships and individual and organizational outcomes Part I of this book defines the concept explains its value and offers a model of socialization Part II examines the institutional context in which the socialization of new professionals occurs and describes how different institutional types influence the socialization process It considers the changing characteristics of college students and how these impact the work of student affairs In addressing the extra institutional and professional contexts Part III considers the role that graduate education plays in preparing new professionals for work in student affairs and offers guidance to faculty and practitioners involved in graduate education about what they can do to introduce graduate students to professional life It addresses the importance of professional orientation activities the roles of supervision and mentorship as well as the impact of peers and institutions on the socialization process It concludes with a discussion of the role and importance of professional associations This book is intended for graduate program faculty for senior student affairs officers concerned about developing and retaining the new staff and for administrators and leaders in student affairs shaping the future of the profession For new professionals themselves it offers insights on the path to professionalization den Berge In many ways this book reminded me of Peter Senge's The Fifth Discipline which similarly inspired me a few years back. This book is very detailed and discusses new approaches, techniques and methods to achieve liberating yet learning-centred breakthrough results at individual, team and organisational level. Chief Human Resource Officers as well as their peers and Chief Learning Officers and their associated practitioners will all benefit from not just reading this very compelling text but studying and applying all its valuable lessons in their quest both to accelerate learning and achieve tangible results.

Johan Ludike, Head of Talent Management, Yum University, Yum Brands Africa. Congratulations to Debbie and Kerry who have captured the essence of accelerated learning, a process which particularly in a dynamic markets context is so important to change the status quo where so many people have potential for greatness but have often lacked opportunities and mentorship.

Shaun Rozyn, Executive Director, Corporate Education, Gordon Institute of Business Science. What an amazing read! It is truly a book that keeps on giving. It stimulates thinking about accelerated learning and is full of modern and practical content presented in an easily accessible and understandable manner. The gamification throughout the book places the reader in the milieu of an active learner through the experience of reading the book and accelerating one's own learning.

Liza Govender, Executive Manager, Talent, Transnet. Both Kerry and Debbie bring their valuable practical lessons learnt, their passion for this subject and their deep expertise in this field to us in a practical and useful manner. I have had the good fortune of working in organisations and in consulting for organisations in this field for over 20 years and I wish I had had this book 20 years ago already.

Lou Anne Lubbe, previous MD, People Organisation, Talent, Accenture South Africa. Some thoughts concerning education, with notes by R.H. Quick. Stereotyped ed John Locke, 1902 Accelerated Education in Nursing Lin Zhan, 2012. As one of the first books examining the core issues of accelerated nursing education, this one offers valuable information on the challenges and successes of this educational model.

Doody's Medical Reviews. Accelerated degree programs provide evidence that creativity in nursing program design can facilitate learning experiences that assure competence in the profession while also taking advantage of the knowledge, skills and experiences the learner brings to our profession. Lessons learned from accelerated nursing programs can be applied in all our programs and enrich the education of professional nurses.

Geraldine Polly Bednash, PhD, RN, FAAN, CEO, AACN. Over the last two decades, an unprecedented pool of nursing students, many with academic degrees and prior work experience, have entered accelerated programs. This is the first volume to examine core issues in accelerated nursing education such as curriculum innovation, clinical immersion, recruitment and retention of students and faculty, and inter-professional education. It also addresses questions regarding how accelerated nursing programs prepare graduates to meet changing health care needs. Which curriculums and clinical models are best suited to accelerated education? What teaching strategies and evidence-based practices ensure high quality results? Key Features: Discusses enrollment and admission at the BSN and MSN levels. Explores curriculum innovation, new teaching methods and start-up programs. Analyzes student retention and progression with remediation strategies Presents faculty recruitment retention and development successes Addresses issues concerning second degree and second career students
