On the Threshold, 1999-04-16 In 1993 a group of five Kingston women T Anne Archer Mary Cavanagh Elizabeth Greene Tara Kainer Janice Kirk began to compile an anthology about Canada at the point where one millennium becomes another As the newly formed Foxglove Collective they solicited manuscripts that reflected origins how the past shapes the present life at the end of this century and projections past the year 2000 They envisioned a book that wove together established emerging and previously unpublished voices from the Yukon to the Maritimes that book is On the Threshold Writing Toward the Year 2000 No millennium library would be complete without a copy of this timely and unique collection of literary musings by some of the nation s best A wonderful weave of poetry and prose this anthology reflects on moments both private and public personal and political which have formed the crucible for life in the twenty first century as we know it Tasked with commenting both on the century that lay behind and the century that beckons each author fashioned a piece exemplary of the crises successes and transformations inherent in an arc spanning more than a hundred years of nation building and social upheaval Whether unabashedly optimistic or unapologetically critical these writers make their peace with the past while invoking the future

Ceramics and Globalization Neil Ewins, 2017-05-04 Neil Ewins study of the Staffordshire potteries in a period of great global change traces how ceramics production has been affected by globalisation in both familiar and unexpected ways Although many manufacturers such as Wedgwood initially moved production to cheaper labour markets in East Asia others remained in or returned to England once it became clear that outsourcing manufacturing was affecting the brand value and customer perception of their products Neil Ewins explores the complex behaviour of the UK ceramics industry using a combination of evidence from the press trade journals ceramic objects and primary interview evidence of manufacturers retailers and a ceramic designer Ewins suggests that although the surface designs of UK ceramics invariably reflect diverse cultural and stylistic influences a notion of authenticity often still resides in the place and context in which the ceramic product was originally made Overall the book argues that UK ceramics remain culturally complex because of issues of supply and demand and ties to heritage imagined or otherwise Within a context of globalization the book highlights compelling issues which have huge ramifications on UK manufacturing futures
