A Different Shade of Green: A Biblical Approach to Environmentalism and the Dominion Mandate Gordon Wilson,2019-09-10 We have been shockingly bad at using our Bibles and our brains when it comes to conservation and the environment Unhinged environmentalism is not the answer but neither are ignorance and apathy It s time for something different Christian responsibility for the natural world goes back to the very beginning when God commanded us to fill the earth and subdue it This Dominion Mandate is an authoritative alternative to both environmental activists and to those who think conservation is a word progressives made up So what does dominion mean for us living in a world of constant reports about impending global meltdown of oils spills pollution and strip mining of extinction threats both real and imagined A Different Shade of Green contains a compelling Christian approach to biodiversity life cycles and the environment offering solutions and correcting errors while teaching us how to give thanks for and rule over all of creation
