Finger Pointing to the Moon Osho,2024-05-03 One who is not ready to stake his very life will never be able to know the hidden mysteries of life Those secrets are not available cheaply Knowledge is available very cheaply knowledge is available from books from scriptures in education with the teachers Knowledge is available almost for free you do not have to pay anything for it In religion you have to pay heavily It is not right even to say heavily because only when someone stakes everything do the doors to that life open The doors to that life open only for those who put this life at stake To put this life at stake is the only key to the door of that life But knowledge is very cheap so the mind chooses the easier and the cheaper way We learn things words doctrines and think that we know Such knowledge only enhances ignorance

Michelangelo's Finger: An Exploration of Everyday Transcendence Raymond Tallis,2010-09-07 A renowned British public intellectual illustrates how our unique ability to point the index finger has shaped our amazing evolutionary pathway as humans In this startlingly original and persuasive book Raymond Tallis shows that it is easy to underestimate the influence of small things in determining what manner of creatures humans are He argues that the independent movement of the human index finger is one such easily overlooked factor Indeed not for nothing is the index finger called the forefinger It is the finger we most naturally deploy when we want to pry objects out of small spaces but it plays a far more significant role in an action unique to us among primates pointing Tallis argues that it is through pointing that the index finger made a significant contribution to the development of humans and to the creation of a human world separate from the rest of the natural world Observing the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel and the hugely familiar and awkward encounter between Michelangelo's God and Man through their index fingers Tallis identifies the artist's intuitive awareness of the central role of the index finger in making us unique Just as the reaching index fingers of God and Man are here made central to the creation of our kind so Tallis believes that the seemingly simple act of pointing which is used in a wide variety of ways is central to our extraordinary evolution

Augustine's Theory of Signs, Signification, and Lying Remo Gramigna,2020-01-20 The aim of this study is to present as far as possible a general

description of the theory of the sign and signification in Augustine of Hippo 354 430 AD with a view to its evaluation and implications for the study of semiotics Accurate studies for subject discipline and significance have not yet given an organic and systematic vision of Augustine s theory of the sign The underlying aspiration is that such an endeavour will prove to be beneficial to the scholars of Augustine s thought as well as to those with a keen interest in the history of semiotics The study uses Augustine s own accounts to investigate and interpret the philosophical problem of the sign The focus lies on the first decade of Augustine s literary production The De dialectica is taken as the terminus ad quo of the study and the De doctrina christiana is the terminus ad quem The selected texts show an explicit engagement with poignant discussion on the nature and structure of the sign the variety of signs and their uses Although Augustine s intention never was to establish a theory of meaning as an independent field of study he largely employed a theory of signs Thus Augustine s approach to signs is intrinsically meaningful

BOOK JACKET The Communicative Construction of Reality Hubert Knoblauch, 2019-12-06 This volume advocates a shift from the social constructivism found in the work of Thomas Luckmann and Peter Berger to a communicative constructivism that acknowledges communication as an embodied form of action in its own right according to which social actors in engaging in communicative action construct a material social reality that guides delimits and enables actions A study of the importance of understanding the role of communication in an age in which digitization and mediatization have extended the reach of communication to a global level and brought about the emergence of the communication society The Communicative Construction of Reality shows how communication society does not merely replace modern society and its hierarchical institutions but complements it in a manner that continually results in conflicts leading to the refiguration of society As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology with interests in the sociology of knowledge communication and social theory
