The Country You Have Never Seen Joanna Russ, 2007 In 1959 at the age of 22 Joanna Russ published her first science fiction story Nor Custom Stale in The Magazine of Science Fiction and Fantasy In the forty five years since Russ has continued to write some of the most popular creative and important novels and stories in science fiction She was a central figure along with contemporaries Ursula K Le Guin and James Tiptree in revolutionizing science fiction in the 1960s and 1970s and her 1970 novel The Female Man is widely regarded as one of the most successful and influential depictions of a feminist utopia in the entire genre The Country You Have Never Seen gathers Joanna Russ s most important essays and reviews revealing the vital part she played over the years in the never ending conversation among writers and fans about the roles boundaries and potential of science fiction Spanning her entire career the collection shines a light on Russ s role in the development of new wave science fiction and feminist science fiction while at the same time providing fascinating insight into her own development as a writer

Alien Constructions Patricia Melzer, 2010-01-01 An incisive critical work that looks at Octavia Butler s writing the movies of the Matrix and Alien series and more through a feminist lens Femspec Feminist thinkers and writers are increasingly recognizing science fiction s potential to shatter patriarchal and heterosexual norms while the creators of science fiction are bringing new depth and complexity to the genre by engaging with feminist theories and politics This book maps the intersection of feminism and science fiction through close readings of science fiction literature by Octavia E Butler Richard Calder and Melissa Scott and the movies The Matrix and the Alien series Patricia Melzer analyzes how these authors and films represent debates and concepts in three areas of feminist thought identity and difference feminist critiques of science and technology and the relationship among gender identity body and desire including the new gender politics of queer desires transgender and intersexed bodies and identities She demonstrates that key political elements shape these debates including global capitalism and exploitative class relations within a growing international system the impact of computer industrial and medical technologies on women s lives and reproductive rights and posthuman embodiment as expressed through biotechnologies the body machine interface and the commodification of desire Melzer s investigation makes it clear that feminist writings and readings of science fiction are part of a feminist critique of existing power relations and that the alien constructions cyborgs clones androids aliens and hybrids that populate postmodern science fiction are as potentially empowering as they are threatening
