The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine Curriculum for the Twenty-first Century Catherine D. De Angelis, 2000-03-27 Our basic philosophy of medical education must be directed not toward creating a neurosurgeon a family practitioner a cardiologist or a general pediatrician but toward creating an undifferentiated stem cell physician who is so well prepared that he or she is fully capable of taking any career path after medical school Every indication is that our goal is being met The new curriculum is preparing students for the demands and responsibilities of a new era of medicine science and medical arts from the Foreword by Michael M E Johns M D The curriculum taught in many U S medical schools today has been altered little since 1910 Now spurred in part by the recent sweeping changes in health care delivery medical schools are re evaluating their curricula The goal is to develop a program of medical education that not only reflects the latest scientific advances but also prepares physicians in the fields and specialties society now needs This book provides an extensive description of the process and outcome of developing a completely new curriculum at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine The book is organized around the subjects and courses taught basic sciences physician and society medical informatics and clinical medicine Chapters also consider evaluation and reform of the curriculum The contributors Johns Hopkins faculty members who participated in developing the components of the curriculum discuss differences between the old and new courses and programs reasons for the changes and the process used to plan and implement them Throughout the material is presented in a way that permits easy generalization and adaptation to other medical schools Contributors Catherine D De Angelis M D Diane M Becker Sc D Gert H Brieger M D Ph D Leon Gordis M D H Franklin Herlong M D K Joseph Hurt Michael M E Johns M D Langford Kidd M D F R C P Michael J Klag M D Harold P Lehmann M D Ph D Nancy Ryan Lowitt M D Ed M Lucy A Mead Sc M Thomas D Pollard M D Henry M Seidel M D John H Shatzler Jr Ph D Patricia A Thomas M D F A C P Victor Velculescu Charles M Wiener M D The Ultimate Medical School Rotation Guide Stewart H. Rogers,Amal Mattu,Michael E. Winters,Joseph P. Martinez,Terrence Mulligan,2012-12-03 Emergency medicine attendings who wish to hone their teaching skills can find a number of books on educational strategies written by physicians from other disciplines However until the publication of the first edition of this book they did not have access to a text written by emergency medicine physicians on methods of teaching that are directly applicable to teaching EM This book was compiled to meet that need Following the introductory section which provides important background information the book s contents are organized into 4 sections that correspond to the core needs and interests of EM educators Section 2 focuses on practical and ethical considerations of teaching in the ED Section 3 provides strategies for teaching specific groups of learners Section 4 looks at the skills that are characteristic of the best EM educators and Section 5 looks indepthly at specific teaching techniques and strategies Now more than ever this book addresses the needs of physician educators from all over the world New chapters discuss lecturing to an international audience using simulation as a teaching tool how to make journal club work for you and other topics that are of broad interest to medical educators in this field In general each chapter has been updated and reviewed to make sure the content was something that emergency physician educators could use in any country The chapter contributors are widely regarded as leaders in the field of emergency medicine education and faculty development Authors were given free rein to develop their chapters and write in their own style They were asked to present their personal views on how to successfully teach the art of emergency medicine rather than review evidence based guidelines regarding medical education As a result most of the chapters have few references This first person approach to a multi authored textbook yields a compilation that varies in style from chapter to chapter and exposes the reader to a variety of communication techniques Cumulated Index Medicus ,1996 Resident Readiness Emergency Medicine Debra L.
