Research for Romance Erin Phillips, 1996-04      The Girl Inside Judy Baer, 1984-09      South of the Border Dawn Kingsbury, 1984      Chariton of Aphrodisias and the Invention of the Greek Love Novel Stefan Tilg, 2010-05-06 The best known variety of the ancient novel sometimes identified with the ancient novel tout court is the Greek love novel The question of its origins has intrigued scholars for centuries and has been the focus of a great deal of research Stefan Tilg proposes a new solution to this ancient puzzle by arguing for a personal inventor of the genre Chariton of Aphrodisias who wrote the first Greek and with that the first European love novel Narratives about Callirhoe in the mid first century AD Tilg's conclusion is drawn on the basis of two converging lines of argument one from literary history another from Chariton's poetics and will shed fresh light upon the reception of Latin literature in the Greek world      Becoming Aware of the Logos Georg Kühlewind, 1985      Snap Judgement Marilyn Youngblood, 1984-09      Better Off Without 'Em Chuck Thompson, 2013-07-16 The author of Smile When You're Lying describes his controversial road trip investigation into the cultural divide of the United States during which he met with possum hunting conservatives trailer park lifers and prayer warriors before concluding that both sides might benefit if former Confederacy states seceded      Videohound's Golden Movie Retriever Jim Craddock, 2006 Describes and rates more than twenty thousand videos and provides indexes by theme awards actors actresses and directors      Kiss Me, Kit! Dorothy Francis, 1984      The Case Closed Casebook Takuya Furukawa, Tim Gene, 2008-03 In this first of its kind anime fanbook the reader is taken on an intriguing tour through the world of Detective Conan the star of Cased Closed the hit anime that is wowing audiences the world over      The Standard, 1884      The English Catalogue of Books, 1884      Billboard, 1999-10-16 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world's premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends      American Theology, Superhero Comics, and Cinema Anthony Mills, 2013-10-01 Stan Lee who was the head writer of Marvel Comics in the early 1960s co created such popular heroes as Spider Man Hulk the X Men the Fantastic Four Iron Man Thor and Daredevil This book traces the ways in which American theologians and comic books of the era were not only both saying things about what it means to be human but starting with Lee they were largely saying the same things Author Anthony R Mills argues that the shift away from individualistic ideas of human personhood and toward relational conceptions occurring within both American theology and American superhero comics and films does not occur simply on the ontological level but is also inherent to epistemology and ethics reflecting the comprehensive nature of human life in terms of being knowing and acting This book explores the idea of the American monomyth that pervades American hero stories and examines its philosophical and theological origins and specific manifestations in early American superhero comics Surveying the anthropologies of six American theologians who argue against many of the monomyth's assumptions principally the staunch individualism taken to be the model of humanity and who offer relationality as a more realistic and ethical alternative this book offers a detailed argument for the intimate historical relationship between the now disparate fields of comic book superhero film creation on the one hand and Christian theology on the other in the United States An understanding of the early connections between theology and American conceptions of heroism helps to further make sense of their contemporary parallels wherein superhero stories and theology are not strictly separate phenomena but have shared origins and concerns True Conservatism Anthony T.

Kronman,2025-03-25 Drawing on the riches of the Western tradition Anthony T Kronman defends a humane conservatism for our enlightened age As the party of the left has grown more strident its conservative critics have responded in kind Each year conservatives do a poorer job of defending their position as a citadel of human values without lapsing into an angry assault on ideals that they and progressives share It becomes harder to see the enduring appeal of a true conservatism that celebrates the worth of custom and inheritance the splendor of what is excellent and rare the expansive solidarity of our friendship with the dead and the dignity indeed necessity of our longing for a connection to the eternal and divine while affirming that these timeless human goods are compatible with the modern ideals of equality toleration and reasoned argument In this bracing book Anthony Kronman defends a conservative philosophy of life that respects our enlightened ideals but decries the damage their arrogant simplification causes in our moral political and spiritual lives Drawing on the work of Aristotle Cicero Spinoza Burke Hume Madison Tocqueville Lincoln Arendt Heidegger and others he argues that humanism is conservatism today as in the past He reminds us that our humbling parameters make possible every form of human greatness every human glory every human love worthy of the name Swinburne and Landor Walter Brooks Drayton

Henderson,1918 Empire of Magic Geraldine Heng,2003-07-13 Empire of Magic offers a genesis and genealogy for medieval romance and the King Arthur legend through the history of Europe's encounters with the East in crusades travel missionizing and empire formation It also produces definitions of race and nation for the medieval period and posits that the Middle Ages and medieval fantasies of race and religion have recently returned Drawing on feminist and gender theory as well as cultural analyses of race class and colonialism this provocative book revises our understanding of the beginnings of the nine hundred year old cultural genre we call romance as well as the King Arthur legend Geraldine Heng argues that romance arose in the twelfth century as a cultural response to the trauma and horror of taboo acts in particular the cannibalism committed by crusaders on the bodies of Muslim enemies in Syria during the First Crusade From such encounters with the East Heng suggests sprang the fantastical episodes featuring King Arthur in Geoffrey of Monmouth's chronicle The History of the Kings of England a work where history and fantasy collide and merge each into the other inventing crucial new examples and models for romances to come After locating the rise of romance and Arthurian legend in the contact zones of East and West Heng demonstrates the adaptability of romance and its key role in the genesis of an English national identity Discussing Jews women children and sexuality in works like the romance of Richard Lionheart stories of the saintly Constance Arthurian chivalric literature the legend of Prester John and travel narratives Heng shows how fantasy enabled audiences to work through issues of communal identity race color class and alternative sexualities in socially sanctioned and safe modes of cultural discussion in which pleasure not anxiety was paramount Romance also engaged with the threat of modernity in the late medieval period as economic social and technological transformations occurred and awareness grew of a vastly enlarged world beyond Europe one encompassing India China and Africa Finally Heng posits romance locates England and Europe within an empire of magic and knowledge that surveys the world and makes it intelligible usable for the future Empire of Magic is expansive in scope spanning the eleventh to the fifteenth centuries and detailed in coverage examining various types of romance historical national popular chivalric family and travel romances among others to see how cultural fantasy responds to changing crises pressures and demands in a number of different ways Boldly controversial theoretically sophisticated and historically rooted Empire of Magic is a dramatic restaging of the role romance played in the culture of a period and world in ways that suggest how cultural fantasy still functions for us today The Making of Englishmen Hilary M. Larkin, 2013-10-10 Making the Englishmen offers an account of how national identities were construed and contested in the post Reformation public sphere 1550 1650 Dogland Tommy Tomlinson, 2025-04-08 From Pulitzer Prize finalist and author of The Elephant in the Room comes the first inside account of the Westminster Dog Show America's oldest and most beloved dog show following one dog on his quest to become a champion Pentecostal Hermeneutics in the Late Modern World L. William Oliverio, 2022-05-27 In Pentecostal Hermeneutics in the Late Modern World L. William Oliverio Jr offers a series of forays into the places where late modernity and Pentecostalism have met in interpreting God the world and human selves and communities Oliverio provides a historical constructive and ecumenical approach to understanding current trajectories in Pentecostal interpretation as he engages a variety of philosophers and theologians Together these essays point to a way forward for Pentecostal hermeneutics in the context of the late modern world
