The World Atlas of Language Structures Martin Haspelmath, 2005-07-21 The World Atlas of Language Structures is a book and CD combination displaying the structural properties of the world's languages 142 world maps and numerous regional maps all in colour display the geographical distribution of features of pronunciation and grammar such as number of vowels tone systems gender plurals tense word order and body part terminology Each world map shows an average of 400 languages and is accompanied by a fully referenced description of the structural feature in question The CD provides an interactive electronic version of the database which allows the reader to zoom in on or customize the maps to display bibliographical sources and to establish correlations between features The book and the CD together provide an indispensable source of information for linguists and others seeking to understand human languages The Atlas will be especially valuable for linguistic typologists grammatical theorists historical and comparative linguists and for those studying a region such as Africa Southeast Asia North America Australia and Europe It will also interest anthropologists and geographers More than fifty authors from many different countries have collaborated to produce a work that sets new standards in comparative linguistics No institution involved in language research can afford to be without it A Choctaw

Reference Grammar George Aaron Broadwell, 2006-12-01 The authoritative reference on the grammar of the Choctaw language written and compiled by its leading scholarly expert The Phenomenology of the Second-Person Plural

Sarah Pawlett Jackson, 2025-05-12 This book presents the case that there are forms of human interaction which should be understood as properly second person plural It engages with the work of Sartre Levinas and contemporary phenomenology to show that this claim is not just about grammatical forms of address but about the phenomenology and structure of our intersubjective experience While there has been plenty of recent work exploring the phenomenology of the second person singular and the first person plural we have not so far seen a systematic account of the second person plural the I yous or we you This book outlines the phenomenology of the specific structures of interlocking intersubjective reciprocity which need to be in place between multiple subjects for an interaction to be properly second person plural The author considers and defends her account from various possible objections both a conceptual worry and a range of empirical worries These objections are shown to be misguided and the thread that runs through them a problematically disembodied conception of the human subject is exposed She proceeds to offer a positive account of the second person plural supported by an understanding of subjectivity as necessarily embodied and embedded in the world This account opens an exciting path for further analyses of complex multi person intersubjectivities in small group contexts The Phenomenology of the Second Person Plural will appeal to scholars and graduate students working in phenomenology social ontology and the philosophy of intersubjectivity Lexicon for Grammar Bible Version Gary Gallant, 2025-01-26 This Lexicon provides the Greek word associated with each Strong's number along with its corresponding parsing You do not need the Grammar Bible Version as this Lexicon provides the words used in it while allowing the reader to compare how each word aligns with Greek grammar principles The Table of Contents is arranged in Greek alphabetical order with Strong's numbers grouped in increments of 50 Finally Bible references are included for each Greek word Here is an example 21 11 GBV 11 be exceedingly glad 5737 Verb present middle or passive deponent imperative second person plural Mt 5 12 exulting 5740 Verb present middle or passive deponent participle nominative plural masculine 1Pe 4 13 greatly rejoice 5736 Verb present middle or passive deponent indicative second person plural 1Pe 1 6 has rejoiced 5656 Verb aorist active indicative third person singular Lu 1 47 rejoice 2 5736 Verb present middle or passive deponent indicative second person plural 1Pe 1 8 5741 Verb present middle or passive deponent subjunctive first person plural Re 19 7 rejoiced 3 5662 3 3 Verb aorist middle deponent indicative third person singular 3 Lu 10 21 Joh 8 56 Ac 16 34 to rejoice 5677 Verb aorist passive deponent infinitive Joh 5 35 was glad 5662 Verb aorist middle deponent indicative third person singular Ac 2 26
