Herodian Judaism and New Testament Study William Horbury, 2006 This book presents a selection of William Horbury's recent essays Those collected in Part I seek to trace the profile of Herodian Jewish piety its Greek and Roman setting and its reflection in Christianity Monotheism mysticism perceptions of Moses and the Temple are all considered in this way and a Jewish context for the term gospel and the institution of the Lord's Supper is suggested Part II treats modern New Testament study with special attention to its links with study of the classical and Jewish traditions and a survey on British study in its international setting

Rationality and Reasoning Jonathon St. B.T. Evans, David E. Over, 2013-09-13 This book addresses an apparent paradox in the psychology of thinking On the one hand human beings are a highly successful species On the other intelligent adults are known to exhibit numerous errors and biases in laboratory studies of reasoning and decision making There has been much debate among both philosophers and psychologists about the implications of such studies for human rationality The authors argue that this debate is marked by a confusion between two distinct notions a personal rationality rationality¹ Evans and Over argue that people have a high degree of rationality¹ but only a limited capacity for rationality² The book re-interprets the psychological literature on reasoning and decision making showing that many normative errors by abstract standards reflect the operation of processes that would normally help to achieve ordinary goals Topics discussed include relevance effects in reasoning and decision making the influence of prior beliefs on thinking and the argument that apparently non logical reasoning can reflect efficient decision making The authors also discuss the problem of deductive competence whether people have it and what mechanism can account for it As the book progresses increasing emphasis is given to the authors dual process theory of thinking in which a distinction between tacit and explicit cognitive systems is developed It is argued that much of human capacity for rationality¹ is invested in tacit cognitive processes which reflect both innate mechanisms and biologically constrained learning However the authors go on to argue that human beings also possess an explicit thinking system which underlies their unique if limited capacity to be rational

A History of Scottish Football in 100 Objects Andy Bollen, 2019-12-10 The comedy writer's collection of artifacts dedicated to controversial silly and bonkers mishaps a tribute to an alternative football history Daily Record Andy Bollen has created a fantasy football museum to collect together a treasure trove of Scottish football exhibits that ranges from Jimmy Johnstone's car to Aggie the tea lady's trolley. Learn why Puskas and Socrates should've been Scottish, the versatility of the pie and Napoleon's links to Bovril and explore all the wonders of the game north of the Border from Arthur Montford to the phone in Think Tanks. Buckfast, vanishing cream for referees, Twitter, VAR technology and flares, pyrotechnics, not 1970s attire. These exhibits distill the beauty of Scottish football into an entertaining volume that will make the perfect gift for any fan. Taking a satirical swipe at the beautifully flawed game, A History of Scottish Football in 100 Objects covers the mayhem, mavericks and bric-a-brac from the magic sponge to the pie hair weaves to tattoos. Bollen is the perfect curator, impeccably informed, passionate and insightful. It's not Hampden, Babylon, but it's very funny. Stuart Cosgrove, author of Hampden, Babylon.
