CONTOURS OF CONTEMPORARY LEGAL RESEARCH: A MULTIDISCIPLINARY PERSPECTIVE: Volume 1: FOUNDATIONS AND FRONTIERS OF PUBLIC LAW Adarsh Pandey, Garima Dixit, Jyoti Priya, Mr. Sourabh Batar, 2025-07-12 This study delves into the multifaceted evolution of constitutionalism examining its global trajectory and specific manifestations within the Indian context Constitutionalism as a doctrine and practice embodies the principles of limited government the rule of law and the protection of individual rights evolving dynamically in response to socio political transformations and philosophical shifts By analyzing historical developments theoretical underpinnings and comparative case studies this paper elucidates the complex interplay between global constitutional norms and indigenous interpretations particularly focusing on the adaptation and innovation of constitutional principles in India

Rethinking Society for the 21st Century: Volume 1, Socio-Economic Transformations International Panel on Social Progress (IPSP), 2018-07-19 This is the first of three volumes containing a report from the International Panel on Social Progress IPSP The IPSP is an independent association of top research scholars with the goal of assessing methods for improving the main institutions of modern societies Written in accessible language by scholars across the social sciences and humanities these volumes assess the achievements of world societies in past centuries the current trends the dangers that we are now facing and the possible futures in the twenty first century It covers the main socio economic political and cultural dimensions of social progress global as well as regional issues and the diversity of challenges and their interplay around the world This particular volume covers topics such as economic inequality and growth finance and corporations labor capitalism and social justice The Limits of Human Rights Bardo Fassbender, Knut Traisbach, 2019 The continuous expansion of human rights can often appear to be positive yet it provokes criticism This volume argues against the internationalisation of human rights proving the world is moving from bilateralism to community interests stating contentious supervision evaluation and substitution are far more common than genuine cooperation Social Work, Social Justice & Human Rights Colleen Lundy, 2011-01-01 The second edition of this popular social work practice text more fully addresses the connection between social justice and human rights World Trade Law after Neoliberalism Andrew Lang, 2013-01-17 The rise of economic liberalism in the latter stages of the 20th century coincided with a fundamental transformation of international economic governance especially through the law of the World Trade Organization In this book Andrew Lang provides a new account of this transformation and considers its enduring implications for international law Against the commonly held idea that neoliberal policy prescriptions were encoded into WTO law Lang argues that the last decades of the 20th century saw a reinvention of the international trade regime and a reconstitution of its internal structures of knowledge In addition the book explores the way that resistance to economic liberalism was expressed and articulated over the same period in other areas of international law most prominently international human rights law It considers the promise and limitations of this form of inter regime contestation arguing that measures to ensure greater collaboration and cooperation between regimes may fail in their objectives if they are not accompanied by a simultaneous destabilization of each regime s structures of knowledge and characteristic features With that in mind the book contributes to a full and productive contestation of the nature and purpose of global economic governance Gender, Equality and Social Justice Sharron FitzGerald, Jane Freedman, 2022-09-19 This book addresses a gap in both contemporary theorising and empirical analysis of the European Union s EU law and policy frameworks on migration sex work and anti trafficking Drawing on the authors previous research on these policies and with their practical experience of engaging with various EU institutions in law and policy making fora around gender equality and justice the work examines the processes involved in constructing and enacting policy frameworks and legal interventions on these issues within a feminist analytical framework The authors map how EU agenda setting operates and detail the roles that various EU institutions external groups and actors including non governmental organisations play in promoting or blocking policy on these three issues The book draws on feminist theorising on gender policy making and social justice to develop a general theoretical framework to help us understand how and why a consensus has seemingly been achieved at EU level on what constitutes gender equality in these three policy areas The book presents a valuable resource for academics researchers and policy makers in Law Migration EU policy making and Gender Studies Rurality, Social Justice and

Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Volume I Alfred Masinire, Amasa P. Ndofirepi, 2020-12-12 This book explores rurality and education in sub Saharan Africa through a lens of social justice The first in a two volume project this book explores the possibilities and constraints of rural social justice in diverse educational contexts how should rurality be defined How does education shape and reshape what it means to be rural Drawing chapters from a diverse range of contributors in sub Saharan Africa the two volumes are underpinned by a robust social justice approach to rural schooling and its intersections with access gender colonialism social mobility and disability Ultimately these volumes reflect the need to shift conceptions of rurality from colonial and conservative stereotypes to an appreciation of rurality as locations in space and time with their own unique attributes and opportunities Harnessing indigenous African concepts of justice to open up conversations into teaching and knowledge production in higher education this book will be of interest to scholars of rurality and education as well as wider discussions on decolonising the academy Privacy@work Frank Hendrickx, Elena Gramano, David

Rethinking Economic Policy for Social Justice Radhika Balakrishnan, James Heintz, Diane Elson, 2016-03-31 The dominant approach to economic policy has so far failed to adequately address the pressing challenges the world faces today extreme poverty widespread joblessness and precarious employment burgeoning inequality and large scale environmental threats This message was brought home forcibly by the 2008 global economic crisis Rethinking Economic Policy for Social Justice shows how human rights have the potential to transform economic thinking and policy making with far reaching consequences for social justice. The authors make the case for a new normative and analytical framework based on a broader range of objectives which have the potential to increase the substantive freedoms and choices people enjoy in the course of their lives and not on narrow goals such as the growth of gross domestic product. The book covers a range of issues including inequality, fiscal and monetary policy, international development, assistance, financial markets, globalization and economic instability. This new approach allows for a complex interaction between individual rights, collective rights and collective action as well as encompassing a legal framework which offers formal mechanisms through which unjust policy can be protested. This highly original and accessible book will be essential reading for human rights advocates, economists, policy makers and those working on questions of social justice.

Legal Cultures and Human Rights Kirsten Hastrup, 2021-08-04 Cultural diversity as expressed for instance in different normative orders or legal cultures poses both a practical and a theoretical challenge to the idea of universal human rights. In the present volume the authors seek to address and contain this challenge with a view to the changing nature of the global society. While culture is sometimes signposted as an obstacle to human rights on the ground, this volume suggests that in so far as the global culture of human rights is primarily seen as a formal and institutional order based on a particular view of equal human worth, local cultures cannot trump it. The main point is that the culture of human rights is inclusive of all and must maintain a standard by which all peoples and cultures can measure their own performances. Further, and as demonstrated in the present volume from a range of disciplines such as law, literature, history and anthropology, culture is not a mental prison but a particular outlook upon the world for ever changing in response to new experiences and insights.

Research Handbook on International Law and Social Rights Christina Binder, Jane A. Hofbauer, Flávia Piovesan, Amaya Úbeda de Torres, 2020-08-28 This comprehensive Research Handbook offers a comparative overview of the history, nature and current status of social rights at the universal and regional level. Tracing their evolution from rather modest beginnings to becoming the category of rights responding most accurately to the 21st century's policy objectives of poverty eradication and equitable resource allocation, this Research Handbook assesses the mechanisms used to enhance the implementation and enforcement of social rights.

Globalization, Development and Social Justice Ann El Khoury, 2015-03-27 Are there existing alternatives to corporate globalization? What are the prospects for and commonalities between communities and movements such as Occupy the World, Social Forum and alternative economies? Globalization, Development and Social Justice advances the proposition that another globalization is not only possible but already exists. It demonstrates that there are multiple pathways towards development with social justice and argues that enabling propositional agency rather than oppositional agency such as resistance is a more effective alternative to neoliberal globalization. El Khoury develops a theory of infraglobalization that emphasizes creative constitution, not just contestation of global and local processes. The book features case studies and examples of diverse economic practice and innovative emergent political forms from the Global South and North These case studies are located in the informal social economy and community development as well as everyday practices from prefigurative politics to community cooperatives and participatory planning This book makes an important contribution to debates about the prospects for and practices of a transformative grassroots globalization and to critical debates about globalization and development strategies It will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations globalization social movement studies political and economic geography sociology anthropology and development studies

Nanlai,Tao Zhenghua,Fried van Hoof,Jacqueline Smith,Peter R. Baehr,2023-08-28 This volume contains the papers which were presented at a symposium on human rights held in September 1994 in Beijing and organized within the framework of an academic programme of co operation between the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences and the Royal Netherlands Academy of Sciences The focal point of most of the papers is the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action adopted during the 1993 Vienna World Conference on Human Rights which from the perspective of particularly the Chinese participants is considered as marking a new beginning in the field of human rights Taking the Vienna Declaration and Programme of Action as a point of departure the following main themes were the subject of discussion at the symposium and are more or less similarly reflected in the present volume universality versus particularity individual rights versus collective rights national sovereignty and matters of international concern ratification of international treaties Chinese Yearbook of Human Rights, Volume 4 (2006) Sun Shiyan,Bi Xiaoqing,2023-12-14 The Chinese Yearbook of Human Rights is co sponsored by the United Nations Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights the Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Human Rights and Humanitarian Law and three institutes under the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences the Institute of Law the Centre for Human Rights Studies and the Centre for International Law Studies The purpose of the Chinese Yearbook of Human Rights is to create a forum for the academic exchange between China and the international community in the field of human rights Accordingly the Yearbook will aim to publish high quality academic articles written by scholars from both China and other countries on human rights issues from perspectives of law philosophy political science history and international relations

Need-Based Distributive Justice Stefan Traub,Bernhard Kittel,2020-04-29 This book explores the foundations and potential of a theory of need based distributive justice supported by experimental evidence The core idea is that need based distributive justice may have some legitimacy advantages over other important principles of distribution like equality and equity and therefore involves less dispute over the distribution and redistribution of scarce resources In seven chapters eleven scholars from the fields of philosophy psychology sociology political science and economics outline the normative and positive building blocks of such a theory by critically reviewing the literature on distributive justice from their respective disciplinary perspectives They address important theoretical and practical issues concerning the rationality of needs identification at the individual level and the recognition of needs at the societal level They also investigate whether and how the dynamics of distribution procedures that allocate resources according to the need principle leads to social stability focusing on the economic incentives that arise from need based redistribution The final chapter provides a synthesis and outlines a framework for a theory of justice based on ten hypotheses derived from the insights presented
