Recent Economic Changes David A. Wellis, LL. D., D. C. L., 1890 Tourism Development in India Kevin Hannam, 2011 Tourism to and within India has undergone some important changes in recent years seen by the rising numbers of international tourists and increase in domestic tourism This has led to the redevelopment and rebranding of many of its destinations as the Indian government has begun to recognise the potential importance of tourism to the Indian economy and has begun to invest in tourism infrastructure It is also recognised that as its economy continues to grow at a rapid rate India will also become one of the most important countries in terms of future outbound tourism Tourism and India is the first book to specifically focus on and fully analyze the issues facing contemporary India both as a destination and a potential source of tourists The book analyses previous research and applies critical theory to key aspects of tourism in this region and supports this with a wide range of examples to illustrate the key conceptual points As such the book examines aspects of tourism in India including tourism governance cultural tourism heritage tourism nature based tourism from the supply side and international tourism domestic tourism outbound tourism and the Indian Diaspora from the demand side This timely book includes original research to offer insights into India's future development in terms of tourism It will be of interest to students researchers and academics in the areas of Tourism Geography and related disciplines EBL

Training for Work in the Informal Micro-Enterprise Sector Hans Christiaan Haan, 2006-10-04 In Sub Sahara Africa the sector of informal micro enterprises IMEs is already employing a large share of the labour force in both urban and rural areas This study reviews the ways in which the owners and workers of IMEs have acquired their vocational and management skills It reviews the contributions of all the different training providers including public sector training institutes private sector training providers and training centres run by NGOs and other non profit organizations The study finds that informal apprenticeship training is by far the most common source of various skills in some countries it is likely to be responsible for 80-90% of all ongoing training efforts Informal apprenticeship training presents a number of important advantages At the same time it has a number of limitations The study concludes that there is a major challenge to improve the transfer of relevant skills to IME operators both through pre employment training and skills upgrading In view of the scope of the challenge to provide hundreds of thousands IME owners and workers as well as large numbers of out of school youths with relevant practical and management skills it suggests to build upon the strengths of the existing practices of informal apprenticeship training and to remedy its weaknesses by involving professional training providers in upgrading its training organization and delivery quality and efficiency and final training outcomes It reviews the results of a number of innovative interventions in different African countries that are working in this direction Finally the study suggests that there is an interesting potential in business embedded training provided by private companies as part of their regular business operations

Reflections on 21st Century Human Habitats in India Mahabir S. Jaglan,Rajeshwari,2021-07-31 This book highlights various dimensions of human habitats in 21st Century India The human habitats in the country are marked by perceptible inequality in social and economic spheres This is occurring in tandem with rapid socio economic transformation across both rural and urban landscapes There is a plurality of transformative characteristics in terms of social and economic classes gender and space Inequality in access to natural resources such as land and water is still a big factor in socio economic differentiation in rural habitats This constructs a pedestal of unequal opportunities and access to basic human necessities such as healthcare education potable water and sanitation Human habitats experiencing socio spatial segregation and exclusion based on caste community and gender are detrimental in formation of a civil society and its sustainability in long terms The ideal situation for this would be formation of an inclusive society that celebrates age old socio cultural diversities reduces inequalities and reveres composite culture Asian Bibliography ,1998 Publication ,1994 Northern Sustainabilities: Understanding and Addressing Change in the Circumpolar World Gail Fondahl,Gary N. Wilson,2017-01-03 This edited volume examines the multiple dimensions of sustainability in the Circumpolar North a territory facing unprecedented environmental and social challenges at the start of the 21st century The chapters explore the cultural economic political and environmental aspects of sustainability as well as examples of successful research collaboration with northern and indigenous communities By examining a wide range of issues and places the contributions highlight the diversity of the Circumpolar North the challenges and opportunities it faces and the ways in which people and communities are adapting to and influencing the changing circumstances of this dynamic region Contributors include both Indigenous and non Indigenous researchers from eleven different countries and from across the career spectrum This book will appeal to an academic audience interested in the manifold facets of sustainability in the Arctic and sub arctic regions of the world Florence in Transition Marvin Becker,2019-08-01 Originally published in 1968 In the pluralistic society of the medieval commune informal and personal ties of obligation bound men together In trecento Florence this gentle communal structure gradually evolved into the stricter more centralized organization characteristic of the modern state A growing emphasis on law and order transformed the medieval commune of the early fourteenth century into the Renaissance territorial state of the latter half of the century Professor Becker's subject is this metamorphosis Following his study of the declining communal paideia in Volume One the author examines in this second volume the growing vigor of public world as well as the attendant depersonalization and repression He is concerned primarily with two factors that he considers the major forces producing the Renaissance territorial state and encouraging the growth of imperial government and constitutionalism the intrusion of new citizens novi cives into politics after 1343 and the skyrocketing of communal debt Thus the author disputes Burckhardt's idea of the state as a work of art viewing it instead as a creation of socioeconomic mobility and deficit financing Further in examining art and literature as symptoms of developing public culture and reactions to it Professor Becker interprets them as indications of increased public involvement of the Florentine citizens thus providing a sharp refutation of Burckhardt's egoistic violent Renaissance man The author concludes his study with a detailed description of the territorial state itself pointing out the new relationship between citizen and polis which emerged in the early fifteenth century These two volumes provide a compelling and challenging interpretation of a crucial period in Western history
