→ In order to maintain a continuous flow of conversation in the multiple cases, certain parts have been modified with respect to the actual cases we collected. The said action was also taken at certain places to ensure a steep learning curve for the reader.

→ For the above reasons, the cases are not to be taken as a word-by-word transcript of the interview but rather a resource to get an idea of type of cases and difficulty level an engineering undergraduate can expect in their placement interviews for management consulting profiles.

Economics Casebook Casebook:

Economic Justice Emma Coleman Jordan, Angela P. Harris, 2005 Economic Justice Race Gender Identity and Economics is a new casebook offered as a means to further the conversation between critical legal scholarship and law and economics The phrase economic justice signals the authors aim to engage these two cultures and to find the answer to questions such as What can economics tell us about democracy and the law What can theories of justice tell us about economic theory and the law Why is there no legal language of class in the United States and what might one look like Economic Justice Race Gender Identity and Economics also uses the problem of racial and gender injustice as a site to interrogate both critical theory and economic theory Just as race gender and class seem inextricably intertwined economic and critical analysis both seem crucial to unraveling the knot of racial and gender inequality Casebook of Economic Problems and Policies Rendigs Fels, Robert G.
