Far From Any Coast Pieces Of Americas Heartland:

Far from Any Coast Charles W. Gusewelle, 1989 Mapping the Invisible Landscape Kent C. Ryden, 1993 Any landscape has an unseen component a subjective component of experience memory and narrative which people familiar with the place understand to be an integral part of its geography but which outsiders may not suspect the existence of. Unless they listen and read carefully This invisible landscape is made visible through stories and these stories are the focus of this engrossing book. Traveling across the invisible landscape in which we imaginatively dwell Kent Ryden himself a most careful listener and reader asks the following questions What categories of meaning do we read into our surroundings What forms of expression serve as the most reliable maps to understanding those meanings Our sense of any place he argues consists of a deeply ingrained experiential knowledge of its physical makeup an awareness of its communal and personal history a sense of our identity as being inextricably bound up with its events and ways of life and an emotional reaction positive or negative to its meanings and memories Ryden demonstrates that both folk and literary narratives about place bear a striking thematic and stylistic resemblance Accordingly Mapping the Invisible Landscape examines both kinds of narratives For his oral materials Ryden provides an in depth analysis of narratives collected in the Coeur d Alene mining district in the Idaho panhandle for his consideration of written works he explores the essay of place the personal essay which takes as its subject a particular place and a writer's relationship to that place Drawing on methods and materials from geography folklore and literature Mapping the Invisible Landscape offers a broadly interdisciplinary analysis of the way we situate ourselves imaginatively in the landscape the way we inscribe its surface with stories Written in an extremely engaging style this book will lead its readers to an awareness of the vital role that a sense of place plays in the formation of local cultures to an understanding of the many layered ways in which place interacts with individual lives and to renewed appreciation of the places in their own lives and landscapes

The Missouri Review, 1992 Hyperculture Stephen Bertman, 1998-04-30 The rampant illnesses of our society including the disintegration of the family the degradation of the environment unlimited commercialism and unrelenting stress are familiar to us all For the first time Stephen Bertman attempts to explain these disparate overwhelmingly negative phenomena with a single unifying principle that the accelerated pace of American society is eroding the essence of our most fundamental values In 1970 Alvin Toffler identified a psychological disease he called future shock caused by too much change in too short a time Now Bertman daringly diagnoses an even more serious condition hyperculture a chronic warping of morals and ethics caused by America's addiction to speed The treatment he argues in this book will require nothing less than a drastic slowdown we must reassert control over the technologies that now dominate us in order to insure a humane future for our children and ourselves We live according to Bertman in a society ruled by the power of now a power that gives us instant gratification even as it demands our instantaneous obedience As a result we have adapted our lives and values to match the speed of light electronic technologies that surround us But in so doing we have paid a high price in spirit and mind Cut off from the wisdom of the past and too rushed to consider the consequences of our actions we are caught up in a culture of sensationalism and transience in which the very definitions of personal identity and democracy are being transformed Hyperculture dares to suggest that the cure for our condition lies not in an information superhighway or third wave information revolution but in the radical and painful process of decelerating our lives enough to reclaim them It is a daunting challenge to be sure but one on which our happiness and even our survival depend Salmonid ,1991 Missouri Charles Gurche,1990 Join Kansas City native Gurche as he traverses the state on back roads and hiking trails in his quest to photograph the scenic diversity of the Show Me state 92 full color photographs American Bookseller ,1989 How to Find Your Ideal Country Home Gene GeRue,1996 University of Missouri Press Melvin D. George,2008 Celebrates the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of Missouri Press in 1958 by William Peden Explores the importance of university presses to the dissemination of scholarship and looks to the future of book publishing Includes lists of books in print and out of print as of 2008 Provided by publisher A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers 1997-1998 Poets & Writers, Inc,1997 A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers Poets and Writers, Inc. Staff,2003 Resource THE DIRECTORY OF AMERICAN POETS FICTION WRITERS is a required resource for any arts or presenting organization looking for literary readers as well as for all publishers seeking to solicit work from the best American writers In additon writers can use the book to find the right writing mentor and connect with other writers When I directed my first arts program the Directory delivered the addresses and phone numbers of writers I loved but couldn t find How many writers and audiences are robbed without the information between these covers Cornelius Eady co founder and co director Cave Canem and author of Brutal Imagination Missouri Folklore Society Journal ,1995 Harrowsmith Country Life ,1993 The American Humanities Index Stephen H. Goode,1994 A Directory of American Poets and Fiction Writers, 1994-1996 Poets & Writers, Inc,1994-12 Names and addresses of contemporary poets and fiction writers whose work has been published in the United States The Best of the Rest Sam G. Riley,1993-06-30 The Best of the Rest presents the work of 77 of America s most talented local newspaper columnists from 41 states They represent the rest because editor Sam G Riley has excluded nationally syndicated columnists in order to expose to a wider audience many equally talented columnists whose fame generally is localized The columnists chosen for inclusion were nominated by a nationwide panel of 100 journalism professors two from each state Those writers who agreed to participate either self selected their two favorite columns or sent a larger sampling for the editor s choice For this first such book on local columnists Riley has concentrated on news columnists personal or general interest columnists and humor columnists exempting those who write more or less exclusively on topical areas such as sports business and finance fashion or travel In his lively and insightful introduction Riley identifies three main characteristics of newspaper column writing much in evidence in these selections humanity or people centeredness wit and freedom of approach He also sketches a brief history of newspaper column writing and provides a sense of what local columnists do offering his opinion that being a columnist is the most fun a person can legally have at a newspaper The selection of columns makes for delightful reading and will be instructive and inspiring to journalism major students and other students of writing A selective bibliography is included South Atlantic Review ,1989 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1990 Fighting Meth in America's Heartland: Assessing the Impact on Local Law Enforcemnt and Childwelfare Agencies Serial No. 109-101 , Roots of Cataclysm Richard W.
