

NO MORE

No more waiting to meet a mother
No more kneeling at the grave
We must stand at the grave and Hear the cry of our loved ones

No more waiting up every hour
Hoping our children they come home
No more haunted or watched people
Whom have suffered all alone

No more minutes to lose a battle
No more fear of just parked cars
No more looking over our shoulders
No more killing in our hearts

No more hatred from our children
No more No more No more

Farewell To Arms From Long War To Long Peace In Northern Ireland:

A Farewell to Arms? Michael Cox, Adrian Guelke, Fiona Stephen, 2006-04-18 This comprehensive and original study is the first to explain in detail how the Good Friday Agreement ran into trouble why we are still some way from a final settlement but why a return to war is most unlikely even in an age where global terror now threatens world order more seriously than at any time in the past This new edition of an established authoritative text will be essential reading for students researchers and academics of Irish politics conflict and peace studies and international relations A Farewell to Arms? Michael Cox, Adrian Guelke, Fiona Stephen, 2000 This collection of writings by experts on the history of the troubles in Northern Ireland paints a realistic picture of the peace processes that have dotted the province's landscape Lessons from the Northern Ireland Peace Process Timothy J. White, 2013 This book incorporates recent research that emphasizes the need for civil society and a grassroots approach to peacebuilding while taking into account a variety of perspectives including neoconservatism and revolutionary analysis The contributions which include the reflections of those involved in the negotiation and implementation of the Good Friday Agreement also provide policy prescriptions for modern conflicts

Contemporary Peace Making J. Darby, R. Mac Ginty, Roger Mac Ginty, 2002-12-19 Contemporary Peace Making draws on recent experience to identify and explore the essential components of peace processes Each chapter examines a different element in recent peace processes The collection is organized around five main themes planning for peace during periods of violence the process of negotiations including pre negotiation the effects of violence on peace processes peace accords constitutional and political options and securing the settlement and building the peace Geopolitics of European Union

Enlargement Warwick Armstrong, James Anderson, 2007-04-24 Offers an integral picture of the EU's internal and external borders to reveal the processes of re bordering and social change currently taking place exploring issues such as security immigration economic development and changing social and political attitudes Irish Political Studies Reader Conor McGrath, Eoin O'Malley, 2007-10-18 This is an introduction to the best available scholarship within Irish politics featuring the most influential and significant articles which have been published on Irish politics during the past twenty years Each article is accompanied by a new commentary by another leading scholar which addresses the impact and contribution of the article and discusses how its themes remain crucial today The book covers all the most important topics within Irish politics including political culture and traditions political institutions and parties and the peace process The combination of the best original scholarship and contemporary commentaries on the core political issues makes Irish Political Studies Reader an invaluable resource for all students and scholars of Irish politics Women and Political Violence Miranda

Alison, 2009-01-21 This book directly challenges the stereotype that women are inherently peaceable by examining female combatants involvement in ethno national conflicts Drawing upon empirical case studies of Sri Lanka and Northern Ireland this study explores the ways in which women have traditionally been depicted Whereas women have predominantly been seen as victims of conflict this book acknowledges the reality of women as active combatants Indeed female soldiers irregulars are features of most modern conflicts and particularly in ethno nationalist violence until now largely ignored by mainstream scholarship Original interview material from the author s extensive fieldwork addresses why and how some women choose to become violently engaged in nationalist conflicts It also highlights the personal political costs and benefits incurred by such women This book provides a valuable insight into female combatants and is a significant contribution to the literature This book will be of great interest to students of political violence ethnic conflict gender studies and international relations in general

A Multicultural and Multifaceted Study of Ideologies and Conflicts related to the Complex Realities and Fictions of Nation and Identity represented in Contemporary Literature Written in English José María Gutiérrez Arranz, 2009-03-26 This book contains a multicultural and multifaceted study of ideologies and conflicts related to the complex realities and fictions of Nation and Identity represented in contemporary literature written in English The history and present time of the United Kingdom the British Empire and North America provide vast fields of research which have been explored by our selection of authors Their interests range from the moral and personal consequences of modern nationalist conflicts to the memories of old racial confrontations on the British soil Readers will find analyses and reflections on the individual s pursuit of identity in a challenging environment that covers more than two centuries of mainly Western civilization and abound in national dilemmas social concerns authoritarian legacies and problematic postcolonial hybridizations Short stories novels plays and poems by Irish American English Nigerian and Scottish writers will enable readers to consider the diverse approaches propositions and debates the issues raised by Nation and Identity are being dealt with

The Ulster Unionist Party Thomas Hennessey, Máire Braniff, James W. McAuley, Jonathan Tonge, Sophie A. Whiting, 2018-12-13 The Ulster Unionist Party Country Before Party uses unprecedented access to the party that dominated Northern Ireland politics for decades to assess the reasons for its decline and to analyse whether it can recover Having helped produce the Belfast Good Friday Agreement the Ulster Unionist Party UUP struggled to deliver the deal amid unease over aspects of what its leadership negotiated Paramilitary prisoner releases policing changes and power sharing with the republican enemy were all controversial As the UUP leader won a Nobel Peace Prize his party began to lost elections For the UUP leadership acceptance of change was the right thing to do for Northern Ireland a case of putting country before party The decades since the peace agreement have seen the UUP eclipsed by the rival Democratic Unionist Party DUP even though most of what the UUP agreed in 1998 has remained in place This book examines the travails of the UUP in recent times It draws upon the first ever survey of UUP members and a wide range of interviews including with the five most recent leaders of the party to analyse the reasons for its reverses and the capacity to revive The volume assesses why the UUP s still sizeable membership remains loyal and discusses what the UUP and unionism means to those members in terms of loyalty policy national and religious identity views of other parties and what a shared future in Northern Ireland will constitute Amid

Brexit and talk of a border poll crises of devolved government rows with republicans and intra unionist tensions how secure and confident does the UUP membership feel about Northern Ireland's future Written by the same expert team that produced an award winning book on the DUP this book is indispensable to understanding parties and political change in divided societies

Painting History Tony Crowley, 2025-09-16 Painting History The Murals of Northern Ireland 1908-2024 is the first book length study of the oldest and most enduring tradition of political wall art Tony Crowley shows how muralism became an important medium for the unionist and loyalist community in its political domination of public space before and after Partition The text also demonstrates that nationalists and republicans painted few murals before the start of the 1981 Hunger Strike during which they painted wall art across republican areas of Northern Ireland as a way of publicizing their cause In the context of a divided society by the mid 1980s murals had become an established genre for the expression of political demands and aspirations In Painting History Tony Crowley provides a detailed analysis of the complex tradition of muralism in the context of the history that produced it with particular attention given to the cultural politics of this remarkable form The book also raises and discusses a series of theoretical questions about murals and muralism that transcend Northern Ireland issues of propriety and legality form and content authority and censorship The work ends with a consideration of the future of the murals in a still polarized but changing region

New Sinn Féin Agnès Maillot, 2005 As a consequence of Sinn Féin's connection with the IRA the military side of the republican movement has tended to overshadow the political both in terms of its internal operation and strategic choices and in terms of the attention that it has attracted from scholars writers and journalists However since the 1998 Good Friday Agreement Sinn Féin has experienced substantial growth in terms of electoral results and party support both in Northern Ireland and in the Republic of Ireland This book assesses the importance and relevance of Sinn Féin within the changing configurations of Irish politics studying it as a political party on both sides of the Irish border It investigates whether Sinn Féin can sustain the progress made over the last decade retain its identity as the voice of radical republicanism and ultimately whether its vision of a united Ireland can prevail

Contemporary Peacemaking J. Darby, Roger Mac Ginty, 2008-06-11 Contemporary Peacemaking draws on recent experience to identify and explore the essential components of peace processes The book is organized around five key themes in peacemaking planning for peace negotiations violence on peace processes peace accords and peace accord implementation and post war reconstruction

Asian Cities in an Era of Decentralisation Michelle Ann Miller, Tim Bunnell, 2016-03-16 This book critically engages with the idea of decentralization as empowering cities and their residents to act innovatively and creatively The contributions thus highlight how the term empowerment in the context of decentralization regimes masks a competing array of intentions and agendas Who and what are empowered given a voice and allowed to participate via the processes and structures of decentralization and to what ends are too frequently assumed in normative conversations about bringing government closer to the people and community driven development Creating an illusion of a shared language and common set of priorities therefore obscures more complex realities particularly when there is a disconnect between the official goals of decentralization and civil society aspirations that reinforces politics of exclusion at the grassroots Equally official processes of decentralization can and often are accompanied by less visible processes of recentralization through the reassertion of central state control over putatively autonomous jurisdictions Through studies in six Asian countries India the Philippines Indonesia Bangladesh Thailand and Japan the essays in this book examine cases whereby a range of urban actors and institutions have been empowered via decentralization and how this realignment of local power relations impacts upon the dynamics of urban governance albeit not always in socially progressive ways This book was published as a special issue of Space and Polity

The European Convention on Human Rights and the Conflict in Northern Ireland Brice Dickson, 2012-03-15 This book charts the role played by the European Convention on Human Rights during the conflict in Northern Ireland from 1968 to the present day It offers a systematic case study of the Convention's capacity to protect human rights in a society wracked by terrorism and political conflict Armed Struggle Richard English, 2005 Looks at the history of the Irish Republican Army from the 1916 Easter Rising until the present day discussing such topics as the IRA's core beliefs and philosophy the partition of Ireland and the split of the IRA The Politics of Northern Ireland Arthur Aughey, 2005-01-27 In this book one of the leading authorities on contemporary Northern Ireland politics provides an original sophisticated and innovative examination of the post Belfast agreement political landscape Written in a fluid witty and accessible style this book explores how the Belfast Agreement has changed the politics of Northern Ireland whether the peace process is still valid the problems caused by the language of politics in Northern Ireland the conditions necessary to secure political stability the inability of unionists and republicans to share the same political discourse the insights that political theory can offer to Northern Irish politics the future of key political parties and institutions

Social Movement De-Radicalisation and the Decline of Terrorism Gordon Clubb, 2016-10-04 By drawing on social movement theories this book explains how terrorist movements decline using the case of Irish Republicanism The continuity of terrorism and political violence from generation to generation demonstrates the need to go beyond a focus on groups or individuals in order to explain how terrorism ends The concept of de radicalisation has been critiqued for its lack of explanatory value in accounting for disengagement from terrorism or how the risk of terrorism re emerging is reduced However building on the morphogenetic approach this book distinguishes between structure culture and agency over time in order to analyse the causal influence between the two Two processes are analysed disengagement framing processes explain how actors change attitudes to violence and the book identifies which factors ensure frames resonate with audiences and social movement de radicalisation accounts for the outcomes of disengagement in initiating structural change which transforms the landscape the next generation finds itself in The fundamental aim of the book is to provide theoretical and conceptual insights into how terrorism can not only come to an end but can be prevented from emerging to be a significant threat again within a society This book will be of much interest to students of terrorism and political violence social movement theory British and Irish Politics war and conflict studies security studies and IR in general

The Europeanization of Party Politics in Ireland, North and South Katy Hayward, Mary Murphy, 2013-10-31 Ireland's relationship with the European Union has been determined by the behaviour actions and discourse of political parties This book examines this impact through an in depth analysis of the Europeanization of party politics in the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland First it presents original research on cross cutting issues that have featured in political debates about European integration including referendum campaigns on EU treaties Irish neutrality and party policy positions on the EU Secondly it is the first book of its kind to examine in detail how each of the main parties on the island of Ireland has adapted to EU membership In doing so it both tests the thesis of Europeanization and deepens understanding of the impact that EU membership can have on national and sub national party politics What this study reveals is that while Europeanization is clearly evident in all parties in Ireland including those most critical of European integration its influence has been strictly curtailed We argue that the effects of Europeanization in Irish party politics have been limited by enduring resistance to and conditions placed upon EU influence in particular policy areas the importance of pragmatism and sub national priorities in shaping parties approaches to European integration and the fact that engagement with the EU continues to be a predominantly elite led process This book was published as a special issue of Irish Political Studies
