Houston, with Connections Holt Rinehart & Winston,2001 Speaking American Zevi Gutfreund,2019-03-07 When Lyndon B Johnson signed the Bilingual Education Act of 1968 language learning became a touchstone in the emerging culture wars Nowhere was this more apparent than in Los Angeles where elected officials from both political parties had supported the legislation and where the most disruptive protests over it occurred The city with its diverse population of Latinos and Asian Americans is the ideal locus for Zevi Gutfreund s study of how language instruction informed the social construction of American citizenship Combining the history of language instruction school desegregation and civil rights activism as it unfolded in Japanese American and Mexican American communities in L A this timely book clarifies the critical and evolving role of language instruction in twentieth century American politics Speaking American reveals how for generations language instruction offered a forum for Angelino educators to articulate their responses to policies that racialized access to citizenship from the national origins immigration quotas of the Progressive Era through Congress s removal of race from these quotas in 1965 Meanwhile immigrant communities designed language experiments to counter efforts to limit their liberties Gutfreund s book is the first to place the experiences of Mexican Americans and Japanese Americans side by side as they navigated debates over Americanization programs intercultural education school desegregation and bilingual education In the process the book shows these language experiments helped Angelino immigrants introduce competing concepts of citizenship that were tied to their actions and deeds rather than to the English language itself Complicating the usual top down approach to the history of racial politics in education Speaking American recognizes the ways in which immigrant and ethnic activists as well as white progressives and conservatives have been deeply invested in controlling public and private aspects of language instruction in Los Angeles The book brings compelling analytic depth and breadth to its examination of the social and political landscape in a city still at the epicenter of American immigration politics The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Guiyou Huang,2006-08-08 The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Holocaust Literature Kathleen Gagnon,Dianne Ruxton,1997 Explores prejudice and historical context through cooperative learning activities Includes probing exercises that appeal to students across a wide spectrum of interests and abilities Highlights grammar and stylistic devices and provides writing practice Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers Conra D. Gist,Travis J.

Bristol,2022-10-15 Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers are underrepresented in public schools across the United States of America with Black Indigenous and People of Color making up roughly 37% of the adult population and 50% of children but just 19% of the teaching force Yet research over decades has indicated their positive impact on student learning and social and emotional development particularly for Students of Color and Indigenous Students A first of its kind the Handbook of Research on Teachers of Color and Indigenous Teachers addresses key issues and obstacles to ethnoracial diversity across the life course of teachers careers such as recruitment and retention professional development and the role of minority serving institutions Including chapters from leading researchers and policy makers the Handbook is designed to be an important resource to help bridge the gap between scholars practitioners and policy makers In doing so this research will serve as a launching pad for discussion and change at this critical moment in our country s history The volume s goal is to drive conversations around the issue of ethnoracial teacher diversity and to provide concrete practices for policy makers and practitioners to enable them to make evidence based decisions for supporting an ethnoracially diverse educator workforce now and in the future

Transnational Interconnections of Nature Studies and the Environmental Humanities Sophia Emmanouilidou,Sezgin

Toska,2020-02-24 How is ecotthinking articulated in varied research fields What are the conjunctions and concurrences of academic endeavors in the attempt to curb environmental destruction This collection of essays offers a multifaceted exploration of the basic tenets of environmentalism proposed by academic curricula across the world Ecodestruction the wilderness rampant pollution tourism developments sustainability educational interventions and the plurivocal turn to ecotheoretical textual analysis are some of the critical perspectives and scientific findings investigated here The book introduces a multilateral understanding of environmental consciousness and suggests that the study of nature should not be compartmentalized into separate fields of analyses but aim for the interconnections between disciplines given that the physical cosmos is an unambiguous and finite host of humanity s endeavours The volume appeals to academics researchers and professionals with a particular interest in the current environmental crisis offers solid insights into the ways human societies construe nature and hopefully will embark on the protection of the ecosphere Literature and Ethnicity in the Cultural Borderlands Jesús Benito, Ana María Manzanás, 2002 This volume stems from the idea that the notion of borders and borderlines as clear cut frontiers separating not only political and geographical areas but also cultural linguistic and semiotic spaces does not fully address the complexity of contemporary cultural encounters Centering on a whole range of literary works from the United States and the Caribbean the contributors suggest and discuss different theoretical and methodological grounds to address the literary production taking place across the lines in North American and Caribbean culture The volume represents a pioneering attempt at proposing the concept of the border as a useful paradigm not only for the study of Chicano literature but also for the other American literatures The works presented in the volume illustrate various aspects and manifestations of the textual border lands and explore the double voiced discourse of border texts by writers like Harriet E Wilson Rudolfo Anaya Toni Morrison Cormac McCarthy Louise Erdrich Helena Viramontes Paule Marshall and Monica Sone among others This book is of interest for scholars and researchers in the field of comparative American studies and ethnic studies The Literature of Japanese American Incarceration Frank Abe, Floyd Cheung, 2024-05-14 An essential volume Hua Hsu The New Yorker The collective voice of Japanese Americans defined by a specific moment in time the four years of World War II during which the US government expelled resident aliens and its own citizens from their homes and imprisoned 125 000 of them in American concentration camps based solely upon the race they shared with a wartime enemy A Penguin Classic This anthology presents a new vision that recovers and reframes the literature produced by the people targeted by the actions of President Franklin D Roosevelt and Congress to deny Americans of Japanese ancestry any individual hearings or other due process after the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor From nearly seventy selections of fiction poetry essays memoirs and letters emerges a shared story of the struggle to retain personal integrity in the face of increasing dehumanization all anchored by the key government documents that incite the action The selections favor the pointed over the poignant and the unknown over the familiar with several new translations among previously unseen works that have been long overlooked on the shelf buried in the archives or languished unread in the Japanese language The writings are presented chronologically so that readers can trace the continuum of events as the incarcerated experienced it The contributors span incarcerated their children born in or soon after the camps and their descendants who reflect on the long term consequences of mass incarceration for themselves and the nation Many of the voices are those of protest Some are those of accommodation All are authentic Together they form an epic narrative with a singular vision of America s past one with disturbing resonances with the American present Picture Bride and Related Readings Yoshiko Uchida,1996-09-09 Asian American Literature in Transition, 1965-1996: Volume 3 Asha Nadkarni,Cathy J. Schlund-Vials,2021-06-17 Asian American Literature in Transition Volume Three 1965 1996 offers a multidisciplinary perspective on the political and aesthetic stakes of what is now recognizable as an Asian American literary canon It takes as its central focus the connections among literature history and migration exploring how the formation of Asian American literary studies is necessarily inflected by demographic changes student activism the institutionalization of Asian American studies within the U S academy U S foreign policy specifically the Cold War and conflicts in Southeast Asia and the emergence of diaspora and transnationalism as important critical frames Moving through sections that consider migration and identity aesthetics and politics canon formation and transnationalism and diaspora this volume tracks predominant themes within Asian American literature to interrogate an ever evolving field It features nineteen original essays by leading scholars and is accessible to beginners in the field and more advanced researchers alike Life Stories Ebba Jo Tate Spettel,2020-09-08 What do you want your great grandchildren to know about you What will they want to pass on to their families What family secrets will you tell This memoir was written by a ninety one year old former army wife and teacher during the pandemic of 2020 when she had extra time to peruse her photo albums and her life Ebba Jo Spettel became an army wife the day after the Korean War began She and her husband lived in Germany in the 1950 s experiencing fears of a Russian invasion during the Cold War She helped raise four children and established her teaching career Confronting widowhood at age 52 she adapted to middle age and learned to grow old gracefully with wisdom Included are many family photos from the 1950 s to 2020 that reveal the customs and fashions of different eras Teaching Social Studies to English Language Learners Bárbara C.
