Farmer's Digest ,1979 Sowing Modernity Peter D. McClelland,2018-09-05 Contrary to those who regard the economic transformation of the West as a gradual process spanning centuries Peter D McClelland claims the initial transformation of American agriculture was an unmistakable revolution He asks when a single crucial question was first directed persistently pervasively and systematically to farming practices Is there a better way McClelland surveys practices from crop rotation to livestock breeding with a particular focus on the change in implements used to produce small grains With wit and verve and an abundance of detail he demonstrates that the first great surge in inventive activity in agronomy in the United States took place following the War of 1812 much of it in a fifteen year period ending in 1830 Once questioning the status quo became the norm for producers on and off the farm according to McClelland the march to modernization was virtually assured With the aid of more than 270 illustrations many of them taken from contemporary sources McClelland describes this stunning transformation in a manner rarely found in the agricultural literature How primitive farming implements worked what their defects were and how they were initially redesigned are explained in a manner intelligible to the novice and yet offering analysis and information of special interest to the expert History of the George Washington Bicentennial Celebration ... United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission,1932 The American Farmer American Farmer Company,1903 Library Journal ,2000 American Farming Culture and the History of Technology Joshua T. Brinkman,2024-05-06 Presenting a history of agriculture in the American Corn Belt this book argues that modernization occurred not only for economic reasons but also because of how farmers use technology as a part of their identity and culture Histories of agriculture often fail to give agency to farmers in bringing about change and ignore how people embed technology with social meaning This book however shows how farmers use technology to express their identities in unspoken ways and provides a framework for bridging the current rural urban divide by presenting a fresh perspective on rural cultural practices Focusing on German and Jeffersonian farmers in the 18th century and Corn Belt producers in the 1920s the Cold War and the recent period of globalization this book traces how farmers formed their own versions of rural modernity Rural people use technology to contest urban modernity and debunk yokel stereotypes and women specifically employed technology to resist urban gender conceptions This book shows how this performance of rural identity through technological use impacts a variety of current policy issues and business interests surrounding contemporary agriculture from the controversy over genetically modified organisms and hog confinement facilities to the growth of wind energy and precision technologies Inspired by the author s own experience on his family s farm this book provides a novel and important approach to understanding how farmers culture has changed over time and why machinery is such a potent part of their identity This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of agricultural history technology and policy rural studies the history of science and technology and the history of farming culture in the USA

Bale O' Cotton Karen Gerhardt Britton, Karen Gerhardt Britton Fort, 1992 Fact and fiction about the process that takes cotton from the field to shipping to market On the Land of My Father Bevelyn Charlene Exposé, 2014-02-10 This book evokes a time and place that is central to the American experience a past to be remembered This simple and direct narrative of family values and connections to the land is full of description Land ownership bonded a black family to its white neighbors in segregated southern Mississippi in the 1940s The author s father and brothers served in segregated armed forces to protect their country and returned home to a segregated society Working the land gave its workers identity pride and a feeling of competence Education provided independence and freedom and religion was the glue that held the family together
