Farmers Landlords And Landscapes Rural Britain 17201870pb2004:

Farmers, Landlords and Landscapes Susanna Wade Martins, 2004 Drawing on the details of contemporary accounts from Caithness to East Anglia this book tells the human and environmental story of the Age of Improvement It is a book for all those interested in landscape history and the social history of Britain in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Jacket

A Countryside for All Michael Sissons, 2001 The rural fuse has been lit The countryside is tinder dry Post offices and banks shops and schools are closing Farmers are going out of business Houses are becoming unaffordable as prices soar and poverty grows Pollution and over exploitation are destroying landscapes Many rural communities are on the verge of collapse Some fear the foot and mouth crisis will prove to be the last straw This book offers disturbing evidence of the background to the crisis A Countryside For All is a rallying cry for action pointing ways towards a prescription for the future This volume tackles many of the issues in a variety of new and original ways Possibly the most controversial and radical call is for the creation of a Department for the Countryside with a Secretary of State for the Countryside who would be responsible for setting a coherent set of policies to reverse the decline of rural Britain This timely book outlines the main problems facing the countryside and starts to bring together a balanced range of proposals Thought provoking filled with common sense often controversial but always fascinating it points the way forward for the countryside and for town and country as a whole

The Transformation of Rural England Tom Williamson, 2002 This text using landscape archaeology studies in detail the making of the rural English landscape in the 18th and 19th centuries
