Perspectives in Performing Arts Medicine Practice Sang-Hie Lee, Merry Lynn Morris, Santo V. Nicosia, 2020-03-27
Performing Arts Medicine PAM is a growing area of specialization within the performing arts field which addresses the multifaceted health and wellness of performing artists. This sub-discipline within performing arts is interdisciplinary in nature involving the expertise of performing arts educators and researchers, physicians and other health professionals. This first of its kind text appeals to a very wide audience that includes performing arts clinical practitioners and health science researchers as well as performing arts pedagogues and performing arts students. The first part of the text gives the reader an overview of the field and discusses overarching themes and issues in PAM. Part two presents an array of music and dance research involving primarily case studies that address significant issues of concern for performing artists and have implications for pedagogical practice. Part three provides research-based perspectives derived from professionals sharing their in-practice experiences. Finally, part four describes useful PAM models of implementation supporting the needs of performing artists in different settings. Written by experts in the field, Perspectives in Performing Arts Medicine Practice is a valuable resource for performing arts physicians, educators and researchers.

A Companion to Jean Renoir Alastair Phillips, Ginette Vincendeau, 2013-04-11

A Companion to Jean Renoir An extraordinary collection of essays that more than fulfills the aims of its editors Alastair Phillips and Ginette Vincendeau. The essays offer exciting original work from younger scholars as well as long established authorities, all of which offer invaluable insights into the films, writings and life of Jean Renoir. Receiving particular attention are questions about the singularity or multiplicity of what the editors call the many Renoirs: French, American, Indian, even transnational, especially from the early 1930s through the early 1960s. Whether mining relatively unexplored archive materials, deploying newly current methodological approaches, interrogating one of a wide range of topics and issues, or engaging in close textual analysis, the contributors construct a tantalizing series of innovative road maps for future researchers to pursue.

Richard Abel, University of Michigan

Alastair Phillips and Ginette Vincendeau have brought together essays that bring new perspectives to both the best known and the lesser known of Renoir's films. Both French cinema specialists and viewers new to Renoir's work will find much of interest in this outstanding collection.

Judith Mayne, Ohio State University

Dubbed simply the best director by François Truffaut, Jean Renoir is a towering figure in world film history. This exhaustive survey of his work and life features a comprehensive analysis of his films from the multiple critical perspectives of the world's leading Renoir scholars. Renoir's career spanned four decades and four countries and included an extraordinary body of films, some of which La Grande illusion (1937) and La Règle du jeu (1939) are universally recognized masterpieces.

Fathered by the celebrated painter Pierre Auguste Renoir, the filmmaker lived through much of the twentieth century, beginning his career in the silent era and ending it in full Technicolor. His films are notable for their paradoxical combination of strong internal coherence and thematic breadth and diversity, and they provide a rich source for today's scholars of film history and French culture. This handbook, the largest volume on Renoir ever produced in the English language, ranges in scope from extreme close-up analysis of individual films to long-shot explorations of his aesthetics and the social and cultural contexts in which he worked. The most ambitious critical study of Renoir to date, this book will appeal to film enthusiasts as much as scholars and specialists.
