Fasten Your Seatbelt The Passenger Is Flying The Plane:

Fasten Your Seatbelt: The Passenger is Flying the Plane Nawal K. Taneja, 2018-01-09 Fasten Your Seatbelt The Passenger is Flying the Plane is the fourth in a series written at the encouragement of practitioners in the global airline industry Core customers are beginning to seize control of the direction of the industry from airline management Customers are doing so due to deep dissatisfaction with what is being offered by traditional carriers across all areas including network product price customer service and the distribution system New airlines have clearly focused business designs with the discipline to reject non valued products or services In the US new airlines score higher in customer satisfaction offering lower fares and making larger operating profits This book is about customer behaviour and how to address it It provides detailed but easy to read practical discussion of the changes required on the part of airline management not only to think boldly but also to execute courageously and relentlessly ground breaking strategies to fly ahead of their customers As with previous books written by Nawal Taneja the primary audience continues to be senior level practitioners within the global airline industry in both traditional carrier and low complexity carrier segments The approach is impartial candid and pragmatic based on what is happening in the actual market place rather than theoretical business models

Looking Beyond the Runway Nawal K. Taneja, 2016-12-05 The global airline industry facing significant changes and discontinuity is prompted and forced to deal with a new normal Who would have imagined a few years ago that a significant percentage of consumers in the US now prefer to fly low cost airlines instead of full service airlines because they perceive the product to be better airlines would generate up to a third of their total income from non ticket revenue many low cost airlines would add complexity to their original simple business models through the development of code share agreements the use of global distribution systems and travel agents to distribute their seats Jetstar a low cost subsidiary of Qantas would grow faster and be more profitable than its parent a survey carried out by Ryanair would show that 42 percent of passengers would be willing to stand on short one hour flights if they could pay 50 percent less than seated passengers passengers could pay as little as US 2 000 for a transatlantic Business Class ticket on top brand airlines Lufthansa would have ownership in airlines based in Austria Belgium Italy Switzerland Turkey the UK and the US and that it would continue to pursue equity ownership in airlines based in Poland and Scandinavia or the Japanese and Canadian governments would struggle to find different ways to bail out their heretofore flag carriers To deal with this upcoming new normal airlines have to go beyond their short term circumstantial strategies they need strategic renewal of their ageing business model In this candidly written book Nawal Taneja explains what will separate the winners from the losers He maintains the leaders will be the airlines that 1 exploit this crisis driven change to their best advantage 2 learn to work around the airline inherent constraints that prevent them from running their businesses just like other businesses 3 learn from successes and failures of other global enterprises 4 sharpen their business intelligence analytics and strategic agility and 5 proactively explore the pockets of growth in this emerging markets century To help airline executives become informed of new competitive games the author analyzes numerous business sectors such as auto hospitality retail technology and entertainment For example relevant lessons can be learned from the strategic mistakes made by the US automakers Likewise emergent and compelling insights can be gained in superior customer experience from Ritz Carlton and Zappos and in value creating innovation from Cirque du Soleil and Zipcar The book also features a multitude of forewords from airlines and related businesses to provide readers with multiple perspectives on the changing landscape in the global airline industry Nawal Taneja is a career analyst of the global airline industry with wide ranging experience in the aviation industry academia and public policy Encouraged by industry executives he has written five other books for practitioners in the global airline industry including FASTEN YOUR SEATBELT The Passenger is Flying the Plane and Flying Ahead of the Airplane Global Airlines James Patrick Hanlon,2007 Provides comprehensive insight into today s global airline industry now in its 3rd edition Tourism Management Stephen J. Flight TG-101 to nowhere Subroto Sinha, A daring covert action by the CIA to hijack a Boeing 777 passenger plane carrying Russian and Chinese computer scientists to London from Bangkok These scientists were collaborating on a project to develop a highly sensitive software that could hack computer systems in the USA and bring all activities under their control As part of the operation the entire plane with all the passengers including the scientists were hijacked and transported to an isolated island in the Indian Ocean which was serving as a strategic naval base of the USA Here the scientists were separated from the other passengers and sent to a secret location in the USA in different military aircrafts. The scientists were interrogated and coerced into working for the USA. They were given all facilities needed to develop the program and implement it on the computer systems in Moscow. A startling story of how the program which was prepared to paralyze the American computer network was used instead to cause a breakdown of the power system in Moscow. Meanwhile all international efforts to track the Boeing 777 plane proved futile and it was believed to have crashed in the ocean leaving no survivors. The American government also joined the search effort officially and offered condolences for the death of the passengers.

Designing and Executing Strategy in Aviation Management Dr Triant G Flouris, Professor Sharon L Oswald, 2012-10-01. Designing and Executing Strategy in Aviation Management is designed to provide an intensely practical guide to this critically important topic. Comprehensive in coverage and easy to read in style, it allows both professionals and students to understand the principles and practicalities of crafting and executing business strategies with an aviation context. The result is a comprehensive and multifaceted teaching learning package which includes applied case studies on a wide range of airlines and aviation businesses setting out how these organizations deal with strategy formulation and implementation in critical areas. Topics covered include corporate strategy, generic strategy, competitive strategy, internal and external environment assessment, mergers, alliances, safety and security. Written directly for both aviation professionals and student courses in aviation strategy, aviation management and aviation operations, it will also be of great interest to aviation professionals in a variety of different fields including airlines, corporate aviation consultancy etc as well as academics within the field of aviation and those within the field of strategy and management science.

Handbook of Research on Consumerism and Buying Behavior in Developing Nations Gbadamosi, Ayantunji, 2016-05-31. Having a grasp on what appeals to consumers and how consumers are making purchasing decisions is essential to the success of any organization that thrives by offering a product or service. Despite the importance of consumer knowledge and understanding, research based insight into the buying patterns and consumption habits of individuals in emerging nations remains limited. The Handbook of Research on Consumerism and Buying Behavior in Developing Nations takes a critical look at the often overlooked opportunities available for driving consumer demand and interest in developing countries. Emphasizing the power of the consumer market in emerging economies and their overall role in the global market system, this edited volume features research based perspectives on consumer perception, behavior and relationship management across industries. This timely publication is an essential resource for marketing professionals, consumer researchers, international business strategists, scholars and graduate level students.
