approach to tumor treatment and in this era of tailored or targeted oncological therapies the use of needle biopsy in the diagnosis of neoplasia at all phases of the disease is expected to increase dramatically The efficacy of this technique is however strongly influenced by the experience of the physician performing the technique and by the pathologist's ability to interpret the results derived from the minimal cellular harvest The aim of this volume is to provide all of the information and insight needed to obtain a correct diagnosis based on needle biopsy evaluation In a problem oriented approach the author describes the optimal interventional maneuver and biopsy sample triage for all types of lesions The reader is then guided through the interpretation of all possible cytological findings based on a pattern analysis methodology The integration of this information with clinical and preanalytical data is the best approach to obtain a correct diagnosis

FNA Cytology in the Diagnosis of Lymphoma Lambert Skoog, 2009 A comprehensive color manual Fine needle aspiration FNA became important for the cytology of the enlarged lymph node in the 1950s and 1960s and was accepted in the diagnosis of various types of lymphadenitis and metastatic disease The diagnosis of lymphoma by FNA cytology however remained controversial for many years as FNA smears did not allow the evaluation of growth pattern Only later with the introduction of immunocytochemistry on FNA material it became possible to conclusively diagnose the majority of lymphomas with an accuracy comparable to that of histopathology Other ancillary techniques such as FISH and PCR can now also be applied successfully to FNA material These facts together with the excellent clinical performance of FNA sampling should increase the spread of the technique This comprehensive manual presents the cytomorphologic and immunocytochemical characteristics of both non Hodgkin and Hodgkin lymphomas It discusses the technical methodological aspects of lymphoma diagnosis and describes the cytologic features of reactive lymphoid lesions and the major types of neoplastic lymphoid lesions based on the most recent 2001 WHO lymphoma classification Key cytologic and immunologic features are listed to facilitate a conclusive diagnosis of the different lesions This publication will be of immense value to clinicians such as cytopathologists pathologists oncologists and hematologists involved in the clinical work up and management of patients with lymph node lesions give more evidence based reports In recognition of their rapid expansion there are new chapters on recent technological developments and on the cytodiagnosis of childhood tumours A special section on the importance of multidisciplinary team meetings that include the cytopathologist as a core member of the team has also been included at the end of each chapter As active members of this team cytopathologists can define their role in the management pathway and thus bring the patient and the microscope together as never before The full text can be accessed online and images downloaded via Expert Consult
