Fingering Ingres:

Ingres and the Studio Sarah E. Betzer, 2012 An exploration of the portrait art of Jean Auguste Dominique Ingres focusing on his studio practice and his training of students Encyclopedia of the Romantic Era, 1760-1850 Christopher John Murray, 2013-05-13 In 850 analytical articles this two volume set explores the developments that influenced the profound changes in thought and sensibility during the second half of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth century The Encyclopedia provides readers with a clear detailed and accurate reference source on the literature thought music and art of the period demonstrating the rich interplay of international influences and cross currents at work and to explore the many issues raised by the very concepts of Romantic and Romanticism Fleshing out surfaces Mechthild Fend, 2017-01-02 Fleshing out surfaces is the first English language book on skin and flesh tones in art It considers flesh and skin in art theory image making and medical discourse in seventeenth to nineteenth century France Describing a gradual shift between the early modern and the modern period it argues that what artists made when imitating human nakedness was not always the same Initially understood in terms of the body's substance of flesh tones and body colour it became increasingly a matter of skin skin colour and surfaces Each chapter is dedicated to a different notion of skin and its colour from flesh tones via a membrane imbued with nervous energy to hermetic borderline Looking in particular at works by Fragonard David Girodet Benoist and Ingres the focus is on portraits as facial skin is a special arena for testing painterly skills and a site where the body and the image become equally expressive Staging Empire: Napoleon, Ingres, and David , In an unprecedented collaboration two scholars investigate these masterpieces in their broad cultural context This book is an illustrated extensively documented analytical tour de force Ingres and His Critics Andrew Carrington Shelton, 2005-10-03 This book examines the critical writing and journalistic reportage on Jean Auguste Dominique Ingres from the time of his renunciation of the Salon in 1834 until his large retrospective at the 1855 Universal Exposition the crucial middle decades of his career This massive body of writing demonstrates how Ingres shaped his career in the rapidly evolving art world of mid nineteenth century Paris Enjoying the benefits of his affiliation with the Academy the artist also employed certain modes of presentation most notably the single artist exhibition and illustrated monograph through which he distanced himself and his work from the embattled world of artistic officialdom Theophile Gautier, Orator to the Artists James Kearns, 2017-12-02 Theophile Gautier a envoyé avec un feuilleton plus de trois mille personnes dans l'atelier de M Ingres wrote Champfleury in 1848 For artists critics and readers alike Gautier was the essential figure in French art journalism in the mid nineteenth century During the short lived but pivotal period of the Second Republic when the new administration was committed to reforming all the institutions of the fine arts Gautier deployed the full resources of his brilliant flexible and authoritative writing to support and direct these developments in ways compatible with his commitment to an idealist aesthetic itself under growing pressure from alternative trends in an increasingly competitive art market This first study of all Gautiers art journalism written during the Second Republic provides a long overdue reassessment of Gautiers importance in French nineteenth century visual culture Anteaesthetics Rizvana Bradley,2023-10-24 In Anteaesthetics Rizvana Bradley begins from the proposition that blackness cannot be represented in modernity's aesthetic regime but is nevertheless foundational to every representation Troubling the idea that the aesthetic is sheltered from the antiblack terror that lies just beyond its sanctuary Bradley insists that blackness cannot make a home within the aesthetic yet is held as its threshold and aporia The book problematizes the phenomenological and ontological conceits that underwrite the visual sensual and abstract logics of modernity Moving across multiple histories and geographies artistic mediums and forms from nineteenth century painting and early cinema to the contemporary text based works video installations and digital art of Glenn Ligon Mickalene Thomas and Sondra Perry Bradley inaugurates a new method for interpretation an ante formalism which demonstrates how black art engages in the recursive deconstruction of the aesthetic forms that remain foundational to modernity Foregrounding the negativity of black art Bradley shows how each of these artists disclose the racialized contours of the body form and medium even interrogating the form that is the world itself Drawing from black critical theory Continental philosophy film and media studies art history and black feminist thought Bradley explores artistic practices that inhabit the negative underside of form Ultimately Anteaesthetics asks us to think philosophically with black art and with the philosophical invention black art necessarily undertakes In and Out of View Catha Paquette,Karen Kleinfelder,Christopher Miles,2021-09-09 In In and Out of View models an expansion in how censorship is discursively framed Contributors from diverse backgrounds including artists art historians museum specialists and students address controversial instances of art production and reception from the mid 20th century to the present in the Americas Africa Asia Europe and the Middle East Their essays interviews and statements invite consideration of the shifting contexts values and needs through which artwork moves in and out of view At issue are governmental restrictions and discursive effects including erasure and distortion resulting from institutional policies canonical processes and interpretive methods Crucial considerations concerning death violence authoritarianism neo colonialism global capitalism labor immigration race religion sexuality activism social justice disability campus speech and cultural destruction are highlighted The anthology a thought provoking resource for students and scholars in art history museum and cultural studies and creative practices represents a timely and significant contribution to the literature on censorship Ways Around Modernism Stephen Bann,2013-10-18 Stephen Bann examines the arguments for the centrality of French modernist painting He begins by focusing particularly on the notion of the modernist break as it has been interpreted with regard to painters like Manet and Ingres He argues that curiosity with its origins in the seventeenth century world view can be a valid concept for understanding some aspects of contemporary art that contest the modern suggesting ways of sidetracking the modern by adopting a lengthier historical view Caesars' Wives Annelise Freisenbruch,2011-10-25 Documents the stories of eight wives of Roman rulers assessing their historical contributions and cultural influence and drawing parallels between modern first ladies and the lives of such ancient world figures as Livia Helena and Julia

Time, Media, and Visuality in Post-Revolutionary France Iris Moon, Richard Taws, 2021-07-01 The radical break with the past heralded by the French Revolution in 1789 has become one of the mythic narratives of our time Yet in the drawn out afterlife of the Revolution and through subsequent periods of Empire Restoration and Republic the question of what such a temporal transformation might involve found complex often unresolved expression in visual and material culture This diverse collection of essays draws attention to the eclectic objects and forms of visuality that emerged in France from the beginning of the French Revolution through to the end of the July Monarchy in 1848 It offers a new account of the story of French art s modernity by exploring the work of genre painters and miniaturists sign painters and animal artists landscapists architects and printmakers as they worked out what it meant to be post revolutionary

Walter Pater and the Language of Sculpture Lene ?termark-Johansen, 2017-07-05 Walter Pater and the Language of Sculpture is the first monograph to discuss the Victorian critic Walter Pater s attitude to sculpture It brings together Pater s aesthetic theories with his theories on language and writing to demonstrate how his ideas of the visual and written language are closely interlinked Going beyond Pater s views on sculpture as an art form this study traces the notion of relief rilievo and hybrid form in Pater and his view of the writer as sculptor a carver in language Alongside her treatment of rilievo as a pervasive trope Lene termark Johansen also employs the idea of rivalry paragone more broadly examining Pater s concern with positioning himself as an art critic in the late Victorian art world Situating Pater within centuries of European aesthetic theories as never before done Walter Pater and the Language of Sculpture throws new light on the extraordinary complexity and coherence of Pater s writing The critic is

Fingering Ingres

Susan Siegfried, Adrian Rifkin, 2001-06-08 This book is a reassessment of the role of Ingres studies in the writing of nineteenth century art history The title Fingering Ingres refers to a remark of Jean Cassou the French art critic political militant and founding director of the Musee National d Art Moderne in which he wrote of Ingres caressing his materials with the tip of his finger nail The volume pays tribute to Ingres historiographical enigma in bringing together a set of essays that scratch at and perhaps puncture the surface of his received framings Ranging from the scrupulous study of Ingres incapacity to allow himself a finished oeuvre to the artificial construction of his conflict with Delacroix to a radical rethinking of his role in cultural modernity the essays pick out the textures of a crucial mytheme of nineteenth century French art Combining scholarship from different generations of the contemporary critical social and semiotic histories of art Fingering Ingres offers a freshly virtuoso and deconstructive approach to the art historical genre of the artist s monograph

Marshall Plan Modernism

Jaleh Mansoor, 2016-09-02 Focusing on artwork by Lucio Fontana Alberto Burri and Piero Manzoni Jaleh Mansoor demonstrates and reveals how abstract painting especially the monochrome broke with fascist associated futurism and functioned as an index of social transition in postwar Italy Mansoor refuses to read the singularly striking formal and procedural violence of Fontana's slit canvasses Burri's burnt and exploded plastics and Manzoni's achromes as metaphors of traumatic memories of World War II Rather she locates the motivation for this violence in the history of the medium of painting and in the economic history of postwar Italy Reconfiguring the relationship between politics and aesthetics Mansoor illuminates how the monochrome's reemergence reflected Fontana Burri and Manzoni's aesthetic and political critique of the Marshall Plan's economic warfare and growing American hegemony It also anticipated the struggles in Italy's factories classrooms and streets that gave rise to Autonomia in the 1960s Marshall Plan Modernism refigures our understanding of modernist painting as a project about labor and the geopolitics of postwar reconstruction during the Italian Miracle The Republic of Color Kristin Koster, 2008
