Baltic Musics/Baltic Musicologies Kevin C. Karnes, Joachim Braun, 2013-09-13 This volume is the first to bring together music scholars working on Baltic topics from throughout Europe, North America and the Middle East for the purpose of exploring the impact of Nazi and Soviet occupation 1940-91 and the restoration of republican independence upon the production of musicological knowledge in and about the Baltic States of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. Its collected essays sketch for the first time post-Soviet histories of the sociological dimensions of music study in the region and examine methodological and ethical problems raised by music scholarship. They shed new light on such topics as the advent of Lithuanian musical modernism, the ecumenicity of Christian musics in Estonia and the effects of Soviet nationalities policy upon the Latvian musicological discourse. Together they confront those aspects of Baltic music study that still bear the marks of the Nazi and Soviet experience and they suggest ways in which the turbulent cultural and political histories of the region might be negotiated by scholars presently active in the field. This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Baltic Studies. Library of Congress Subject Headings: F-O Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, 1989

This collection of essays, which looks at historical examples of artistic practice from the early pioneers of abstraction to late modernism, investigates the ambivalent role that abstraction has played in the visual arts and cultures of the last hundred years. In addition, it explores various theoretical and critical narratives that seek to articulate new perspectives on its legacy in the visual arts. From metaphysical considerations and philosophical reflections to debates on interculturality and global perspectives, the contributors examine and reconsider abstraction in the visual arts from a contemporary point of view that acknowledges the many social, economic, cultural and political aspects of artistic practice. As such, the volume progressively expands the boundaries of thinking about abstract art by engaging it in its increasingly diverse cultural environment. Performing Nordic Heritage Lizette Gradén, 2016-05-13 The performance of heritage takes place in prestigious institutions such as museums and archives, in officially sanctioned spaces such as jubilees and public monuments, but also in more mundane, ephemeral and banal cultural practices such as naming of phenomena, viewing exhibitions or walking in the countryside This volume examines the performance of Nordic heritage and the shaping of the very idea of Norden in diverse contexts in North America the Baltic and the Nordic countries and examines the importance of these places as sites for creating and preserving cultural heritage Offering rich perspectives on a part of Europe which has not been the centre of discussion in the Anglophone world this volume will be of value to a wide readership including cultural historians museum practitioners policy makers and scholars of heritage ethnology and folkloristics Beyond

Multicultural Art Education Rachel Mason, Doug Boughton, 1999 Multiculturalism is a term that has been much used in educational texts in recent years Its usage is frequently taken for granted in the rhetoric of curriculum literature However it has recently become clear that there are significant variations of interpretations of multiculturalism in different world regions This book takes a new and deeper look at the notion of multiculturalism through the lens of art education In educational terms art is a unique tool for the investigation of cultural values because it transcends the barrier of language and provides visceral and tacit insights into cultural change In order to address the educational interpretations and methods of implementing multiculturalism in different regions of the world this book contains discussion and analysis of perspectives on art education theory and practice from thirteen countries The authors of each chapter are respected multicultural experts in their geographic locations who are well equipped to provide unique insights into the particular issues of multiculturalism viewed from the perspective of art in educational contexts The book as a whole provides tools for the conceptual analysis of contemporary notions linked with multiculturalism such as interculturalism internationalism and globalisation It also provides strategies for art teaching in relation to these ideas While the term multicultural education is problematic this book presents conceptual frameworks that should assist educators to examine their own teaching on issues of equity and diversity that are central to the multicultural education debate Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1980
