Fire in the Dragon and Other Psychoanalytic Essays on Folklore Géza Rheim, 1992-07-15 The only Freudian to have been originally trained in folklore and the first psychoanalytic anthropologist to carry out fieldwork Géza Rheim 1891 1953 contributed substantially to the worldwide study of cultures Combining a global perspective with encyclopedic knowledge of ethnographic sources this Hungarian analyst demonstrates the validity of Freudian theory in both Western and non Western settings These seventeen essays written between 1922 and 1953 are among Rheim's most significant published writings and are collected here for the first time to introduce a new generation of readers to his unique interpretations of myths folktales and legends From Australian aboriginal mythology to Native American trickster tales from the Grimm folktale canon to Hungarian folk belief Rheim explores a wide range of issues such as the relationship of dreams to folklore and the primacy of infantile conditioning in the formation of adult fantasy An introduction by folklorist Alan Dundes describes Rheim's career and each essay is prefaced by a brief consideration of its intellectual and bibliographical context Fire in the Dragon and Other Psychoanalytic Essays on Folklore Géza Róheim, 2001-09 For those who have not previously read Rheim and who have at least an open mind on the possibility of applying psychoanalytic theory to folklore you have an exciting intellectual treat in store for you Once having read Rheim you will never be able to look at folklore again as you did before exposure to these remarkable essays Alan Dundes from the Introduction Psychoanalytic Approaches to Myth Daniel Merkur, 2005-07-05 This book surveys the history of psychoanalytic treatments of myths variously as symptoms of psychopathology as cultural defense mechanisms and as metaphoric expressions of ideas that may include therapeutic insights A Dance of Assassins Allen F. Roberts, 2013 A Dance of Assassins presents the competing histories of how Congolese Chief Lusinga and Belgian Lieutenant Storms engaged in a deadly clash while striving to establish hegemony along the southwestern shores of Lake Tanganyika in the 1880s While Lusinga participated in the east African slave trade Storms' secret mandate was to meet Henry Stanley's eastward march and trace a white line across the Dark Continent to legitimize King Leopold's audacious claim to the Congo Confrontation was inevitable and Lusinga lost his head His skull became the subject of a sinister evolutionary treatise while his ancestral figure is now considered a treasure of the Royal Museum for Central Africa Allen F. Roberts reveals the theatricality of early colonial encounter and how it continues to influence Congolese and Belgian understandings of history today Cruel Attachments John Borneman, 2015-03-09 There is no more seemingly incorrigible criminal type than the child sex offender Said to suffer from a deeply rooted paraphilia he is often considered as outside the moral limits of the human profoundly resistant to change Despite these assessments in much of the West an increasing focus on rehabilitation through therapy provides hope that psychological transformation is possible Examining the experiences of child sex offenders undergoing therapy in Germany where such treatments are both a legal right and duty John Borneman in Cruel Attachments offers a fine grained account of rehabilitation for this reviled criminal type Carefully exploring different cases of the attempt to rehabilitate child sex offenders Borneman details a secular ritual process aimed not only at preventing future acts of molestation but also at fundamentally transforming the offender who is ultimately charged with creating an almost entirely new self Acknowledging the powerful repulsion felt by a public that is often extremely skeptical about the success of rehabilitation he challenges readers to confront the contemporary contexts and conundrums that lie at the heart of regulating intimacy between children and adults
