The Untold Story of the Talking Book Matthew Rubery, 2023-01-18 A history of audiobooks from entertainment rehabilitation for blinded World War I soldiers to a twenty first century competitive industry Histories of the book often move straight from the codex to the digital screen Left out of that familiar account are nearly 150 years of audio recordings Recounting the fascinating history of audio recorded literature Matthew Rubery traces the path of innovation from Edison s recitation of Mary Had a Little Lamb for his tinfoil phonograph in 1877 to the first novel length talking books made for blinded World War I veterans to today s billion dollar audiobook industry The Untold Story of the Talking Book focuses on the social impact of audiobooks not just the technological history in telling a story of surprising and impassioned conflicts from controversies over which books the Library of Congress selected to become talking books yes to Kipling no to Flaubert to debates about what defines a reader Delving into the vexed relationship between spoken and printed texts Rubery argues that storytelling can be just as engaging with the ears as with the eyes and that audiobooks deserve to be taken seriously They are not mere derivatives of printed books but their own form of entertainment We have come a long way from the era of sound recorded on wax cylinders when people imagined one day hearing entire novels on mini phonographs tucked inside their hats Rubery tells the untold story of this incredible evolution and in doing so breaks from convention by treating audiobooks as a distinctively modern art form that has profoundly influenced the way we read Praise for The Untold Story of the Talking Book If audiobooks are relatively new to your world you might wonder where they came from and where they're going And for general fans of the intersection of culture and technology The Untold Story of the Talking Book is a fascinating read Neil Steinberg Chicago Sun Times Rubery explores 150 years of the audio format with an imminently accessible style touching upon a wide range of interconnected topics Through careful investigation of the co-development of formats within the publishing industry Rubery shines a light on overlooked pioneers of audio Rubery's work succeeds in providing evidence to move beyond the reductive debate on whether audiobooks really count as reading and establishes the format's rightful place in the literary family Mary Burkey Booklist starred review The Independent Leonard Bacon, Joseph Parrish Thompson, Richard Salter Storrs, Joshua Leavitt, Henry Ward Beecher, Theodore Tilton, Henry Chandler Bowen, William Hayes Ward, Hamilton Holt, Fabian Franklin, Harold de Wolf Fuller, Christian Archibald Herter, 1913 The Life and Letters of Lord Byron George Gordon Byron Baron Byron, 1858 English Journal, 1924 Using Poetry Across the Curriculum Barbara Chatton, 2010-01-13 This comprehensive listing and discussion of poetic works supports the standards of all areas of the curriculum helping librarians and teachers working with kindergarten through middle school students This second edition of Using Poetry Across the Curriculum Learning to Love Language offers a comprehensive list of poetry anthologies poetic picture books and poetic prose works in a wide variety of subject areas While it maintains the original edition's focus on ideas and resource lists for integration of poetry into all areas of the curriculum it is thoroughly revised to cover current issues in education and the wealth of new poetry books available The book is organized by subject areas commonly taught in elementary and middle schools and within these by the national standards in each area Numerous examples of poetry and poetic prose that can be used to help students understand and appreciate aspects of the standard are listed A sampling of units that arise from groups of works writing and performance ideas and links across the curriculum is also included While many teaching ideas and topics provide references to the standards they meet this title is unique in starting with those standards and making links across them The Bay View Magazine, 1897 The Influence of Meaning on Children's Choices of Poetry Blanche Ethel Weekes, 1929 New York Teachers' Monographs, 1927
