[With Plates.]* Isabel Crook, David Crook, 1966 The First Years of Yangyi Commune Stanley James Curtis, 1966 Prosperity's Predicament Isabel Brown Crook, Christina Kelley Gilmartin, 2013-09-26 This classic in the annals of village studies will be widely read and debated for what it reveals about China's rural dynamics as well as the nature of state power markets the military social relations and religion Built on extraordinarily intimate and detailed research in a Sichuan village that Isabel Crook began in 1940 the book provides an unprecedented history of Chinese rural life during the war with Japan It is an essential resource for all scholars of contemporary China The Age of Wild Ghosts Erik Mueggler, 2001-04-09 In Erik Mueggler's powerful and imaginative ethnography a rural minority community in the mountains of Southwest China struggles to find its place at the end of a century of violence and at the margins of a nation state Here people describe the present age beginning with the Great Leap Famine of 1958 1960 and continuing through the 1990s as the age of wild ghosts Their stories of this age converge on a dream of community a bad dream embodied in the life death and reawakening of a single institution a rotating headman ship system that expired violently under the Maoist regime Displaying a sensitive understanding of both Chinese and the Tibeto Burman language spoken in this region Mueggler explores memories of this institution including the rituals and poetics that once surrounded it and the bitter conflicts that now haunt it To exorcise wild ghosts he shows is nothing less than to imagine the state and its power to trace the responsibility for violence to its morally ambiguous origins and to enunciate calls for justice and articulate longings for reconciliation Doing Fieldwork in China Maria Heimer, 2006-03-31 Doing fieldwork inside the PRC is an eye opening but sometimes also deeply frustrating experience In this volume scholars from around the world reflect on their own fieldwork practice to give practical advice and discuss more general theoretical points The contributors come from a wide range of disciplines such as political science anthropology economics media studies history cultural geography and sinology The book also contains an extensive bibliography Contributors Bu Wei Björn Gustafsson Mette Halskov Hansen Baogang He Maria Heimer Björn Kjellgren Li Shi Kevin J O'Brien Dorothy J Solinger Maria Svensson Elin Söther Mette Thun Stig Thøgersen Emily T Yeh Americans and Chinese Francis L. Jewish Identities in East and Southeast Asia Jonathan Goldstein, 2015-11-13 The Jewish communities of East and Southeast Asia display an impressive diversity. Jonathan Goldstein's book covers the period from 1750 and focuses on seven of the area's largest cities and trading emporia: Singapore, Manila, Taipei, Harbin, Shanghai, Rangoon and Surabaya. The book isolates five factors which contributed to the formation of transnational multiethnic and multicultural identity: memory, colonialism, regional nationalism, socialism and Zionism. It emphasizes those factors which preserved specifically Judaic aspects of identity. Drawing extensively on interviews conducted in all seven cities as well as governmental institutional commercial and personal archives, censuses and cemetery data, the book provides overviews of communal life and intimate portraits of leading individuals and families. Jews were engaged in everything from business and finance to revolutionary activity. Some collaborated with the Japanese while others confronted them on the battlefield. The book attempts to treat fully and fairly the wide spectrum of Jewish experience ranging from that of the ultra Orthodox to the completely secular.

Gao Village Mobo C. F. Gao, 1999-01-01 This book is about Gao Village in Jiangxi province where the author was born and brought up, leaving when he was twenty one to study English at Xiamen University. Since emigrating to Australia in 1990 he has returned every year to Gao Village where his brother still lives Several accounts of village life in China have been published but all have been by Western or urban Chinese scholars Mobo Gao's account is in every sense one from the inside Though written as an academic work it does not eschew personal stories and experiences relevant to the themes addressed These cover a forty year period and fall into four distinct themes the village before and after land reform the commune system the dismantling of the communes and the unfolding impact of the market economy including increased migration to urban areas from the late 1980s onwards Agrarian Radicalism in China, 1968-1981 David Zweig, 1989

During and after the Cultural Revolution radical leaders in the Chinese Communist Party tried to mobilize rural society for socioeconomic and political changes and move rural China to even higher stages of collectivism David Zweig argues that because advocates of agrarian radicalism formed a minority group within China's central leadership they acted in opposition to the dominant moderate forces and resorted to alternative strategies to mobilize support for their unofficial policies The limited institutionalization of the system allowed the radicals to promote their principles through policy winds speeches generated by newspaper articles networks of political allies and organized visits they also linked their policies to ongoing political and economic campaigns In spite of this radical ideology and frequent upheavals in the countryside Zweig finds that Chinese peasants had no ideological affinity for Mao's theory of the continuing revolution and reacted to each policy change on the basis of how it affected their personal family or collective interests Despite intense propaganda cadres adjusted the impact of these radical policies so that the peasants' conservative mindset entrepreneurial spirit and desire to improve their own lot remained intact Zweig examines the local realities of the radicals' program by describing the results of specific policies he discriminates among the responses of officials at different bureaucratic levels peasants of varying income levels and family structures and villages with specific geographic and socioeconomic characteristics He draws on his own field research in Chinese villages and interviews with Chinese college students and their friends who had lived in the countryside and emigrants in Hong Kong who had lived and worked in rural China Education in Communist China R.F.
