Documenting Spain: Artists, Exhibition Culture, and the Modern Nation, 1929-1939 , The news media have given us potent demonstrations of the ambiguity of ostensibly truthful representations of public events Jordana Mendelson uses this ambiguity as a framework for the study of Spanish visual culture from 1929 to 1939 a decade marked on the one hand by dictatorship civil war and Franco s rise to power and on the other by a surge in the production of documentaries of various types from films and photographs to international exhibitions Mendelson begins with an examination of El Pueblo Espa ol a model Spanish village featured at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona She then discusses Bu uel s and Dal s documentary films relating them not only to French Surrealism but also to issues of rural tradition in the formation of regional and national identities Her highly original book concludes with a discussion of the 1937 Spanish Pavilion where Picasso s famed painting of the Fascist bombing of a Basque town Guernica was exhibited along with monumental photomurals by Josep Renau Based upon years of archival research Mendelson s book opens a new perspective on the cultural politics of a turbulent era in modern Spain It explores the little known yet rich intersection between avant garde artists and government institutions It shows as well the surprising extent to which Spanish modernity was fashioned through dialogue between the seemingly opposed fields of urban and rural fine art and mass culture The Art of Toshiko
