First Do No Unjust Harm Recognizing And Confronting Evil:

First, Do No Unjust Harm John Pletz, 2003-06-04 First Do No Unjust Harm begins from the premise that one of our primary moral duties is to avoid doing wrong and from the observation that people seem to violate that duty not infrequently in their quest to oppose evil in the pursuit of some ostensibly higher good Since many of these ethical problems appear to be caused by faulty or insufficient analysis of what is wrong Pletz has worked out some more rigorous guidelines for such analyses The recognition of evil begins with the proposition that its three main elements are a harm which has been inflicted on another b responsibility for its resting with one or more persons who have caused it and c the unjust nature of the harm The author also provides a framework for considering how we can confirm or refute our tentative conclusions about evil and how we can ascertain their relative degrees of intensity First Do No Unjust Harm then proceeds to address the question of how to confront the temptations that we face and the inclinations that we have to do wrong things Pletz also discusses strategies for actions designed to thwart the evil that others may be doing or intending to do for even though opposing evil may constitute one of our most dangerous undertakings we must sometimes do precisely that if we want the world to be a more moral place Critical to the success of such efforts however is the accurate application of our powers of judgment for we must be as sure as we can possibly be that what we are opposing is in fact wrong and in need of redress Confronting

Whiteness Boswell, W. Benjamin, 2024-02-21 Engaging intellectual works by Black authors to help readers identify and dismantle Whiteness Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Distant Markets, Distant Harms Daniel Finn, 2014-03-19 Does a consumer who bought a shirt made in another nation bear any moral responsibility when the women who sewed that shirt die in a factory fire or in the collapse of the building Many have asserted without explanation that because markets cause harms to distant others consumers bear moral responsibility for those harms But traditional moral analysis of individual decisions is unable to sustain this argument Distant Harms Distant Markets presents a careful analysis of moral complicity in markets employing resources from sociology Christian history feminism legal theory and Catholic moral theology today Because of its individualistic methods mainstream economics as a discipline is not equipped to understand the causality entailed in the long chains of social relationships that make up the market Critical realist sociology however has addressed the character and functioning of social structures an analysis that can helpfully be applied to the market The True Wealth of Nations research project of the Institute for Advanced Catholic Studies brought together an international group of sociologists economists moral theologians and others to describe these causal relationships and articulate how Catholic social thought can use these insights to more fully address issues of economic ethics in the twenty first century The result was this interdisciplinary volume of essays which explores the causal and moral responsibilities that consumers bear for the harms that markets cause to distant others Irresistible Invitation 40 Day Reading Book Maxie Dunnam, 2010-10-01 Maxie Dunnam reminds us that accepting the invitation begins with a few quiet

Vision of CARL GUSTAV JUNG: A Therapeutic Path Toward Transformation Sinuhe Ulises García Reynoso ,2025-01-02 Discover the fascinating life and work of Carl Gustav Jung the Swiss visionary who from an early age displayed an insatiable curiosity about the darkest corners of the human psyche His collaboration and break with Freud marked the birth of analytical psychology a discipline that delves into universal symbols and the collective unconscious But Jung was more than a theorist His prophetic visions anticipated the tragedies of World War I and World War II with uncanny accuracy As he explored the human soul he warned of the danger of a spiritual disconnection that could bring modern man to the brink of extinction In this book we explore Jung s many facets the mystic who explored the secrets of alchemy and astrology the secret agent who collaborated with military intelligence and the scientist who challenged the limits of the human psyche Through contemporary examples and inspiring reflections we discover how Jungian principles can illuminate our understanding of today s world From the ecological crisis to social tensions to the search for personal meaning Jung offers us tools for integrating the spiritual into our daily lives and provides a framework for understanding the complexities of our times This book celebrates Jung's enduring influence as a beacon of wisdom in exploring the deeper facets of the human soul and the search for personal and collective wholeness In a world desperate for answers through Jung's legacy we invite readers to embrace our humanity and reconnect with the vast cosmos we inhabit Integrating contemporary scientific approaches with the ancestral wisdom of indigenous peoples helps to conjure a sustainable and meaningful future for humanity

The Gospel of Matthew John Schultz, 2013-10 John was born in Haarlem The Netherlands in 1930 He suffered starvation during Nazi occupation of Holland during World War II His father was imprisoned by the Nazis for six weeks for supplying the ten Boom family with ration cards though they never found this out John felt the call to ministry went to Bible School in Brussels Belgium and met and married his wife there They both felt a strong call to the mission field then Dutch New Guinea later Irian Jaya Indonesia and left for the mission field with The Christian Missionary Alliance we went out under the US mission shortly after their marriage They would spend the next thirty eight years on the mission field there before retiring to Toccoa GA in 1995 The Lord blessed them with four children and 17 grandchildren During his time on the mission field John started taught and ran a Bible School in Irian Jaya
