Hollywood or History? Scott L. Roberts,Charles J. Elfer,2021-01-01 The challenges of teaching history are acute where we consider the world history classroom Generalized world history courses are a part of many if not most K 12 curricular frameworks in the United States While United States history tends to dominate the scholarship and conversation there are an equally wide number of middle level and secondary students and teachers engaged in the study of world history in our public schools And the challenges are real In the first place if we are to mark content coverage as a curricular obstacle in the history classroom generally then we must underscore that concern in the world history classroom and for obvious reasons The curricular terrain to choose from is immense and forever expanding dealing with the development of numerous civilizations over millennia and across a wide geographic expanse In addition to curricular concerns world historical topics are inherently farther away from most students lives not just temporally but often geographically and culturally Thus the rationale for the present text Hollywood or History An

Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach World History The reviews of the first volume Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Teach United States History strategy have been overwhelmingly positive especially as it pertains to the application of the strategy for practitioner Classroom utility and teacher practice have remained our primary objectives in developing the Hollywood or History strategy and we are encouraged by the possibilities of Volume II and the capacity of this most recent text to impact teaching and learning in world history We believe that students connection to film along with teachers ability to use film in an effective manner will help alleviate some of the challenges of teaching world history The book provides 30 secondary lesson plans grades 6 12 that address nine eras in world history

Genocide Literature in Middle and Secondary Classrooms Sarah Donovan, 2016-08-12 At the heart of this inquiry into the ethical implications of education reform on reading practices in middle and secondary classrooms the central question is what is lost hidden or marginalized in the name of progress Drawing on her own experiences as an English teacher during the No Child Left Behind era the author examines school cultures focused on meeting standards and measurable outcomes She shows how genocide literature illuminates the ethics of reading and helps teachers and students rethink how literature should be taught in this modern globalized era and the purposes of education more broadly Embodying Asian/American Sexualities Gina Masequesmay, Sean Metzger, 2009-01-16 This book is conceived as a reader for use in American studies Asian American studies ethnic studies gender studies lesbian gay bisexual transgender studies performance studies and queer studies It also contains new scholarship on Asian American sexualities that would be useful for faculty and students In particular this volume highlights materials that receive little academic attention such as works on Southeast Asian migrants mixed race cultural production and Asian American pornography As an interdisciplinary anthology this collection weaves together various forms of knowledge _autobiographical accounts humanistic research community based work and artistic expression Responsive to the imbrication of knowledge and power the authors aspire to present a diverse sample of discourses that construct Asian American bodies They maintain that the body serves as the primary interface between the individual and the social yet as Elizabeth Grosz noted over a decade ago feminist theory and gender and sexuality studies more generally has tended with some notable exceptions to remain uninterested in or unconvinced about the relevance of refocusing on bodies in accounts of subjectivity This volume attempts to address this concern Witness Literature Minoli Salgado, 2025-02-20 This is the first critical monograph to explore and delineate the emergent field of witness literature across fiction nonfiction memoir journalism and survivor testimony from the Global South Witness Literature examines writing from three sites of exceptional violence and fluid justice the Cambodian Genocide the Sri Lankan civil war and the borderscapes of honour based violence in Jordan Pakistan Turkey Türkiye the UK and beyond Drawing on the intersecting fields of literary analysis biopolitics testimony studies trauma theory and postcolonial studies this book examines the place of the fictive in writings of traumatic events takes up the call to expand Western understanding of the normatively human by focusing on work that bears witness from sites of compromised belonging and shows how witness literature by migrant subjects marks an important intervention in Western readings of trauma. Ambitious in cultural and conceptual reach, Witness Literature invokes a wide range of texts from within the nations studied and from diasporic writers. These include eyewitness accounts and survivor stories gathered in Children of Cambodia's Killing Fields memoirs and autobiographies like François Bizot's The Gate, Loung Ung's First They Killed My Father and Ajith Boyagoda's re-told memoir A Long Watch. Sanam Maher's biography of the internet star Qandeel Baloch that exposes the truth technologies of the media pseudonymous work that reconfigures the authorising identity of the witness novels by diasporic writers such as Michael Ondaatje, Vaddey Ratner, Madeleine Thien and Anuk Arudpragasam, the posthumously published editorial of an assassinated journalist who anticipated his death, fabricated testimony and fictive reconstructions of real events including Shehan Karunatilaka's phantasmagoric novel The Seven Moons of Maali Almeida and such works as Elif Shafak's Honour, Salman Rushdie's Shame and Shalimar the Clown. Offering a compelling and surprising analysis of the representation of life under the threat, Minoli Salgado exposes how the mixed cultural allegiances of the border witness mark a double agency that challenges multiple orthodoxies and shows how testimonial work from the Global South maps new moral communities by opening up alternative ways of reading truth, subjectivity, healing and justice.

Inside Stories Terry Weir, Cambodia After the Khmer Rouge Evan Gottesman, 2003-01-01. When the Vietnamese army overthrew the Khmer Rouge in 1979, Cambodia was a political and economic wasteland. It had no government, no functioning economy and no cultural institutions. Its population was decimated, its educated class nearly eliminated. For the next twelve years, Cambodia struggled to emerge from this chaos despite a Western diplomatic and economic embargo, a Vietnamese occupation and a civil conflict fueled by the Cold War. The first account of this turbulent era, Cambodia After the Khmer Rouge tells how the turmoil gave shape to a nation. Drawing on previously unexplored archival sources, interviews and secondary materials, Evan Gottesman recounts how a handful of former Khmer Rouge soldiers and officials, Vietnamese-trained revolutionary cadres and surviving intellectuals simultaneously jostled for power and debated fundamental policy questions. Gottesman describes the formation of a Vietnamese-backed regime and its attempts to co-opt the Khmer Rouge, the relationship between the Cambodians and their Vietnamese advisors, the treatment of the ethnic Chinese and the constant tension between patronage politics and communist ideology. He not only tracks how the current leadership rose to power in the 1980s but explains how the legacy of this period influences events in Cambodia to this day. Book jacket.

Dystopia Gregory Claeys, 2016-11-17. Dystopia: A Natural History is the first monograph devoted to the concept of dystopia. Taking the term to encompass both a literary tradition of satirical works mostly on totalitarianism as well as real despotisms and societies in a state of disastrous collapse, this volume redefines the central concepts and the chronology of the genre and offers a paradigm shifting understanding of the subject Part One assesses the theory and prehistory of dystopia By contrast to utopia conceived as promoting an ideal of friendship defined as enhanced sociability dystopia is defined by estrangement fear and the proliferation of enemy categories A natural history of dystopia thus concentrates upon the centrality of the passion or emotion of fear and hatred in modern despotisms The work of Le Bon Freud and others is used to show how dystopian groups use such emotions Utopia and dystopia are portrayed not as opposites but as extremes on a spectrum of sociability defined by a heightened form of group identity The prehistory of the process whereby enemies are demonised is explored from early conceptions of monstrosity through Christian conceptions of the devil and witchcraft and the persecution of heresy Part Two surveys the major dystopian moments in twentieth century despotisms focussing in particular upon Nazi Germany Stalinism the Chinese Cultural Revolution and Cambodia under Pol Pot The concentration here is upon the political religion hypothesis as a key explanation for the chief excesses of communism in particular Part Three examines literary dystopias It commences well before the usual starting point in the secondary literature in anti Jacobin writings of the 1790s Two chapters address the main twentieth century texts usually studied as representative of the genre Aldous Huxley s Brave New World and George Orwell s Nineteen Eighty Four The remainder of the section examines the evolution of the genre in the second half of the twentieth century down to the present
