Fisheries Comanagement Experience Accomplishments Challenges And Prospects:

The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson, Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen, Poul Degnbol, 2003-08-31
For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management

Fisheries Co-management Policy Brief, 2003 The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson, Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen, Poul Degnbol, 2013-03-09 For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management

The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management Lorenzo Motos, Douglas Wilson, 2006-08-18 Fisheries are in a state of crisis throughout the world While there has been some success truly effective fisheries management seems beyond our grasp The knowledge needed for proper management contains a broad array of facts and connections from statistical stock assessments to the information that allows government agencies to track compliance with rules and beyond This book describes the state of the art knowledge about fishery systems Seldom seen in a scientific publication regarding fisheries science this book presents a multidisciplinary perspective of fisheries management Leading fisheries scholars with backgrounds in biology ecology economics and sociology ask how management institutions can learn and put their lessons to use The Knowledge Base for Fisheries Management offers a unique overview of the world of fisheries management and provides the background to draw conclusions of what is needed to improve management Covering a wide range of regimes case studies and professional perspectives this publication will be an obliged reference to anyone involved on fisheries management assessment policy making or fisheries development all over the world The only book on the market that analyzes fisheries in a biological sociological and economic way Fills a gap focusing not only on the production of knowledge for fisheries management but also on how it is used in all steps of the management system and the decision making processes Focuses on the hot topic scientific knowledge and society science based policies Documents disseminated research from many different management systems both European and world wide

The Economics of Adapting Fisheries to Climate Change OECD,2011-01-28 This book highlights the economic and policy aspects of adapting fisheries to climate change including strengthening global governance a broader use of rights based management ecosystem protection the ending of environmental harmful subsidies and use of aquaculture

Resilience in the English Small-Scale Fishery Rebecca Korda,Tim Gray,Selina M. Stead,2020-09-21 This book is a contribution to our understanding of the worrying situation of small scale fisheries SSF which face marginalisation in most coastal countries The authors explain why SSF are so pressured how there has been a powerful backlash against this marginalisation during the last 30 years what are the main ideational currents supporting this backlash and what is the enduring value of SSF that justifies that support The authors discuss the major contemporary interpretations of SSF the challenges facing SSF globally and in England and SSF s coping strategies in response to those challenges through the framework of resilience theory In an innovative analysis the authors show how there are three kinds of resilience passive resilience where fishers are resigned to their adverse fate adaptive resilience where fishers make the best use of the opportunities that are available to them and transformative resilience where fishers attempt to change the system that faces them The authors draw on an extensive range of interview data to provide rich insights into the world of SSF and they discuss a variety of proposals for improving their conditions The book will appeal to the growing academic and public community that is following with increasing concern the debate about the future of SFF and to the environmental movement which has committed itself to support SSF as a greener form of fishing than the large scale industrial sector

Governability of Fisheries and Aquaculture: Theory and Applications Maarten Bavinck,Ratana Chuenpagdee,Svein Jentoft,Jan Kooiman,2013-04-10 Following from Fish for Life Interactive Governance for Fisheries Kooiman et al 2005 which presents an interdisciplinary and intersectoral approach to the governance of capture and aquaculture fisheries this volume pursues what interactive governance theory and the governability perspective contribute to the resolution of key fisheries problems these include overfishing unemployment and poverty food insecurity and social injustice Since these problems are varied and can be felt among governments resource users and communities globally the diagnosis must be holistic and take account of principles institutions and operational conditions The authors argue that wicked problems and institutional limitations are inherent to each setting and must be included in the analysis The volume thereby offers a new lens and a systematic approach for analysing the nature of problems and challenges concerning the governance of fisheries explores where these problems are situated and how potential solutions may be found It now seems clear that the crisis in the world s fisheries is a much larger and more complex problem than many had imagined Yet examining it through the lens of governability may offer the best hope for alleviating it as well as alleviating similar crises in other social systems James R

McGoodwin Professor Emeritus University of Colorado      Fish for Life J. Kooiman, 2005 An interdisciplinary survey addressing the problems of overfishing worldwide and the best way forward toward good ecological practice and global cooperative governance      A Fishery Manager's Guidebook Kevern L. Cochrane, Serge M. Garcia, 2009-07-15 Co published with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations Fisheries management is the process that has evolved to try to ensure that fisheries operate in a manner that provides the immediate benefits in a sustainable manner The widely accepted goal is that the full range of benefits should not only be available for this generation but for generations to come Fisheries management has been successful in some cases but there have also been many many cases of failure This volume is intended to contribute to improving this unsatisfactory state by addressing the widespread need for information and guidance on the broad and often complex task of fisheries management It is an updated and expanded edition of the first version of A fishery manager's guidebook which was published as a FAO Fisheries Technical Paper in 2002 The major part of this new edition is divided into five parts intended to cover the range of concerns tools and techniques essential to the modern fisheries manager whether that manager is an individual or a formal or informal group Following the Introduction Part I examines the primary dimensions of fisheries biological ecological social and economic Part II looks at the legal and institutional characteristics of fisheries Part III explores the tools that fishery managers have to achieve the objectives expected from a fishery Part IV discusses the role of scientific information of indicators and reference points Part V moves into implementation of fisheries management and includes a chapter on special considerations in small scale fisheries This landmark publication is aimed at fishery managers and scientists All libraries in research establishments and universities where fisheries and aquatic sciences are studied and taught will need copies of this important volume Fisheries around the world make essential contributions to human well being including the provision of basic food supplies employment recreational opportunities foreign currency and others providing benefits to hundreds of millions of people Despite these benefits our record of managing fisheries so that the benefits can be sustained has been poor at best and most fisheries around the world are experiencing serious ecological social or economic problems and usually all three Today there is global concern about the state of fishery resources and aquatic ecosystems their resilience to future stresses such as climate change and their ability to continue to provide benefits      Collaborative Research in Fisheries Peter Holm, Maria Hadjimichael, Sebastian Linke, Steven Mackinson, 2020-02-24 This book is about the ongoing transition of fisheries governance from top down command and control towards a more transparent and participatory form It focuses on the emergence of research practices and advice frameworks that allow co creation of common knowledge bases for management Drawing from 8 years of research in GAP a two stage 7th framework EU project the book offers a critical examination of how knowledge practices in fisheries governance are changing The entry point for this research is a series of practical experiments in the uncharted terrain of collaborative research To gain insight into the ongoing transition in European fisheries management GAP initiated and carried out 13 Case

Studies in different settings across Europe In each case study a team of fishers and marine scientists worked together to identify plan and implement research projects intended to make a difference The cases vary They take on different management issues and shape the collaborations in different ways The extent to which they succeed in realizing their objectives also differs They are all contributing important insights into the possibilities of co creating knowledge for management purposes The book delves into the individual experiences of each case study as well as the lessons they contribute as a whole The examination concludes that while research partnerships are not always easy to establish they are an important step towards better fisheries governance Without a common knowledge base for fisheries governance co created through collaborative research practices sustainable fisheries will remain out of reach

Diagnosis and the management constituency of small-scale fisheries , Characteristics and performance of fisheries

co-management in Asia Cohen, P.J., Roscher, M., Wathsala Fernando, A., Freed, S., Garces, L., Jayakody, S., Khan, F., Mam, K., Nahiduzzaman, M., Ramirez, P., Ullah, M.H., van Brakel, M., Patrick Smallhorn-West, P., DeYoung, C., Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2021-05-19 The overarching objective of this report was to determine from current evidence and experiences from the region a view of co management application and performance Among the findings of the review are 1 Co management is associated with positive trends across a range of social ecological and governance indicators 2 While overall trends in co management performance are positive between years the outcomes experienced by fishers and community members vary substantially between positive experiences and improvements and negative experiences and declines 3 There is substantial variation in the systems to which co management is applied and the degrees of inclusion agency influence and authority of managing partners 4 Impacts of co management on environmental and resource condition and on the livelihood and economic conditions are determined as much by macro level drivers of change as by co management 5 Initiatives associated with improved or alternative livelihoods were frequent 6 A history of institutional and policy change created conditions enabling co management arrangements 7 Co management is associated with improvements to representation and inclusion of resource users and beneficiaries 8 National and international commitments have been made to progress gender equity women s empowerment and socially inclusive processes and outcomes but substantial challenges remain in meeting them 9 Co management is generally associated with higher levels of buy in and compliance by resource users 10 Monitoring and evaluation should move towards best practice impact evaluation techniques 11 Co management arrangements for fisheries are widespread diverse dynamic and supported by a range of institutional structures and organizations

World Small-scale Fisheries Ratana Chuenpagdee,2011 The importance of fisheries is not lost in the global policy arena What is often overlooked in the general discourse however is the significant difference between small and large scale fisheries Major rethinking about all aspects of small scale fisheries is required including their contribution to catches employment livelihood food security and conservation This book is a collection of essays about the diverse complex and dynamic contexts that characterize small scale fisheries around the world The essays highlight the strengths capacity motivation and contributions associated with this fishing sector They remind us that solutions and opportunities for the viability and sustainability of small scale fisheries can be found once the issues are understood from a holistic perspective and possible options including inventive governance arrangements are fully explored The authors are scientists and practitioners who work in small scale fisheries in various parts of the world many of whom participated at the first World Small Scale Fisheries Congress WSFC held in Bangkok in October 2010 and are members of the global research network for the future of small scale fisheries Too Big To Ignore The editor Ratana Chuenpagdee the initiator of the WSFC is Canada Research Chair in Natural Resource Sustainability and Community Development at Memorial University of Newfoundland Canada Book jacket

Fishing for Human Perceptions in Coastal and Island Marine Resource Use Systems, 2nd Edition Annette

Breckwoldt, Wen-Cheng Wang, Hans von Storch, Beate M. W. Ratter, 2019-06-07 Human perceptions decision making and pro environmental behaviour are closely connected This Research Topic focuses on bringing together perceptions and behaviour for sustainable coastal and island marine resource use systems Management and governance of large and small scale coastal marine resource use systems function in highly complex social and ecological environments which are culturally embedded economically interest led and politically biased Management processes therefore have to integrate multiple perspectives as well as perception driven standpoints on the individual as well as the decision makers levels Consequently the analysis of perceptions has developed not only as part of philosophy and psychology but also of environmental science anthropology and human geography It encompasses intuitions values attitudes thoughts mind sets place attachments and sense of place All of these influence human behavior and action and are collected or are available within the respective marine resource use system which may support the livelihood of a large part of the local population Management and governance are not only about mediating between resource use conflicts or establishing marine protected areas they deal with people and their ideas and perceptions Understanding the related decision making processes on multiple scales and levels hence means much more than economically assessing the available marine resources or existing threats to the associated system Over the past decade there has been a growing inter and transdisciplinary international community becoming interested in research which integrates perceptions of coastal and inland residents local and regional stakeholder groups as well as resource and environmental managers and decision makers By acknowledging the importance of the individual perspective and interest led personal views it became obvious how valuable and important these sources of information are for coastal research An increase of research effort spent on the link between perceptions and behaviour in marine resource use systems is thus both timely and needed By offering a diversity of inspiring and comprehensive contributions on the link between perceptions and behaviour this Research Topic aspires to critically enlighten the discourse and applicability of such research for finding sustainable locally identified anchored and integrated marine resource use pathways
