Fathering The Map New And Selected Later Poems:

Still Here, Still Now Robert Pack, 2008-09-15 Robert Pack is one of America's most eminent nature poets and his virtuoso talents are on glorious display in Still Here Still Now his nineteenth volume of verse. With styles ranging from lyric to narrative and themes stretching from biblical concerns to meditations on contemporary science, Pack's poetry is composed in strongly rhythmic cadences and a diction that is direct and accessible. In four different sections of thematically and stylistically divergent verse, Still Here Still Now delivers many of the elements of Pack's poetry that readers have come to admire and expect: both the humorous and the elegiac. The first section of the book contains traditional lyrics that celebrate family ties and seek consolations for the passing of personal and evolutionary time. The poems in this group address a named or unnamed auditor in a voice of intimate engagement. Featuring the most narrative selections in the book, the second section consists of fable-like stories rich with innuendo and implication. The characters in these poems make choices that press against the events and circumstances that challenge and define them. Embodying what Harold Bloom has called Pack's courage to surmount suffering, the poems of the third section are largely devoted to biblical themes and philosophical speculations on the meaning of happiness and the uses of suffering. Here, Pack's empathy for the human condition as well as his forebodings about the prospect of human survival are on poignant display. The final section of the book turns to Pack's abiding interest in landscape and the ways in which the place one inhabits contains and animates our individual lives. Ripe with many years, Pack remains a vital presence in American letters. Still Here Still Now is an affecting and graceful addition to the oeuvre of a poet whose compelling and distinct voice will continue to resonate among his loyal readers. Fathering the Map Robert Pack, 1993-09-15 Poetry wrote Wordsworth is the breath and finer spirit of all knowledge; it is the impassioned expression which is the countenance of all Science. Robert Pack's new book is a heady mixture of the finer spirit. A selection from his last five books along with a collection of new poems, Fathering the Map takes us from the personal reflections distilled in the lyrics of Waking to My Name (1980) to the worldly reckonings of Inheritance (1992) and back again. In the dramatic monologues of Faces in a Single Tree (1984) in the narrative of a wayward life from womb to double ending in Clayfield Rejoices Clayfield Laments (1987) in a cosmic tour conducted by the physicist Heinz Pagels with Before It Vanishes (1990), Pack has fashioned poems of intimate experience, scientific meditations, philosophical wonder, poems that breathe the knowledge of man and woman, young and old, artist and human, animal. Pack's work has won the acclaim of writers, critics, and readers from Robert Penn Warren to Cynthia Ozick to Stephen Jay Gould, who comments that the precious contacts of science and poetry are now sadly rare, but Bob Pack revitalizes the ancient union with incisive poems that sing with lyricism or bite with insight but always seem to add wisdom to the scientist's epigram. The poet improves his style and spirit as he extends his reach. Howard Nemerov has written, and in his new work Pack reaches back to some of his earliest memories and so forward to a personal mythology that circles from the primal instant to the present ecological crisis. Robert Pack's poetry is
