Favorite African Folktales

William Henry Barker

Favorite African Folktales:

Favorite African Folktales Nelson Mandela, 2004-11-23 Favorite African Folktales is a landmark work that gathers many of Africa's most cherished folktales stories from an oral heritage that predates Ovid and Aesop in one extraordinary volume. Nelson Mandela has selected these thirty-two tales, many of them translated from their original tongues with the specific hope that Africa's oldest stories as well as a few new ones will be perpetuated by future generations and appreciated by children and adults throughout the world. Book jacket Nelson Mandela's Favorite African Folktales Nelson Mandela, 2002 Mandela, the Nobel Laureate for Peace, has selected 32 African stories for this extraordinary new book, an anthology that presents Africa's oldest folk tales to the children of the world. Full color African Folktales Roger Abrahams, 2011-08-03 The deep forest and broad savannah, the campsites, kraals, and villages from this immense area south of the Sahara Desert: the distinguished American folklorist Roger D. Abrahams has selected ninety-five tales that suggest both the diversity and the interconnectedness of the people who live there. The storytellers weave imaginative myths of creation and tales of epic deeds, chilling ghost stories, and ribald tales of mischief and magic in the animal and human realms. Abrahams renders these stories in a narrative voice that reverberates with the rhythms of tribal song and dance and the emotional language of universal concerns. With black and white drawings throughout. Part of the Pantheon Fairy Tale and Folklore Library Nelson Mandelas Favorite African Folktales Nelson Mandela, 2007-10-16 A cause for celebration and a landmark work that gathers in one volume many of Africa's most cherished folktales. In these beloved stories we meet a Kenyan lion named Simba, a snake with seven heads, and tricksters from Zulu folklore; we hear the voices of the scheming hyena and we learn from a Khoi fable how animals acquired their tails and horns. Creation myths tell us how the land, its animals, and its people all came into existence under a punishing sun or against the backdrop of a spectacularly beautiful mountain landscape. Whether warning children about the dangers of disobedience or demonstrating that the underdog can and often does win, these stories, through their depiction of wise animals as well as evil monsters, are universal in their portrayal of humanity, beasts, and the mystical. Translated from their original languages, Karanga, Nguni, Xhosa, and many others, these folktales are a testament to the craft of storytelling and the power of myth West African Folk-tales William Henry Barker, 1917 Thirty-six tales from Africa's Gold Coast include several Anansi tales as well as stories about many African animals African Traditional And Oral Literature As Pedagogical Tools In Content Area Classrooms Lewis Asimeng-Boahene, Michael Baffoe, 2013-12-01 For a long time, many American educators and educational stakeholders have drawn their ideas for educational reforms from ideas generated in Europe and Asia for the changing demographics of America's diverse classrooms. This book is therefore motivated by a bold attempt at advocating for the revision of existing pedagogic forums and the creation and addition of new forums that would provide for the inclusion of thoughts, perspectives, and practices of African traditional oral literature in the pedagogical tools of content area classrooms, especially in North America. The articles that are presented in this book provide theoretical frameworks for using African traditional oral literature and its various tenets as teaching tools They bring together new voices of how African literature could be used as helpful tool in classrooms Rationale for agitating for its use as ideal for pedagogic tool is the recurrent theme throughout the various articles presented The book explores how educators literacy educators learners activists policy makers and curriculum developers can utilize the powerful yet untapped gem of African oral literature as pedagogical tools in content area classrooms to help expand educators repertoire of understanding beyond the conventional wisdom of their pedagogic creed It is a comprehensive work of experienced and diverse scholars academicians and educators who have expertise in multicultural education traditional oral literature urban education children s literature and culturally responsive pedagogy that have become the focus of U S discourses in public education and teacher preparation This anthology serves as part of the quest for multiple views about our global village emphasizing the importance of linking the idea of diverse knowledge with realities of global trends and development Consequently the goal and the basic thrust of this anthology is to negotiate for space for non mainstream epistemology to share the pedagogical floor with the mainstream template to foster alternative vision of reality for other knowledge production in the academic domain The uniqueness of this collection is the idea of bringing the content and the pedagogy of most of the genres of African oral arts under one umbrella and thereby offering a practical acquaintance and appreciation with different African cultures It therefore introduces the world of African mind and thoughts to the readers In summary this anthology presents an academic area which is now gaining its long overdue recognition in the academia
